EDITORIALS

To the Founders of Pi Beta Phi, this issue of the Arrow, coming out so close to our founding date, is lovingly dedicated. Those Founders who have gone on have left to us a memory to be ever treasured, those still with us are to us a constant inspiration. To them we cling in loyalty and affection. We are proud of their lasting interest in and love for Pi Beta Phi, proud of their ever-young, ever happy spirit. May it be given to many of us to preserve our loyalty and our devotion to the Fraternity through seventy-one years of active membership! What an example they are to us, young and not so young, active and alumnae alike!

Convention comes near again—will you be with us in Asheville? Convention is yours to make what you will, a great experience in friendship, a lovely vacation, a time of hard work if you are in any way charged with responsibility for its success. Whatever your part in Convention, whether it is your first or your tenth, a great experience awaits you. What are you bringing to it?

We need your help in making it a never to be forgotten time, one to be cherished among all the fine memories that life in a fraternity leaves with us. A revival of fraternity spirit should come from it—who can attend unmoved the model initiation, who can watch with dry eyes when Convention rises to greet the entrance of a Founder, who can stand with others from her chapter when the Grand President calls the roll of chapters at the banquet without a thrill of pride, not only in the thought of her own chapter, but in the strength of the bond which calls together so many women of charm and intellect? Even for a few moments to be so drawn out of our every day selves, so lifted to heights of inspiration, makes all our efforts worth while, makes us for a little time neighbors of the stars!

As a fitting preparation for the experiences that await you, we give you in this issue the address made at the Alpha Chi Omega Convention last summer by Mary Bash, Washington A, Associate Dean of Women at the University of Washington, the special guest of that occasion.

A fine example of Panhellenic spirit, that! And not the only time Alpha Chi Omega has shown such spirit. On March 19 the Editor of the Arrow was invited to be guest speaker at the Panhellenic luncheon held in Tucson, Arizona, during the Pacific Province Convention of Λ Χ Ω. To speak that day to representatives of all the women's fraternities on the University of Arizona campus was a pleasure and a privilege indeed, and to Λ Χ Ω the Editor extends again her gratitude for a truly wonderful experience, a manifestation of the real fellowship which Panhellenism should mean.

A great fraternity has in these days come to be a great business concern as well. Perhaps you have not realized the size of that business. We have in our chapter houses property valued at more than $1,000,000, with furnishings in them worth more than $200,000. Think of the expense involved each year in the care and upkeep of all that real estate! Think of the market it affords for all sorts of household equipment, think of the quantity of food that must be bought each year for the girls who live in those houses—think too, of the families behind those girls, with all their myriad needs to be supplied—and you will see that we offer a field for advertising that should be attractive to the national advertiser. For years efforts have been made to reach those advertisers, to convince them that the fraternity magazines offer a promising field for the advertiser, but only this year have we begun to see results. For the first time national advertising is coming into our pages. Fraternity Magazines, Associated, has begun to see results from its efforts to act as a general advertising agency for all the fraternity magazines in combination, representing a circulation of something like 400,000 readers.

Will you help us to keep what we have gained by showing those who advertise in our pages that we really read their advertisements and respond to them? Will you patronize our advertisers? When you do so, will you mention the fact of your membership in II B φ?

Nothing pains the Editor quite so much as to have the Arrow come out late! Will you help us to have it out on time, you who are in any way responsible for sending in material? Will you study the calendar in the front of each issue of the Arrow, find out when your material is due, and send it in on that date?

Please do so—you will be earning the everlasting gratitude of the editorial staff.

It is a pleasure to give editorial space to a fine release from the Committee on Interfraternity cooperation of the National Panhellenic Congress, whose chairman is Margaretta Orem Lindsay, A φ.

"INTERFRATER blowity COOPERATION"

"By The Committee on Interfraternity Cooperation of N.P.C.

"Interfraternity cooperation is essentially a state of mind, an enlightened viewpoint. The Greeks, in their maturity, have realized that beyond the chapter, beyond the individual organization, looms the Greek letter system, which propounds a definite philosophy of living, which aims at a single objective: the development of women of strong character and a high degree of culture and ability.

"N.P.C. consists of twenty-three fraternities, so closely interrelated in aims and responsibilities that disaster to one is immediately reflected in the affairs of the others. The prosperity of each therefore becomes the concern of all.

"Panhellenism, based upon cooperation rather than upon competition, is not just a beautiful ideal; it is sound, practical sense. Competition in the acquisition of new members and in the striving for awards is inevitable and what is more it is healthy, if, that competitive spirit does not degenerate into a selfish scramble for power and prestige to the detriment of the strength and prosperity of other competitors. Temporary triumph on the part of a few chapters, which leaves the others starving for membership, is a two-edged sword which eventually cuts the victor as well as the vanquished by bringing about a badly balanced, unhealthy Panhellenic condition in which no one can long prosper.

"A pledge day is only successful when each group has acquired sufficient new members to carry on its affairs with profit and pleasure; when no group has pledged so many members that the chapter has become so large as to defeat the real purpose of chapter life—the working out of social adjustments in a group small enough for intimacy and understanding. Indeed the overlarge chapter causes as much concern to fraternity leaders as the undersized.

"Various forms of the quota system have been tried to bring some balance between the swollen and the shrunken chapter. Some have succeeded partially, others have failed, and it is the opinion of this committee that the difficulty can be corrected only by educating the Greeks to an intelligent awareness of their joint responsibility in the Panhellenic affairs of their campuses. Legislation has succeeded in wiping out few evils, but common sense understanding of the implications of a problem is half the solution of that problem.

"Some campuses are fortunate in that their joint responsibility and participation in each other’s affairs is made tangible and clear by joint ownership of a Panhellenic house or something of the like. One group’s failure to meet the rent can upset the budgets of all the others. Under such conditions it is not hard to convince the chapters that Panhellenism is cooperative!

"On other campuses where the issue is not so clear-cut the interrelationship is just as definite. Each college Panhellenic may be likened to a building, with the foundation the Greek letter system. Smug satisfaction that one's own wall is strong and firm, and complete indifference to the fact that some of the other walls have serious cracks is not only blind selfishness, it is sheer stupidity. It takes more than one wall to hold up a roof but if one collapses it is likely to pull down the sound walls too.

"Each of the twenty-three groups which make up N.P.C. has its strong chapters and its weak ones. There is no chapter problem in any one fraternity which can not be duplicated in each of the others. They just come in different places. If yours is a strong chapter, do not disdain to lend a helping hand to a struggling one on your campus, or if yours is weak, do not hesitate, through false pride, to accept assistance. Remember that the position is probably reversed some place else. It may even be reversed within a college generation on your own campus. Intelligent, cooperative Panhellenism will bring balance and stability and guarantee the security necessary for the Greek letter groups to serve their community and their members to the full."

TO OUR FOUNDERS

There were twelve young girls. This was long ago,
But were those girls different from girls today?
They wore their crinolines quite correct,
Their manners were staid and circumspect,
They certainly never smoked or necked,
But they studied and laughed and were sad and gay.

Jennie and Fannie and Libbie and Rose.
This one had beauty and that one had brains,
This one would worry and fluster and fret,
This one could easily get in a pet,
This was a blonde and this a brunette,
This one was one of my Lady Disdains.

This one could giggle at nothing at all,
This—dreamed "Love" was the name for each fancy,
Oh, but you know them—these girls were not new,
They were just girls like me and like you,
With most of the faults but some virtues, too,
Margaret and Clara and Ada and Nancy.

They met in a room and they locked the door,
And they smothered their giggles in the feather bed,
They would form a club. They thought of a name,
"But, Inez and Emma, what's our Aim?"
The serious one of the little group said.

The aim—the idea—the basic thing
For this little club of long ago—
Friendship—could an ideal be more high?
The twelve friends looked in each other's eye,
That was the cord and the silken tie;
And the minutes passed, hushed and slow.

First twelve links in friendship's chain,
Who long ago glimpsed so high;
Dear Founders, dear friends, you have led the way,
And are you surprised at your friends today?
Your thousands of friends who join to say,
"God bless you, and Pi Beta Phi."

MARGARET MONTAGUE, ARKANSAS A
TO OUR FOUNDERS

Twelve maidens lit the candles bright,
In Monmouth town so long ago,
That were to be our beacon light
While our Pi Beta Phi did grow.

In darker hues these candles glow:
For those who tarry with us here,
Alas, but two are in this row!
Our love for them is very dear.

For those who passed across the glade
Beyond the starry realms of night,
Are candles of a lighter shade.
For them glow bright, O candle light!

Will someone light a candle gay,
In friendship's heart, a keepsake true,
When we have gone that starry way?
We, too, have loved our wine and blue.

FLORENCE PUTNAM CASS, Michigan A
Former Grand Secretary, and first Cataloguer of Pi Beta Phi

This poem has been used by the New York Alumnae Club in connection with the candle lighting ceremony at their Founders' Day banquet in New York City for several years.

COME TO CONVENTION!!!

A LOVELY summer climate, a setting of great natural beauty make Grove Park Inn ideal as a Convention location. Add to this the interest of the program being worked out by Grand Council and the Convention Guide, and this should be a never-to-be forgotten Convention. Here are some of the things which will lend interest: Beatrice Edmonds, California A, who so delightfully read “First Lady” for the Edgewater Beach Convention, will give a review of the current stage play with a reading of “Susan and God” on Wednesday evening; Dean Maria Leonard of the University of Illinois, Indiana I, will be one of our speakers, talking on Student Stewardship.

The honor guest of Convention will be Nina Harris Allen (Mrs. Ford J.), Illinois B, former Grand Vice-President. Mrs. Allen has been always a most devoted member of Pi Beta Phi. Convention goers who have had the pleasure of travelling on our special trains for many years under Mrs. Allen’s guidance, will be glad to know that she has again consented to take charge.

Special Train
If you plan to travel to Asheville via the Pi Beta Phi Special Train, send reservations at once using blank shown below to

Mr. H. C. CARSON
General Passenger Agent
New York Central System
La Salle Street Station
Chicago, Illinois.

A complete schedule of the train appeared in the February Arrow. It will leave Chicago June 26, 1938, at 1:30 P.M., C.S.T., over the Big Four Route, arriving in Asheville the next morning at 10:00 A.M., E.S.T.

Transportation from the Asheville station to Grove Park Inn will be $.25 per person, baggage free.

All Convention reservations should be sent at once to Grove Park Inn, using the blank included in this issue.

Convention registration fee, $5.00, must be paid by all those attending any part of Convention, excepting Founders, and excepting those who attend only the banquet. A special fee of $3.00 will be paid by those who may be attending the banquet only.

Registration Fee of $5.00 covers hotel tips during the time of Convention, subscription to the Convention Daily, and the cost of the banquet. Non-Pi Phis attending Convention with members must pay the registration fee to have Convention rates and privileges of attending open meetings.

Hotel rates: American Plan, including all meals:

Grove Park Inn, room with bath, two or more persons, $6.50; single room with bath, $7.50; single room, with running water, $6.00.

The Manor, one mile from Inn (bus service), room with bath, $6.25, two or more persons; single room with bath, $7.25 (meals at Inn included).

Asheville Country Club, same prices as at The Manor.

Recreation

Prices of trips to various points of interest around Asheville follow:

One day tour through the Great Smokies, visiting the Settlement School at Gatlinburg $4.50
Biltmore Estate and Gardens (including transportation) 2.50
Mount Pisgah 2.50
SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT AS TO STUNT NIGHT

Stunt Night will also be Fancy Dress Night this time. It is urged that all appear for dinner that evening in their costumes. All costumes must be brought to Convention from home—there is no possible way of obtaining them in Asheville. Remember that and avoid the last minute disappointment of finding yourself out of the fun because you have no costume! Prizes will be awarded as usual for the best stunt, for the most beautiful costume, and for the most original costume.

If you take good pictures, bring your camera, and report to the ARROW Editor on your arrival. We want really fine pictures for the Convention number next fall.

SPECIAL!!

A great pleasure awaits Convention goers this time—Charlotte Lansing, New York A, our own prima donna, star of Broadway successes, who charmed the Asbury Park Convention with her voice and personality, will be a special guest during the whole of Convention. She promises to sing all the time!

Music—Lois Snyder Finger (Mrs. Ray H.), Iowa Z, Chairman of the Endowment Fund Committee and former Beta Province president, now living in Montreal, Canada.

ASSISTANT GUIDE
Dorothy Roth Wilson, initiated into Michigan B. Attended Yellowstone Convention, 1934. Received her A.B. degree from the University of Michigan, June, 1936. Married James C. Wilson, A T Ω, June, 1936.

Now resides in Washington, D.C. At present, a junior at the George Washington University Law School, a member of the Washington Alumnae Club and a member of Φ Δ Δ, international legal sorority.

MEETING ARRANGEMENTS
Grace Porter attended the University of Nebraska and was initiated into Nebraska B in 1915. She was the daughter of Ona Saunders Porter of Lincoln, Nebraska, initiated into Iowa A in 1881 and transferred to Iowa I in 1887.
Miss Porter taught kindergarten in the Lincoln Public Schools and was very active in the Alumnae Club and a member of the Advisory Board for the Nebraska Beta chapter for two years.
In 1932 after the death of her mother she went to Winter Haven, Florida, to make her home with friends, and became an active member of the Lakeland Alumnae Club.

MARY CARNES
HOSPITALITY
Mary Carnes was pledged to II B Φ at Florida State College for Women September 30, 1929, and initiated by Miss Onken in model initiation at Florida State Convention in Orlando, May 12, 1935. Assistant editor of the Convention Daily at the Chicago convention in 1936, and president of the Tampa Alumnae Club, 1937-38. Also a member of the Tampa Junior league, and Assistant society editor of the Tampa Morning Tribune.

"CONVENTION DAILY"
The staff of the Convention Daily as so far chosen, promises an unusually interesting newspaper. Ruth Wilson, Kentucky A, Chapter Letter Editor of the ARROW, will be its editor; the business manager will be Ellen Mellick Rollins (Mrs. Thomas S., Jr.), North Carolina A, of Asheville.
If you are coming to Convention and will help on the Daily staff in any capacity, reporting, copywriting, or just plain typing, will you write to Ruth Wilson and volunteer for service, or if you have not written before, report to her on arrival at Convention, ready for work. We can promise you lots of fun.

"CONVENTION DAILY"

Copies of the Convention Daily will be mailed each day to all subscribers who are not in attendance at Convention. The subscription price is fifty cents, and subscriptions may be sent now to the Business Manager of the Daily, Mrs. Thomas S. Rollins, 224 Chestnut Street, Asheville, N.C. Chapters should subscribe for their files, and delegates may order such subscriptions at the Daily desk at Grove Park Inn.

What a fine gift for a friend who cannot attend in person!

An Invitation from Chapel Hill

Visitors to the Convention are cordially invited and urged to visit Chapel Hill, a delightful Southern village, the seat of the oldest state university of our nation and the home of North Carolina A.

Twelve miles east of Chapel Hill in Durham, is the beautiful Gothic campus of Duke University which in the past decade has rapidly mounted to national reputation. At this institution is located North Carolina B.

The Carolina Inn at Chapel Hill and the Washington Duke Hotel in Durham afford comfortable and pleasant over-night accommodations.

Chapel Hill is on U.S. Routes 501 and 15, and N.C. 54. Durham is on U.S. Route 70, and on the Southern and Norfolk and Western Railroads.

Members of the Chapel Hill Alumnae Club will be pleased to guide visitors around the University of North Carolina. Send notice regarding time of arrival to any of the officers listed below.

Mrs. Wallace E. Caldwell (Harriet Wilmot, New York B), 412 E. Rosemary St.
Mrs. Alfred S. Lawrence (Elsie Mellicent Perkins, New York B), 501 E. Rosemary St.
Mrs. Hugo Giduz (Edith Baker, Missouri B), 508 Pittsboro Road.
Mrs. Glover Campbell (Marjorie Adams, Wisconsin A), Westwood, Chapel Hill.

I cannot tell you how much I appreciate, both for my sister and myself, your very warm welcome. Thank you for your cordiality and for this opportunity to talk with you. I feel as if I were halfway in the position of hostess, too, because the northwest is my country, by birth and as home.

The mountains make a fine setting for a convention. In such a setting I want to make a threefold wish for your convention. If you will think of one word which most characterizes mountains, I am sure it will be "strength." I wish for you a realization of your strength. In these days may you draw upon the strength of your past years to build solidly upon the foundation you already have, and may you find strength for the future in the cooperation and power that is in the womanhood of your membership.

Those who live in the mountains live in the midst of beauty, and I wish for you a realization, deeper than you have known before, of the beauty in your relationship as fraternity sisters. There is a third thing that always goes with mountains, and that is vision. I wish for you the vision of understanding, and, before you leave this beautiful place, a vision of what is possible in future accomplishment.

Dean Rienow of Iowa says that "a Greek-letter fraternity outside an educational institution is unthinkable." We are considering ourselves today as very much a part of the educational system, and not a small part when we remember that there are 40,000 members of women's Greek-letter fraternities on 155 campuses in the United States. Forty thousand women! What a force they can be, if they will!

This field of education in which we have so large an interest is an unlimited battleground. Every citizen, with or without background for his comments, feels called upon to point out what is wrong with the system, and it is subjected to more experiment, tampering, and general beating than almost any other phase of our organized life. Such criticism and searching scrutiny, however, are but an indication of how much people care about what is taking place in the growing-up process of their young folks.

I should like to think with you along a suggestive line of discussion, the first step of which is the statement that all educational systems are the outgrowth of the voluntary activities of individuals and (or) groups, and schools have incorporated into their formal programs much of such activity. We take so much for granted when we think of our schools that we fail to realize how very recent, historically, is the growth of our present formalized system of education. For instance, you cannot imagine a university without a department of sociology, and yet the first department of sociology was established at the University of Chicago, which, itself, great leader as it is, was only born in 1893. And how soon do campus customs, started perhaps but one year ago, become "traditions"! The very speed of change indicates how soon blind acceptance gives way to an attempt to fit the needs of the times. No age is static, no matter how much we try to settle things in a fixed form to lean on. Professor Messenger in our neighboring state of Idaho says that "the educator's perpetual relapse is a relapse into formalism. Nearly every reform has been a protest against the formal, but the protest has been followed by a new formalism as binding as its predecessor."

By Mary I. Bash, Washington A

Miss Bash, Associate Dean of Women at the University of Washington, and member of Pi Beta Phi, sounded the keynote of the convention of Alpha Chi Omega last summer with her thought-provoking address delivered at the open session.

Let us see some of the things that have come into our curricula in the last fifty years as the result of such protests. I have here a copy of the annual catalogue of Otterbein University for the year 1875—my mother's class. Otterbein is a small church school in Ohio, but it was one of the pioneers in coeducation. We can never measure the debt we owe the church schools—schools which with courage, conviction, and very limited resources have blazed the trails others have followed. The list of subjects offered at Otterbein in 1875 amuses us now. There were a classical course, a scientific course, and—a ladies' course! All emphasized Latin, mathematics, science, and logic. The classical course added Greek, the scientific course specified required courses in Bible (doubtless as an antidote), and the ladies' course omitted one term of mathematics! Laboratory science was, of course, unknown, but this open-minded notice appears elsewhere in the pamphlet: "The University is provided with philosophical and chemical apparatus for experimental illustration of the different departments of science. Contributions to the cabinet of groups? Where is the old "singing in Bible (doubtless as an antidote), and the ladies' course omitted one term of mathematics! Laboratory science was, of course, unknown, but this open-minded notice appears elsewhere in the pamphlet: "The University is provided with philosophical and chemical apparatus for experimental illustration of the different departments of science. Contributions to the cabinet of mental illustration of the different parts of the country." And this forward-looking announcement is on the same page: "Instruction is given at the expense of the student, in the modern languages, instrumental and vocal music, drawing, and oil painting."

Compare the offerings listed in the catalogue of any university of today. How your grandparents would have been appalled at the thought of college credit being given for such things as The Speaking Voice; Play Acting; Community Organization; Posture; Interior Design; Theater Workshop; Needlework; Play and Leisure Time; Costume Design; and—of all things—Tap and Character Dancing! Can we not trace many of our now "regular" subjects to the voluntary activities of groups? Where is the old "singing school"? Much more effectively handled through the music teaching which begins with the lowest grades, and finds public expression in chorus, glee club, and operetta. Dramatics, once entirely extracurricular, are now part of the academic program, and the same is true of debate. The activities of former departmental clubs have in large part been absorbed into the curriculum itself.

Women have been responsible for not a few of these incorporations and the development of practical interests. What tremendous growth has occurred in the fields of nursing education and home economics! In 1898 Mrs. Ellen Richards said, "Ten years ago domestic science meant to most people lessons in cooking and sewing given to classes of poorer children, supported by charitable people... to teach parents how to make pennies go as far as possible." In the early 1900's came the Lake Placid Conference and the organization of what is now the National Home Economics Association with its emphasis on and support of the educational program in adequate curricula, research, and experiment.

Women's work for the education of women is a fascinating story. Mrs. Beard says that "in 1849 diplomas and advanced courses of study were things entirely outside the intellectual life of women." With what sturdy determination did women "break in" to higher education! There was Lucy Stone at Oberlin, in 1850, quite literally "striking" for a fair deal for the brave girls who took their courage in both hands and actually went to college. This is an excerpt from one of her letters home in her senior year. "It has been the custom for the ladies who were appointed to write for the commencement to have their essays read by Professor Thome... Some of them thought ladies ought to have the privilege of reading for themselves. Accordingly, I prepared a petition to the faculty, and to the ladies' board, asking that we might do so; but the petition was rejected, on the ground that it was improper for women to participate in public exercises with men... I came at once to the conclusion that I would not write... All of the ladies except one who were appointed to write essays resigned, as did two of the gentlemen. Others were appointed to fill their places, and these too refused to accept the conditions." And there was Antoinette Brown, our first woman preacher, denied her degree in theology at the time of her graduation, who lived to see, during her long lifetime, the ordination of over 3,000 women preachers in this country! The Blackwell sisters (1849-52) pioneered for women in medicine, and in 1854 founded that great East Side hospital, the New York Infirmary for Women and Children. Invasion of the field of law came later, in 1869, with the admission of Mrs. Mansfield to the bar in Iowa. Women have without question established their intellectual ability. The relative scholastic standings sheet published yearly by every university shows the men’s ratings consistently lower than the women’s. We have yet to see, however, what women’s influence will be in education. No real “women’s education” has yet been developed. Mrs. Shryock of K K Π says that “our greatest challenge is in the fact that we are women.”

Among the contributions to the educational process made by the voluntary activity of "interest" groups, what has the sorority given? Let us see what different people say. First are administrators—college presidents, deans of men, deans of women. The presidents mention primarily the good homes provided by the fraternities. Dr. Wriston of Brown University says, “The educative process is not merely an intellectual process. . . . Education is the growth of the individual, his response to every item in his total environment, not only within the institution but outside the institution as well. . . . Emotional responsibility and aesthetic awareness are caught and not taught. Those are the things which, more than anything else, the student gets from his environment.” And he declares that the colleges are fifty years behind the fraternities in the matter of housing. Discipline is another phase of fraternity life credited with being more effective than the general discipline of the college. The opportunity which the Fraternity gives in the midst of mass education for emphasis on individual development is another genuine contribution.

Deans of men also emphasize the value of the good housing provided by the groups, and call attention to the fact that the groups are easy to reach, and make rallying points for student morale. Dean Rienow speaks especially of their contribution to a well-rounded personality. "The world has been calling for well-rounded, well-balanced men and women as well as learned men and women; and it has been only recently that we have come fully to realize that these two objectives are not antagonistic, with the result that every well-organized educational institution is coming to take a very active and deep interest in the living conditions, social environment, and extracurricular activities of its students as a part of a complete educational program."

Deans of women, according to Mary Alice Jones' interesting survey, give a fifty-two per cent vote for the helpful influence of the sorority on its members. The advantages listed are: the development of social charm; the bringing out of the individual by the group; the raising and stabilizing of personal standards; congenial friendships; development of understanding; training in tolerance and in the ability to get along with others; and an active participation in campus life. Another group of people has something to say about what a sorority does to help educate a girl, but the comment is not made in so many words. What does an employer mean when he specifies that he wants, preferably, a sorority girl? I believe he means that he knows he may expect certain things from the training the sorority gives. First, he expects poise. He wants a girl who will be equal to any situation, and who can meet all sorts of people graciously and understandingly. Next, he expects tolerance. He wants a girl who can get along with the other members of his staff, and can take correction when it is needed. And third, he expects a well-developed sense of responsibility. He wants a girl who will finish the job she has undertaken, and who will have a care for people as well as for things.

Lastly, what do the members themselves say of the sororities? Alumne, who are perhaps in the best position to evaluate their experiences, will, I am sure, thank Mrs. Saunders of Δ Ω for her beautiful summary of the gifts of the Fraternity to its members. Let me give you briefly the high points of her fine editorial. "The Fraternity gives us ideals—ideals of friendship, truth, loyalty, gentility, and scholarship. . . . The Fraternity gives us a name . . . bringing us both prestige and responsibility. . . . The Fraternity gives us a family. We share one another’s failures and triumphs, one another’s deepest secrets of love and sorrow. . . . The Fraternity gives us a home . . . to defend and beautify. . . . The Fraternity gives us friends in a strange city, for our fraternity connections are not ended with college but with life." For the actives, I leave it to you, and you, and you, to say what your fraternity has meant in fun, in fellowship, in inspiration for your life.

You notice that no criticisms are brought you. You know your own mistakes and weaknesses, and you will be doing much heart-searching these next few days in an endeavor to make better use of all the gifts which are and from early childhood we have expected curiosity? What can guarantee a continued entertainment from books, but how many of us alertness? In many years of "required creations of habit, but we are fearsome. Have cause they are alertness and discussion. Do college graduates, Where may new experiments be initiated by educational process. When a satisfactory need constantly to voice experiment in living together; a psychological experiment in individual reactions; a philosophical experiment in practical idealism and character training. Experiments always pave the way for a wider use of the good results obtained, and that brings me to the logical conclusion of my first statement about the contribution of voluntary groups to the whole educational process. When a satisfactory answer to any certain need has crystallized into the formality of a program, it becomes the function of the voluntary group to experiment in new fields of human development. It takes courage to leave the known and venture into the unknown. We are not only creatures of habit, but we are fearsome. Have you ever tried counting the number of times you use the word "afraid"? It is surprising. Nor is fear the only hindrance to growth. It isn't she? Complacency and ingrowths are the bindweeds of progress. We energetic, sophisticated lawyer once talked to a crowd of high school students at one of our conferences on the campus about what they should get out of college. He spoke first about the feeling for and use of our mother tongue and then he went on to say that the most important thing was to learn to feel at home in the world—the natural, as well as the civilized world—and he talked about the stars!

The second point is in regard to the use of leisure time. From Wickham Steed comes this thought-provoking statement: "Hitherto education and training have gone to fit human beings for work. In the future they may have to fit them for creative, ennobling, and unselfish play. By 'play' I mean healthy forms of mental and physical activity, of which the object is not material gain—the pursuit of knowledge for its own sake, of art for the expression of beauty, of science for the conduct of truth, of skill in craftsmanship, of bodily fitness to increase the joy of living. Unless my estimate of human nature is wrong, these things cannot be done by command in a super-discipline state without some loss of individual human worth. If they could be done by the voluntary coordination of effort, under the stimulus of high ideals in truly democratic communities, this loss might be avoided." What can the voluntary group do toward helping us realize the preciousness of time? We know what it means to waste money, and destroy goods, but how lightly do we speak of "killing" time. Bridge, movies, gossip—what is our standard? And this matter of drinking. I hope you will take hold of that question with both hands in this convention, and deal with it honestly. There is but one answer to its subtle and strangling hold.

We have seen that people credit the sorority with developing personality. How about balance? This is a tense age. There is a tremendous increase in the numbers of those needing hospitalization for nervous and mental disorders. Most of these are disturbances of emotion, not of intellect. What is it to reach emotional maturity? This generation has heard much more about self-expression than about self-control. We have (Continued on page 294)
After Convention—Why Not Go to Europe with the Pi Beta Phi Tour

A letter from the Director of the Tour

My Dear Pi Phis:

When Miss Onken asked me if I could go with some Pi Phis on a European trip this summer my first reaction was "Impossible" as I had refused to go with another group for what seemed to be good and sufficient reasons.

But the more I meditated on going with a crowd of Pi Phis the more the idea appealed to me and I wired to Miss Onken that I would go.

Since then there have been conferences and discussions galore until at long last we, the American Express Company and I, think that we can present to you an exceedingly attractive itinerary with most excellent accommodations at a very moderate cost.

The Company reports this summer's bookings to be the heaviest in their history and only a limited bloc is now held for us so you should decide as soon as possible if you care to join us.

Things being as they are in Europe it is uncertain when we may be able to go again so it does seem important to go now if it is at all possible.

We are planning such a lovely trip. We expect to see the things that every traveller talks about. We shall visit points of modern and ancient history: Geneva, Rome, Versailles. We shall see points of famous beauty: Interlaken, Lucerne, Amsterdam, Heidelberg and Venice. And we shall go frivolous and hunt up the newest fashions at the places where fashions are made and buy choice perfumes where they are distilled, and visit the playground of Europe in the Riviera. Just fancy motoring through that lovely section!
To see these things with a congenial group, at a moderate price and with most comfortable surroundings is pretty fine, isn’t it?

I think it is just grand.

And, since we have our feet lifted and our heads turned toward travel, what do you think of joining about twenty of us for a two weeks’ trip to Mexico, leaving Chicago and St. Louis, May 8? This tour includes the most interesting points in the vicinity of Mexico City and sounds most alluring. The folders are not ready yet but will be by the time you make inquiry about them. The cost will be under $200 from Chicago and it does look like a good way to see our picturesque old neighbor. If you or your friend think this is what you would like, just let me know.

Does it not seem that Pi Phis may spend an interesting and profitable time in the next few months?

Opportunity is knocking hard just now, so try to embrace her.

Yours cordially,

had such a horror of being "repressed" or "inhibited"! What is the value of a vivid and sparkling personality if it cracks under the strain of our swift living? Can a voluntary group be of practical help in the matter of self-possession?

How many of you are sociology majors? Perhaps you will lead in the discussion of this last question. To what extent should the college expect a continued responsibility for community welfare on the part of its graduates? What is the function of the voluntary group in this respect? Especially in small towns, who are the leaders who are making the nation—its attitudes, its activities, its interests?

New fields of experiment beckon you on every side—experiment fraught with rich and fruitful possibilities. You have the strength and the freedom to make new gains in real education. "Go in and possess the land!"
Switzerland — a Summer Vacation Paradise

The little land of the Alps is a paradise, where scenery, invigorating climate and health springs combine to refresh and rejuvenate human bodies and minds. Sparkling streams and Lido-studded lakes are equally suited for daydreaming, fishing and aquatic frolics. Flower-strewn pastures invite to rest again to be presented in the Tell playhouse at Altdorf, near the lake of Lucerne, on Sunday afternoons, from July 17 until September 11, and in the open-air theatre at Interlaken, also on Sunday afternoons, from July 10-September 11.

By the time the May Arrow is in your hands the race to win the privilege of sending a member to Convention will be over. But the race to reach the $12,000 which we set as our goal by the 1938 Convention will still be on, and there is yet an opportunity for every member of the fraternity to have a part in this contest.

If every Pi Phi—who reads this statement will feel—that the responsibility of completing the Endowment Fund rests upon her; if she will say to herself—"I am the Fraternity, and if I do not take this responsibility no one else will"; if she will anticipate—the satisfaction that will come to her to have a part in making for finer clubs and chapters and so a finer fraternity; then it must follow that she will hasten—to send a contribution, large or small, in the next mail, and by so doing she will possess—that pleasant feeling of being a worthwhile and vital part of a great organization.

PI BETA PHI FRATERNITY.

On April 10 a little over half the $12,000 we hope for had reached Mrs. Gregory. The leaders in the contest on that date are recorded on the race track. Since that time, however, the race has been won and two fortunate groups have appointed one member each to attend Convention. By this time these happy Pi Phis are looking forward to the friends they will make at Convention, to the contacts they will have with Grand Council and other fraternity officers, to the thrill of visiting the Settlement School, and last but not least, to the store of fraternity information they will receive from Convention, all of which they will take back to their groups. Two other clubs and two other chapters are now planning what use they will make of the $50.00 and $25.00 they received for finishing in second and third places, respectively.

Congratulations to these six groups who won, and sincere appreciation to all clubs, chapters and individuals who cooperated so heartily in the endeavor to complete our Endowment Fund. The Fraternity will always be grateful to you for your part in making this Fund available for club and chapter development.

To all Pi Phis, everywhere—if you have already given generously to this Fund, but still want to contribute a little more, or if you have not yet sent in your bit—this is the last call for you to serve your fraternity by the Endowment Fund route before Convention. There is still time to send a contribution to Mrs. Gregory which will be included in her report to Convention. Wouldn't you like to be one who gave a final push to put the Endowment Fund over the top this year?

MALCOLM TULLIS, QUEEN OF REX
Again the Queen of the Mardi Gras in New Orleans

MALCOLM TULLIS, Louisiana A pledge, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garner H. Tullis (Mary Lee Brown, Louisiana A), was Queen of Rex, and of Atlanteans also. In her court as Queen of Rex were Gretchen Thomson and Elaine Richardson, Louisiana A; among the Maids to the Queen of Comus were Barbara McIlhenny, Marie Louise Stauffer, and Margaret Hart, all Louisiana A.

The entire court of Oberon was made up of Pi Phis—Claire Dolph (past chapter president), Eva Allen, Dorothy Mary Brenchley, Margaret Hart; and most of these girls also took part as Maids to the Queen of several other balls. A member of ΚΚΓ was Queen of one of the balls; the other Queens were not fraternity members, something most unusual.

PROPHET IN HER OWN COUNTRY

This is the story of a prophet in her own country who won both honor and acclaim. Two Maryland towns near Washington, D.C., have always looked askance at textbooks by local authors. That is they always have until they thumbed through the attractive pages of Emilie Margaret White's Ein Ausflug in Die Deutsche Sprache. Here was no ordinary, uninteresting German text. Tossing aside the usual extra gauntlet of inspection required of local authors, these towns adopted it on sight. And many important cities did likewise. But suppose we let another prominent Pi Phi describe this unusual work.

Maud Esther McPherson, Ph.D., who wrote the following review is a teacher of English in the Western High School and a past president of District of Columbia A. As a member of the General Textbook Committee for high schools in the District of Columbia, she speaks with authority.

"Ein Ausflug in Die Deutsche Sprache by Emilie Margaret White, District of Columbia A, is in two volumes Anfangsschritte and Fortschritte.

"A vital feature around which the texts are built is such presentation of material as makes possible the progressive development of ability to read German with ease and enjoyment without the process of translation. Throughout, the emphasis is placed on ideas within context, to the intent that meaning be gained always through connotative significance rather than through mechanical dependence upon glossaries.

"So expertly is the material chosen that there is progressive and climactic broadening of theme in the portrayal of Germany and its people, in the recital of its history and legends, in the presentation of its natural beauties, its folk-lore of the past, its youth customs of today. The reading maintains an instructive, yet pleasing, balance between the old and the new, the factual and the imaginative, the humorous and the serious, including, as it does, narrative, letters, proverbs, quotations, and games.

"Of this wealth of carefully sifted material three aspects appeal to youth with singular power. A proverb which voices the wisdom and philosophy of the people heads each lesson as succinct expression of its underlying theme. The theme is then illustrated and illuminated by frequent songs of a people who accompany all their activities, particularly those of youth, by singing. Both words and music of many well-known folk melodies and of famous songs of later composition are given. In like manner to exemplify and inter-
If all mystery stories seem alike to you, you have a treat in store when you read Colver Harris' new book Murder in Amber. Just read the first three pages and see if you can put it down!

Timothy Fowler of the Manhattan Homicide Squad, returning from a vacation, sails from Shanghai with his vivacious wife. They, with the other characters of the book, are placed at the ship doctor's table. A murder on the first day out, turns Timothy's vacation into a busman's holiday.

Strange events centering around a string of amber beads, which everyone wants to steal, come thick and fast. From the first murder (and there is a second one in store later on) until the last mysterious happening, the reader holds on tight while he is whisked through one exciting chapter after another. The accusing finger is pointed in turn to each character seated around the table. The reader may be as sly as he likes in guessing "Who did it"? But we'll wager it will be the surprise of his mystery-reading life when he finds out who the murderer was and just why a string of ordinary amber beads were not ordinary beads at all.

Aside from the intricacies of plot, which Mrs. Harris has handled especially well, the characters have been masterfully drawn. No words have been wasted in packing this book with thrills, suspense, humor and character interest.

Reviewing this book in the *New York
Herald Tribune, Will Cuppy said, "This is a smoothly written affair, containing no mean amount of neat chatter and miscellaneous gayety to offset the diabolical doings of a certain person. Surprises come thick and fast in the home stretch."

When we asked Mrs. Harris, who was Polly Anne Colver, Maryland Α, to account for herself since her biography appeared in the ARROW three years ago, she wrote:

"After five mystery novels in as many seasons, I'm beginning to feel like quite a practiced murderer, not to say actually steeped in gore. With the current fashion, instituted by the Reverend and revered S. S. Van Dine, (the spiritual daddy of us all) of having multiple murders in each story, I've now killed off more characters than I like to think about. I still think mystery stories are the most fun of any to write, as they seem to fall about half-way between farce and 'straight' stuff, and therefore it's possible to introduce all sorts of exaggerated type characters without spoiling a story. There is also the fact that once a mystery is more or less blocked out in outline, it can be written pretty much piecemeal—a distinct advantage when one must work, as I must, with at least half an eye forever cocked on household affairs."

"My entrancing, but nevertheless strenuous, two-year-old Jeremy has already learned that when the typewriter is out 'Mamma is busy writing books,' but still his attitude during the morning work-session cannot always be described as one of intelligent cooperation! Just what young Jeremy will think of the subject matter of 'Mamma's books' when he's old enough to appreciate them, I cannot say—but perhaps the fact that his father is an associate editor of that perennial child's favorite, The Book of Knowledge, will raise the average of parental endeavor sufficiently to maintain his respect. Meanwhile I continue to invent diabolical murderers and hateful murderers and hosts of suitably innocent bystanders, and look hopefully toward the day when I manage to sell the first movie rights that will put us all on Easy Street."

PRIZE WINNING ΠΙ PHI

Just let there be a prize offered by the New Jersey Federation of Women's Clubs for the best short story submitted, and Jane Toy Coolidge, North Carolina Α, is sure to walk off with it. For that is just what she did for two successive years. In 1936 and 1937 she won first award in the short story division of that organization's creative literature contest.

Not content with these honors, Mrs. Coolidge won the prize (in cash no less) in a nation wide short story contest held by the Order of Bookfellows of Chicago. This organization is an international association of readers and writers whose advisory board boasts no lesser personages than Henry Seidel Canby, Carl Van Doren, Irving Bacheller, James Branch Cabell and others.

When this author was at the University of North Carolina, two of her plays were produced and taken on tour by the Carolina Playmakers. One of these, Agatha, was later included in a volume of plays entitled Carolina Folk Comedies, published by Samuel French.

"For a number of years," she writes, "I have been occupied mainly in taking care of a young family (I have a son who is twelve and a daughter six) but now that they are both in school I am finding more time to write. I am interested in short stories, particularly those that deal with the southern scene. Incidentally, it seems to me that the South badly needs an interpreter who can show actuality that lies somewhere between Tobaco Road and Gone with the Wind." And who knows but Mrs. Coolidge will be the one to do it!

She spent the first twenty-five years of her life in Chapel Hill, North Carolina. On a trip to England she met her to-be husband, Charles B. Coolidge. Returning to the United States, she lived two years in Laramie, Wyoming, and since 1928 has made her home in Merchantville, New Jersey. She is actively interested in the Southern New Jersey Alumnae Club and for the past two years has served as its president.

SURGEON TURNED NOVELIST

In the long list of distinguished Pi Phi relatives, Dr. John Finch Barnhill deserves a prominent place.

Dr. Barnhill, who is a former Professor of Otolaryngology in the Indiana University School of Medicine and formerly Chief of the Department of Head and Neck Surgery in the Indiana University Hospitals, has recently had published such diversified books as Disease of the Ear, Nose and Throat and Hatching the American Eagle. The former is a scholarly text written by one of the country's greatest surgeons while the latter is an unusually well-written narrative of the American Revolution.

In Hatching the American Eagle, the author has chosen Philadelphia as the locale, and the Revolution as the period of the story. He vividly depicts the lot of the non-combatants during the sombre days of the war and the life of the plain soldiers who did the real fighting.

Spies and counter-spies, Tory intrigues, thrilling sword-play, tragic battles—these make the tale told by young Philip Fenton, bashful lover, but a bold and devoted follower of Washington.

In the telling there is all the verisimilitude of a diary, all the personal touch of one who was the next-door neighbor of Benjamin Franklin, and an eager follower of the doings of Jefferson, the Adamses, Patrick Henry, and the other men who signed the Declaration of Independence, who wrought our Constitution, and who, in the early days, set the course of our country toward liberty.

To Stoney Point with Anthony Wayne, to the rescue of the southern colonies with General Green, to defeat, despair and to victory with Washington goes Philip Fenton, and over the same road, through the same forests, and into the thick of battle rides the reader with him.

After Dr. Barnhill retired from active practice in Indianapolis ten years ago he started on the research for this novel and made a thorough study of records, towns, etc., by visiting these places many times. He drew the maps reproduced on the inside front and back covers.

In praise of the book, the Washington, D.C., Post said, "The author's primary purpose is the presentation of an interesting account of the events of the American Revolution, and the purpose has been admirably fulfilled."

This eminent surgeon and novelist is the uncle of Edna Barnhill Dorney, Indiana B, and a great uncle of Celeste Dorney, District of Columbia A. He is an honorary member of N Σ N Medical Fraternity at Indiana University.

TYPEWRITER CLICKING IN ALBANY

There is a typewriter in Albany, New York, busily clicking out a new book by another Pi Beta Phi. Audrey DeGraff, New York I, who writes under her own name and under the nom de plume Elizabeth Carden Brown, is hard at work on another volume.

Mrs. DeGraff's literary biography is somewhat turned about, for her latest book The Room Downtown, brought out under her pen name, was actually one of the first she wrote. Two other books appeared in 1936, Dance as They Desire, which bore her pen name, is the story of an underprivileged girl. The Game and the Candle, which was brought out under her own name, is the story of life in a small town.

The author, who graduated from St. Lawrence University, married an alumnus of her own university. John T. DeGraff is an Albany lawyer and a member of A T O. They have three sons, John, Richard, and David.
The University of Alberta has no honor societies corresponding to Mortar Board but the girls here pictured have had university honors corresponding to those required for such organizations. We give them prominence since they have been omitted heretofore.

Greetings to everyone from your filler-inner. I have no claim to fame, was a charter member of Virginia A. when Miss Keller was Grand President, married early into the United States Navy and have been nothing but a wife, mother, and reluctant traveler ever since. However, the Settlement School exerts a consistent charm for me and that is why I happen to be writing this.

Convention time is nearly here and I hope you will be patient with me for reviewing a number of items which may interest the readers enough to get them to Asheville and incidently to Gatlinburg.

First, I want to introduce the members of the school staff, who will be most in evidence during that time. Mrs. Eunice Weaver, our small directress, who like the rest, begins her day at six A.M., and keeps at her job of leavening the loaf until bed time. She meets dozens of problems of management each day, corresponds regularly with the committee and maintains a cordial and interested contact with the members of the community as well as being a cheerful hostess for the visitors, who have crowded the school every day since the park has been open.

Mrs. Ethel Snow presides at Arrowcraft. Even larger crowds swarm into the shop during the daylight hours and she must be deaf and dumb often, to avoid unpleasant response to some of the very rude and stupid behavior which exhibits itself before her. Our native tourists are not always "those charming people." She also sees that orders are turned over to the weaving director and that they are shipped in time for the needs of the clubs ordering.

Mrs. Georgia Duffield keeps the hotel shop and I defy you not to remember her charm and graciousness.

Miss Winogene Redding is the weaving supervisor. She is particularly gifted with artistic sense and originality and provides all the patterns for her weavers, whose workmanship she checks after instruction in their homes. She handles both the stock of raw material and manufactured articles. She takes an active interest in the weavers as personalities and, as head of the garden club movement and the monthly weavers' meetings, means a tremendous lot to them all.

Mrs. Marjorie Chalmers, the nurse, is constantly on the go, caring for the ailments of the school personnel, as well as those of the community—which extends miles around into the hills and necessitates a daily schedule of medical clinics at some far-distant concentration point.

Mr. King, the principal of the high school, will be in evidence too, I am sure. You won't be able to miss him, as he is a big man, with a very cheerful smiling look that he apparently never loses, and the heartiest handshake in the world.

Look out, too, for our sweet little new bookkeeper, Frances Brown, Missouri I, who has achieved fine results at grasping her job in a few short months.

There are many more that I should like to mention but these are the only ones I am sure will be at the school in late June.

One of the most interesting experiences about the Settlement School, is a trip with the nurse, which of course you will not be able to take. I shall never forget my first one. We drove in her car along dirt mountain roads on the edge of nothing, even limping along up the rocky bed of a stream when the road failed us. At last our car could go no farther, so, getting out, we began a long climb up to a new little mountain cabin. From its porch, one could look down the mountain and through a cleft in the surrounding ridge, with beauty everywhere, sunshine, trees and flowering wild shrubs and a stream trickling musically somewhere near.

In the house however, problems presented themselves. The patient was a little mother of seventeen with her second baby—the first having died of pneumonia. She was in bed cuddling the infant, which since its birth three days before had had no care save that of a neighbor's eight year old child. A fire had to be built in the wood stove, water boiled and the baby washed with strong yellow kitchen soap. It was then rubbed with oil from the nurse's kit, its eyes attended to and it was ready to snooze away in comfort. No visible supply nor source of food was at hand and even the wood had to be picked up and chopped by the little girl in attendance. The husband and father had chosen that time to go away—just an itching foot as far as we could learn. Fortunately the nurse was able to arrange with a neighbor farther up the mountain to keep a weather eye out for the little family.

At another time I accompanied the nurse on the scheduled visit to the Big Ridge School, which stood on the top of the mountain and served the slopes running in all directions. The program called for typhoid and diphtheria injections and vaccinations. The school house was a rough log cabin, standing in a clearing, where the ground about had been trodden bare by many restless and energetic little feet. The teacher was a lank sleepy mountaineer in his shirt sleeves, who provided instruction up to and including the eighth grade. The one room held crude wooden benches and tables and one small black board. The only modern note was the health records tacked on the wall and kept from day to day for the nurse. The children were studying from books not then on the required list of the state, for requirements had been changed two or three years before and red tape had as yet kept them from such remote districts. There were about thirty pupils—all ages and both sexes; the boys clad in overalls and bare-footed; the girls often beautiful with the wildrose complexion they sometimes have in spite of hardships... and poor living—and wearing any odd-fitting faded or handed-down garment available. The children down to the smallest, were all interested in having the inoculations, which had to be given for all three things at once, for as soon as the bad weather set in the school was isolated until spring.

A stranger is a novelty among them and they felt too shy at first to do anything but whisper cautiously to the nurse—but I was proud that they became accustomed to me before the visit was over and one little girl shyly gave me a reed basket she had made when her mother was making them for sale in the "burg."

We visited her family later on the way home and found her little sister ill. Her mother had just walked down to the nearest store—two miles down—and back, with crackers for the ailing one to use in milk as she could retain no other food.

Father and mother were both young—but so worn and tired with the hard work of wrestling a living from the few poor acres never meant for farming—raising corn, a few vegetables, and a little cotton for spinning. They made brooms and baskets in the bad weather to market in town on good days.

Please remember this and consider that conditions in our early days at Gatlinburg were even more primitive—contrast our progressive and modern conditions at the present school and forestall any feelings that we have done our share for the school and are no longer needed. No Pi Phi's share is ever done. Now we have a whole new set of needs for influence and help as the outside world presents its vices as well as its advantages. Do come and see the school and be convinced. Until June then—Cheerio.

In his address, at N.I.C., Conference Chairman H. Maurice Darling, Δ K E, gave the minimum requirements of a well-conducted chapter, the objectives of the college of today as they relate to the Fraternity, and the program of the Fraternity in cooperating with the college in meeting those objectives.

The nine minimum requirements set up for the 2359 chapters in this country are:
No member dropped for deficiency in scholarship; no chapter bills left unpaid or bills receivable from members to the chapter; no insanitary or unsafe chapter house; appetizing meals, conforming to dietetic requirements; no departures from the best standards of conduct and behavior; no members elected merely for their athletic ability; no breaches of accepted rushing rules; no foolish initiation practices; no chapter expanded to the extent that congeniality, cohesion, and responsibility are lost.

MRS. F. M. ROBINSON AWARDED MEDAL FOR CHILD WELFARE WORK

Mrs. F. M. Robinson, of 777 Briarcliff Road, N.E., Atlanta, Georgia, has been awarded the Child Welfare Association Medal for the individual performing the outstanding work for children in Atlanta during the year.

The award was made known by the board of directors of the association, which covers Fulton and DeKalb Counties.

The award was made chiefly in recognition of Mrs. Robinson's years of service as founder and life president of the Atlanta Child's Home. She began her work more than fifty years ago at the old Barclay Mission. In 1892 she was one of a group starting the Florence Crittenton Home, and in 1907 she founded the Atlanta Child's Home. In 1914 the home was moved to Angier Avenue and in 1923 Mrs. Robinson's husband gave forty acres of land for the present location, 609 Hightower Ave. It is a Community Chest agency.

DR. ELINOR BLACK WINS HIGH DIPLOMA IN LONDON

Dr. Elinor Black, Manitoba A, of Winnipeg, has passed examinations and fulfilled requirements for a diploma admitting her to the British college of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists, according to word received from London. The diploma carries with it the title of M.C.O.G., and Dr. Black is the first doctor in Winnipeg to obtain it. One Winnipeg doctor has the higher title of F.C.D.

Dr. Black's medical career had a promising beginning in Manitoba. She graduated from the Manitoba Medical college in 1930. During 1930-31 she took post-graduate study in Great Britain. In 1934 she was assistant in gynaecology and obstetrics at the Winnipeg General hospital. Last year she was appointed lecturer in O. and G. at the University of Manitoba.

Dr. Black is the only woman lecturer in a medical subject in a general teaching hospital in Canada, and also the only woman to have held the position of clinical assistant.
Florence Seville Berryman, District of Columbia A, B.A. 1924, cum laude, George Washington University, was presented by the Washington Alumnae Club as 1938 Honor Guest to the Panhellenic Association of the District of Columbia during the seventh annual luncheon meeting, Shoreham Hotel, February 19, Washington, D.C.

The District of Columbia Panhellenic is composed of delegates and alternates from 23 national women's fraternities representing some 400 colleges, meeting usually six times yearly for necessary business and climaxing with the luncheon meeting attended by some eight hundred Greek letter women. Although cooperation and friendship is the primary objective of the group several talking books for the blind were presented from the association to worthy groups in 1936, and a substantial gift was sent to the American Red Cross for flood relief in 1937.

Honor Guest selection from each of the 23 fraternities is awarded upon the basis of the most recent distinction won by the individual member of the alumnae clubs.

Florence Berryman became an art writer on the Washington Post upon graduation, continuing this work for five months when she joined the staff of the American Federation of Arts and their official publication The American Magazine of Art.

One of her most outstanding contributions to early Americana appeared through the medium of Historical Exhibition of Portraits at "Virginia House" published in the American Federation magazine July 1929, accompanied by pictures of Pocahontas, James I. Governor, William H. Cabell, President William Henry Harrison and others of the splendid collection of Contemporary Portraits of Personages associated with the Colony and Commonwealth of Virginia between the years 1585 and 1830.

These portraits were lent by many associations, institutions and private owners not only in the United States, but England and France, to be exhibited in Virginia House, the home of Alexander Welbourne Weddell, a reconstruction of the ancient Warwick Priory built 1565, which Mr. Weddell saved from the house wreckers in 1925 and had shipped to Virginia. There it was rebuilt chiefly according to the design of the original Priory, with one wing reproducing a portion of Sulgrave Manor, the English home of the ancestors of George Washington. This wing is used by the Virginia Historical Society which will eventually own the entire building.

Florence Berryman's writing has spread through many facets of interest as staff writer for the American Federation of Arts including not alone magazine stories but publicity for the organization, interpretative, biographical and other kinds of material for their exhibitions sent out in mimeographed sheets and published in hundreds of newspapers, gallery catalogues and similar sources, tabulated by a New York clipping bureau for the American Federation files. She has written also for six years an annual review of painting in the United States for the American Year Book, a New York publication. "Uncle Sam"—a biography published December 1924 in the Daughters of the American Revolution was followed in the next 9 years by 50 articles dealing with historical subjects, early American portraits and other fields of art including antiques, all published in this magazine under Florence Berryman's name. The George Washington Calendar published monthly in 1932 and "War Posters as a Peace Hobby" appearing July 1935 seems to have attracted more than ordinary attention according to letters received by the editor.

As assistant to the art critic, Miss Lelia Mechlin of the Washington Evening Star—daily newspaper, Florence has written numerous articles on art, current exhibitions, and historical subjects such as "Washington and Its Planning," "Contemporary Photography," and a recent long review of the Modern Salon of Art opened in the capitol.

The Volta Review, the official monthly journal published under the Alexander Graham Bell Foundation since 1899 has published some twelve of her articles such as "Art as Compensation for the Deafened," "The Nose Knows," and the present serial of her trip to England in 1937, besides miscellaneous subjects of special appeal for educators, physicians, social workers, the hard of hearing and their friends.

But the little monograph "Early American Bookplates" written and published in 1925 has remained to date the most individual of all her contributions to Americana. Not more than an hour's reading but capable of endless possibilities of education with reproductions from the originals (through the courtesy of the Daughters of the American Revolution) of bookplates of William Penn, 1703, William Byrd, Edward Shippen, John Adams and many others.

The reproductions of the book plates are further enhanced by pen portraits, striking likenesses of the owners of the bookplates, the same size as the accompanying plates, drawn by Mr. Clifford K. Berryman, dean of the cartoon artists, originator of the Theodore Roosevelt "Teddy Bear" and for over forty years a daily event cartooner for the Washington Evening Star, and father of Florence Berryman.

With the foretold background of achievement Florence Berryman received and accepted the invitation from the Sesquicentennial Constitution Commission, to write a 6,000 word article on Bookplates of the Signers of the Constitution, for inclusion in the official Sesquicentennial Book published by and under the direction of Honorable Sol Bloom and his associate directors by Act of the United States Congress.

TWO PI PHI DAUGHTERS INITIATED THE SAME NIGHT

An unusual pleasure came to Cleo Millikan Hall, Indiana T, when her two daughters, Frances Louise and Vida Ruth Hall were initiated into her own chapter the same night—October 14, 1937. Has this happened to anyone else in the Fraternity?

TWO GIRL SCOUT LEADERS

Two Pi Beta Phis from Sophie Newcomb in New Orleans will be on the staff of Camp Edith Macy, Briarcliff Manor, New York, the national Girl Scout training school which is open to Girl Scout leaders and other women who are interested in girls' activities. Ida
May Born, a member of the Personnel Division of the national staff of the Girl Scouts, will begin her second season as Director of Training at the camp and Grace McKittrick MacNeil will be an instructor. Mrs. MacNeil is Assistant to the Executive Secretary of the Field Division of the Girl Scouts, New York City.

CHOSEN ON REPUBLICAN POLICY COMMITTEE

By MARY JEANETTE SYMON, Missouri A

Mrs. Helen Cook Zwick, Missouri A, \( \Phi \) B K graduate of 1913 has recently been chosen as the only woman and one of a group of four to represent the State of Missouri on the National Republican Policy Committee. This is a group chosen by the National Republican Committee and headed by Dr. Glenn Frank to determine the future policy of the party. It is indicative that this committee has been made up only of leaders in varying educational and economic fields. This honor is by no means the first to be earned by Mrs. Zwick who is a native Missourian, born in St. Louis. She began her career while in college where she majored in history and political science. As an officer in her chapter and as a campus figure, she showed her capability for important positions even then. She helped to organize the first women's glee club at the University of Missouri.

Since her graduation, Mrs. Zwick has taken an active interest in educational as well as political affairs. She has always had time, though, to devote some of her interests to \( \Phi \) B K alumnae functions. She has been president of the St. Joseph, Missouri, Runcie Club and has served as a member of its board for years. This club is one of the most influential from the standpoint of literary and cultural achievements. Mrs. Zwick has been president, at one time or another, of most of the women's clubs in St. Joseph besides being active in church affairs. She has been a member of the Y.W.C.A. Board and has constantly worked with the young people of her own community and of the state.

Among Mrs. Zwick's most outstanding achievements besides being chosen on the Republican Policy Committee are as follows: In 1928, she was delegate at large to the Republican National Convention in Kansas City, Missouri; from 1932-1936 she was the first woman to take her place as a member of the Board of Curators of the University of Missouri; in 1937, she was presented the award for meritorious achievement as the most outstanding woman graduate of the University of Missouri; and recently she was made a member of the St. Joseph, Missouri, Health Board as the Republican representative of a bi-partisan board.

Mrs. Zwick is recognized locally and nationally as an astute politician with a mind for practical politics. As a result she is con-

INDIANA BETA HOUSE

Completion of an enlarged and remodeled house, accepted in October by the chapter alumnae, has given the chapter at Bloomington, Indiana, a new home that will accommodate fifty girls.

Photographs:

INDIANA BETA
Top: Dining room. Bottom: Living room.

The house, of Southern colonial architecture, was enlarged under the direction of Burns and James, Indianapolis architects, by Hughes Brothers of Bloomington. It was decorated by Miss Dorothy Helmer of L. S. Ayres and Company of Indianapolis.

It combines the latest accepted necessities for student group living. The left wing ground floor includes living room, alcove, stairway and student director's suite, guest rooms, and hospital isolation facilities. In a sub-basement is a large game room and quarters for a houseman and his wife and for two maids. The second floor contains a smoking lounge, student rooms, a room for town girls to be used as a lounge with in-a-door beds, laundry and pressing rooms and the third floor contains a dormitory and a corner bedroom with a double decker bed. These rooms are furnished in maple.

French doors lead from the living room to a stone porch. Three steps from the living room give access to a high ceilinged reception hall. Recessed windows flank the colonial doorway. The stairway is of spiral design and in the hall, right and left, are the telephone booths and the men's coat room and lavatory.

Flanking the reception hall on the left is the large dining room. In the dining room is a marble fireplace paneled to the ceiling and a triple window overlooking the campus. Double doors from the hall and dining room make a large study and trophy room available as extra space for social functions.

Back of the study is a fireproof, inclosed stairway leading to the third floor. Modern kitchen space, servant coat room and two pantries are to the rear.

Wine and silver blue, the sorority colors, are used in the decorations on the first floor. The main entrance from the four-columned portico reveals the free-hanging staircase which is the outstanding feature of the hall. The formal drapery treatment on the landing window offers a pleasing contrast of wine-colored satin against a classic patterned blue background paper above the dado.

The fireplace grouping in the living room opposite the hall entrance blends harmoniously with the background of wine-colored carpeting, soft gray-blue walls, and eggshell and gold damask draperies. In this room there is a warm and friendly atmosphere due to the convenient grouping of the Georgian furniture throughout the room, with a less formal lounging alcove off the living room.

In the dining room there is a refreshing appearance of orderliness. This room was treated effectively and predominantly in white, with uncarpeted herringbone floors, white dado, the white background colonial paper and all white draperies trimmed with wine fringe. The dining room furniture is Chippendale with ladder-back chairs and is designed to accommodate sixty girls.

Feminine charm is expressed in the furnishings of the bedrooms. The maple furniture lends a warm and cozy glow through the room and is enhanced by the use of light and airy ruffled curtains. The third floor bedroom dormer windows are treated with cretonne draw curtains. An interesting feature of the rooms is the convenient two-way study desks.

The simplicity and livable charm expressed throughout the entire house is in perfect harmony with the early American architecture.

A spacious chapter room in the sub-basement of the right wing has been dedicated and used to its best advantage.

The grounds surrounding the house have a front triple terrace and terraces arise from the rear sun porch to a wooded area, rustic with trees and shrubbery.

The Indianapolis alumnae club of the chapter and Lee Burns presented the lighting fixtures, which include crystal chandeliers and lanterns, all authentic colonial reproductions.

A section of one of the Little Rock, Arkansas, papers in which appear pictures of "Arkansas Stars" features several Pi Phi relatives:
- Lum of "Lum and Abner," whose wife is the former Harriet Wood;
- William Paisley, executive of Music Program Department, Radio City, whose sister is Elizabeth Paisley Huckaby, president of the Little Rock Alumnae Club;
- Louis Leighton, Hollywood producer of "Captains Courageous" is a brother of Dorothy Leighton, of Benton, Arkansas;
- Jack Davison, Hollywood dancing star, brother of Martha Davison.
Every member of Wisconsin Alpha beams with pride at mention of their new house. And they have good reason. It's really not a "new" house in the strict sense of the word. The old chapter house, however, has been completely renovated. To begin, the exterior of the house was changed from tan stucco to red brick, Georgian style. Inside, the living room and hall were completely refurnished with 18th-century furnishings. Chippendale's Chinese influence was carried out in two panels in the hallway and in all the living rooms lamps.

Pale green wall paper and flowered chintz draperies on the bay windows in the living room furnish the background for the Chippendale settees, Adam, Queen Anne, and Duncan Pfyfe chairs, and gold framed Duncan Pfyfe mirrors.

The fireplace, a gift from the interior decorator, Genevieve Hendricks, who is a Wisconsin Alpha alumna, was taken from an old home in Washington, D.C.

A library, paneled with knotted pine, is furnished with overstuffed furniture. The bluish green of the draperies is carried out in the flowered designs of the linen upholstery. A book case, radio, piano, and card tables complete this informal room.

The dining room wall is covered with a large floral design, the predominant colors of which are rose and pale green. The rose color is repeated in the draperies on the floor length windows.

Crystal chandeliers and side-lights are used in all the first floor rooms except the library, in which gold side-lights are used.

New maple furnishings have been put in the three front rooms on the second floor. New draperies and matching overstuffed chairs were put in the bedrooms on both second and third floors. Since the house was enlarged, another bedroom was added on the second floor and a sleeping porch on the third floor.

While Jane Beck Johnson (Mrs. Nelson T.) was visiting in Laramie, Wyoming Alpha entertained for her at a joint alumnae and active buffet supper at the chapter house. The supper was followed by songs and skits. Mrs. Johnson talked and showed some of her beautiful Chinese dresses. This party was a memorable one, for over 100 Pi Phis attended, and the alumnae from Wheatland, Wyoming (80 miles away), attended in a body, in spite of a bad Wyoming blizzard.

During her visit, Mrs. Johnson was initiated into Mortar Board. When she was in college she was a member of "Cap and Gown," the local that became Mortar Board.

MAINE ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MAINE
Chartered, 1920
Pledge Day, March 1, 1938

Maine Alpha chapter entertained Hazel Sawyer, the president of Alpha Province East and a Maine A alumna, the week-end of February 11. The actives held a luncheon for her at the room Saturday noon, and the pledges took her to the cabin for dinner.

Miss Sawyer arrived from February 18 to 22 was a very busy one at Maine. Midwinter house parties were held by the fraternities on Friday and Saturday, Sunday the 21st was the intramural ball. At the ball, Elizabeth Libby, Delta pledge, was chosen as queen to preside at the annual winter carnival on Washington birthday. Because of lack of sufficient snow for the events, the State Intercollegiate Meet was cancelled. Intramural competition was as well as scheduled, but on a modified basis. Sigma Xi won the annual snow sculpturing contest, with Beta Phi and Alpha Tau Omega in second and third places respectively.

The Maine Masque held its third production of the year, "Johnny Johnson," March 8, 9, and 10. The Blue Review, Maine's first varsity show, was held March 18. The show was followed by a formal dance. April 8 was the night of the sophomore hop.

Two Maine A actives were advanced on the Campus board. Marion White was promoted from cub reporter to reporter and Margarette Kyer was made a cub reporter.

Janet St. Pierre was elected as chapter delegate to Convention. Elizabeth Mitchell was nominated as the chapter's choice for the Amy B. Onken cup.

Pledges: Mary Curran, Lewiston; Lillian Mitchell, Orono; Edith Stevens, Pleasant Point.

Rush Captain: Marion White, Hammond St., Bangor, Me.

DOROTHY DAY

NOVA SCOTIA ALPHA—DALHOUSSIE UNIVERSITY
Chartered, November, 1934
Pledge Day, November 1, 1937

INITIATED, December 11: Maureen Allen, Helen Connor, Allison Conrod, Shirley Kirkpatrick, Margaret MacNeil, Margaret MacAskill, Lorna MacLeod, Helen MacMillan, Margaret MacMillan, Margaret Merkel, Margaret Morrissey, Halifax.

A minimum of 15 hours of study is required in Nova Scotia A, and a fine of $5.00 is placed on each hour missed. A record is kept of all classes, attended or not attended, for the purpose of checking with professors if any dispute should arise over skipped classes. Scholarship has shown a considerable rise, and it is the aim of Nova Scotia A to better it.

Meetings are held every Monday evening at 7:45 P.M. in the chapter room in the Lord Nelson Hotel. The meeting is planned beforehand by the censors, and the president, as well as any short program to follow. Actives go twice a week to the Children's Ward in the Victoria General Hospital, to read to the children. The members have enjoyed doing this very much and it is hoped that this program will be continued next year.

Nova Scotia A has had a very gay winter season, with a continuous round of banquets, teas, and two dances. The Initiation Banquet was held on January 10, with about thirty actives and alumnae present. On Sunday, January 16, Miss MacNeil, one of the patronesses, entertained at tea for the actives and alumnae. The informal party of the winter term was held at the home of Shirley Kirkpatrick, in the form of a buffet supper. After supper, we went in a body to one of the Glee Club productions.

Miss Sawyer visited the chapter in the week-end of February 20. On that Sunday afternoon the chapter entertained at tea in her honor at Margaret MacAskill's. Miss Sawyer was here for only the week-end and the chapter felt that her visit was all too short. She helped Nova Scotia A so much with her very apt suggestions for chapter improvements, and her information of the other chapters in Alpha Province was very much appreciated. Her departure on Tuesday morning ended an all-too-short stay.

Nova Scotia A held its formal dance on Friday, February 26, at the Lord Nelson Hotel, and it was voted one of the best social functions held. The chapter's Dance Day comes on April 28, Nova Scotia A was forced to forego any celebration, because this was spring exam week, so instead Founders' Day was combined with the senior farewell ceremony, held at the Nova Scotian Hotel on Saturday, April 9. The intercollegiate Blue Review football team plays in home of a member of A F Delta, Margaret Schwartz, on Sunday, March 27. The annual spring rushing tea was held on Sunday, April 1.

The President of Nova Scotia A, Margaret Drummie, is the delegate for the Convention this year. Margaret graduated in arts last year, and is now taking her second year at the Dalhousie Law School. She is prominent in both social and scholastic fields. Margaret comes from St. John, New Brunswick. She stays at Shorel Hall and has done a great deal in furthering the aim of B Phi at the Hall, as well as among the city girls. Nova Scotia A expects Margaret to graduate next year in law with honours, and at present she is holding a lofty position among her fellow prospective lawyers. Nova Scotia A looks for her return from Convention with much enthusiasm.

This year Nova Scotia A has been represented in many different fields of campus life. Shirley Kirkpatrick, Evelyn Embree and Lorna MacLeod have been in at least two Glee Club productions; there are two members on the Students Council; two have held class offices; Margaret Drummie has been on the Mock Court trial and the Mock Parliament; one member in the Newman Club; almost the whole chapter plays badminton, and Maureen Allen, our ace badminton player, won laurels for Dalhousie this year in the City and Province Club matches; then last, but not least, two members played on the ground hockey team, and one member was the manager of the ground hockey team.

RUSHING CHAIRMAN: Shirley Kirkpatrick, 50, Vernon St., Halifax, N.S.

VERMONT ALPHA—MIDDLETOWN COLLEGE
Chartered, 1897
Pledge Day, November 19, 1937

Middletown has been especially fortunate this year in having a great number of interesting events on the entertain­ment program; Mr. Ed came from the Tate Gallery in London, the Mozart Boys Choir from Vienna; Mr. Cecil Tilton, an authority on oriental problems; Jay Allen, the foreign correspondent on the Chicago Tribune in Spain; and John Mason Brown, a well known lecturer and dramatic critic.

This winter has also seen the organization of a new local Greek letter society for women, O XD. The increasing number of undergraduates and the unbalanced ratio between fraternity and non-fraternity women, created by the quota system, made the entire women's college greatly in favor of the new group.

Winter Carnival took on greater importance than ever before with the annual meet of the Intercollegiate Ski union being held at Middletown. Two competing teams were the cream of the American collegiate group, and it was a great sight to see. Betty Anne Dunnig, new president of Vermont A, was a very charming Mary Lou, the singing lead in the Civicamusical comedy "South," has been represented by the members of the chapter taking minor parts in singing and Vermont is glad to welcome Miss Hazel Sawyer, as president of Alpha Province East and extends best wishes to Lydia Douglass Rollins.

The second semester opened January 31 and was followed by a three weeks’ rushing period. During the first week of the period the freshmen women were entertained at teas given by the various sororities. About forty invitations were issued for the chapter tea, which was in charge of Phyllis Mann and Lois Brown. The following week eligible freshmen and transfers were entertained at formal teas and a general social party. Freshmen were entertained at teas given by the various sororities.

The entertainment this chapter particularly prided itself on founding the “Pi Phi Goat Song” and a live goat, tied with a bow of wine and silver blue, was led into the room. A second goat, which was larger and more beautiful, arrived the next week, and the chapter club song, sung by the freshmen, called the “Pi Phi Goat Song” and a live goat, tied with a bow of wine and silver blue, was led into the room. Pledge Day, October 18, 1937

INITIATED, March 12, 1938: Jane Baer, Owego; Helen Dishrow, Ozone Park; Ruth Driggs, Richmond Hill; Doris Gorman, Englewood; Janet Hildreth, East Aurora; Florence James, Bayside; Gertrude Pasto, Lockwood; Mary Strong, Onley, Va.; Jane Simmons, Newark Valley; Doris Stead, Bainbridge; Barbara Brown, Flushing, L.I.; Marian Neunert, Elizabeth, N. J.

New York Delta celebrated Founders Day with an old-fashioned cookey-shine. Pledgers had been elaborate buffet suppers provided by the alumnae—not the kind that the alumnae used to know. New York Delta chose Founders Day this year for the re-inauguration of the old fashioned cookey-shine.

Long paper table clothes spread were on the dining room floor. Each alumna, active and pledge brought something that could be eaten. The executive board arranged the contributions on the table cloth, members and alumnae curled their legs up at its edge. The chapter found this sort of cookey-shine the most enjoyable of their work and thought spent in preparation. Of course, II B Phi songs were sung at intervals throughout the meal.

The annual glee club and orchestra concert, the most important musical event on the campus was the evening of April 28. For some II B Phi it was the climax of weeks of rehearsals. For others, it was an evening of entertainment long looked forward to. For all, the concert brought to a close a day important in the interests of Pi Phi and of Cornell.

PLEDGED: Ruth Maughan, Elm; Jane Morse, Lakewood, Ohio; Verah Mae Smith, Ithaca; Marguerite Wilder, Pierpoint Manor; Florence Strite, Unionspring; Muriel Vashinder, Sparta, N. J.; Nina Jordan, Sacramento, Calif.

INITIATED, February 15, 1938: Acker Marion, Ogdensburg; Balcom, Lurline, Boston, Mass.; Jean, Mildred; Cookley, Mary; Canton; Kulp, Evelyn; New York City; Lang, Mary Jane, Utica; McMackin, Eleanor; Ferguson; People who have visited the campus lately are Kirby Page, authority on international affairs; Mrs. Max Gentry, wife of the head of Syracuse in China until her confinement; and Mrs. Katherine Meigs, president of the New York League of Business and Professional women.

A Saturday Day last year the alumnae entertained the active chapter at dinner. This year the chapter received requests for dinner. At this time the recognition pins and other awards were given. For entertainment the play 'C. C. Sorosis' was presented by members of the active chapter.

Soon after midyear the chapter had held an informal dance at Sedgwick Hall. After dinner, September 29, the whole took part in the glee club and orchestra concert. The chapter has selected Phyllis Kidwell as Convention Delegale. She is second vice-president of Women's Student Senate and a year on the varsity debate team. In addition she is chapter vice-president. Her home is in Martinsburg, West Virginia.

"Kingdom Come" was presented at a dinner on April 18. The dinner was held at the University theater and was enthusiastically acclaimed by both critics and students. It was presented by Mrs. Bowers and Miss Bowers from the University theater.

Cooky-shines are held twice a month at the fraternity house, The Parents' Weekend gives the alumni club an excellent opportunity to see one another, now and then. Mrs. Sipeh has been present at a few. She also stays afterwards for the meeting and gives the chapter many very good ideas.

The annual fraternity dance was held on Saturday, February 26 at the London Hunt and Country Club. A few members from Ontario A came to London for it, and many of Ontario Beta's own alumnae members were there.

This year's rushing is over once again. It started Sunday, February 27, and lasted for a week, ending on Saturday, March 5. There were parties held every night, and the traditional tea, in the form of a picnic was held the last day, to which every rushie was invited. The chapter and rushies were honored to have Professor Sipeh bring the last Leap Year and return to her very satisfactory cooperation unusually well.

The Founders' Day was celebrated this year on April 2, with Ontario A. Many members from the alumni clubs of the province were present. It was held in Hamilton at the Ancaster Golf Club, and took the form of a high tea.

Pledge Day, October 7, 1937

A celebrity-studded, four-day parade of literary personalities took place from February 10, to February 13 with six distinguished guests leading a unique Literary Week-End on the occasion of the formal dedication of the Bucknell Literature Building. This dedication marked another milestone in Bucknell's building program. In addition to the addresses which were given, the Lewisburg Association of Phi Kappa held an important meeting in connection with the literary week-end. Of the six girls who were invited to this meeting, three were from the chapter; Elizabeth Davies, Carol Martin, and Hannah Mervine.

The chapter held its annual formal dinner dance on February 14; the dinner being held at the Lewisburg Inn and the dance at the Tuscan Gymnasium. The gymnasium was decorated, in the spirit of St. Valentine's Day, with large red hearts hung from the ceiling and small ones covering the basketball baskets. In addition to this, a large wire heart was covered and hung in the doorway.

Junior Prom was an outstanding success in the social events of this semester. Dick Stable and his orchestra supplied the music and certainly supported the reputation which preceded them. The dancers stopped several times to listen to the Stable 'reach' for the high ones' and marveled at the man who could reach the highest note ever played on a saxophone. Palms, colored lights on the dance floor, and colored spotlights on the orchestra, were features of the decorative scheme. Each girl received a concert program and dance card as a Prom favor. The grand promenade proved to be more than just a part of the evening and the obsequious Prom and Mrs. Marts lead the procession of promgoers through the evolutions of the ceremony called the sight Promenade.

After bombarding the Lewisburg High School auditorium with Elizabethan tragedy-star-crossed lovers and mouse-dropping tapestries of its last Art Course productions, Cap and Dagger turned its battery of phonographs on "The Fifth Night" on February 13 and 14, and proved that, beyond a reasonable doubt, Shakespeare is still funny. Warren Young, 34, was the star in the comedy Shakespearean comedy. Young is now on the professional stage in New York City, where he does both acting and scenery designing. While in college he was outstanding in dramatic activities. In the critics' minds this comedy was the most nearly professional piece of work of the dinner club.

The Student Board of Health supervised by Dr. John W. Rice undertook a campaign to make the Bucknell student body Syphilis conscious. The American Social Hygiene group started this work in a nation wide program with General Pershing at the head. All students were urged to take the test, either the Wassermann, or the shorter test. The complete program of the Health Board was too comprehensive to fulfill in one semester, so it was limited to three specific aims. These aims were to get the students to take the blood tests for Syphilis, tests for Tuberculosis, and to get the fraternity to cooperate in having their food-handlers given medical examinations.

On January 23, Pennsylvania Beta of Lewisburg, under the leadership of Lois Chapin, Lois had studied voice during her four years at Bucknell and on January 25 she presented a song recital. Lois is a member of Phi Mu at Bucknell and the Pennsylvania Gamma chapter in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. Lois is a member of the Pennsylvania Beta chapter for the year, and because of her very satisfactory cooperation, unusual ability, and sorority spirit the chapter knew that she would bring back to them enthusiasm, spirit, and accurate reports from convention. Many of our girls are planning to attend convention this year, and their plans are well under way for convention discussions and stunts.

Founders' Day celebration consisted of a luncheon with Pennsylvania Gamma chapter in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. Last year the alumnae did not attend this luncheon, but this year the alumnae of both chapters as well as the actives and pledges present in the chapter as a Prom favor. At the luncheon, there was a certain time set aside for the exchange of songs, and the singing of songs and customs; for the exchange of songs and customs; for the exchange of songs and customs;

Pennsylvania this year initiated the third largest group of girls in the history of the chapter, thirteen, from a group of sixteen members in her class, who had an average of four preceding roll call, nearest her at. As se- mester the losers in each bracket had to prepare and give a report for the "feed." This "feed" was held March 6, and at the same time the chapter entertained Mrs. Stark and Suzanne Young who was a pledge on March 3. Also at the "feed" were: Mrs. Meredith, Dean of Women, and the Alumnae Advisory Committee. Wine and sandwiches were served.

The last social event before Spring vacation was held April 7. The Panhellicen Dance was a little different this year, each woman's favorite part of the decorating instead of having a professional de- corator do it. Each fraternity had its own theme. The reception was carried on in the gym, baseball game, tours of the campus, interviews, scholarship exams kept the visitors busy. Many II B 4s were admitted to this annual affair.

Last year the Pennsylvania Gamma celebrated Founders Day with the Harrisburg-Carlisle Alumnae Club at the Old Stone House near Mechanicsburg and at the grave of Rosa Moore. This year the Founders Day celebration was held at B in Harrisburg at the Harrisburg Hotel. This was the second joint meeting of the two chapters and the girls of both chapters will become known by customs. The Spring Formal was held at the Phi Kappa Sigma house, while the Spring Formal Tea was held at the home of one of the patroneses. Several girls were affairs to which were invited prospects for next year's pledge group.

The Pennsylvania Gamma of Maryland and Pennsylvania Gamma are planning to take several carloads of active to Con- vention in June. This is one year when Convention is being held near enough so that a trip is possible. Will they be seeing you? They hope to.

The theme of Ohio's Winter Formal was "top Hats." The dance was held at the Hotel Berry with Rex Koon's orchestra playing. The entrance was covered with gold cloth and the walls of the ball room were decorated with top hats, canes, and stars.

March 12 the new initiates were honored with a formal banquet at the Hotel Berry.

Ohio A chapter of II B 4s and A E A introduced a new idea on the campus. The two women's fraternities went together to give a "Duo" dance at the Armory. Rex Koon's orchestra played for the dance which took place the same day.

The chapter will be represented by its President, Jean Kimball, at Convention. Jean is a very busy girl with her many social and scholastic activities. These include: Y.W.C.A. cabinet, Panhellicen representa- tive, Student Faculty public relations, and Women's League Senate.

Jesse Cooper was recently initiated into Cresset, senior women's honorary society.

When the Senior Class Day committee was named Betty Howe was a member of it. Frances Batten was appointed on the 1938 Junior Prom committee. Virginia Gray was one of the five entrants of eighteen chosen to compete for the 1938 Athena's Silver Mirror Queen. "Boyd Meets Greek" was the name of the 1938 Prep Follies. This year there was no award for the best skit so the competition wouldn't be too keen. Ohio A's part of the Follies was a skit to show the gymnastics to Mary Margaret Boyd, the first woman graduate of Ohio University. It began with a modern dance class and ended with the students showing the teacher how to do the "Big Apple." Founders Day was celebrated with an interesting program and the afternoon with a formal luncheon at the Hotel Berry.

Initiated, February 2, 1938: Mary Lee Bottenhorn, Maritie Jones, Elizabeth Stottle, and Betty Stottle. Winter quarter at Ohio State is the shortest and therefor the most concentrated period of the year. Naturally, it has called for impromptu material and extra-curricular activities have been in full swing. Mrs. Carson visited the Ohio B's and spread the word of the contest for several days. She talked with both active and pledge groups and gave the officers individual conferences which were as pleasurable as they were helpful and stimulating. She was entertained also by the Executive and Advisory Councils.

Projects for raising funds for the chapter house turned out to be very successful. All ages enjoyed the large informal at the Neil House, dancing to Don Bestor and his famous orchestra. Chances on merchandise from one of the leading department stores were sold and the winner was announced in the ballroom.

A Valentine party was held for the pledges in the form of a cozy-shy shindig. Gifts were given and all joined in the spirit by singing and rendering individual talent. These little affairs always renew good feeling and bind the active and pledges in a closer relationship.

Winter formal was an open dance held at the Sciota Country Club. Being near Valentine's Day, this theme was carried out in decoration. The effect was quite satisfactory.

This year the Student Senate devised a plan to make the Junior Prom into a week-end affair. On the night following the Prom all fraternities and sorority houses held "open house" and gay parties circulated from one to another.

Cornelia Evans was appointed to presidency in the Student Senate. It is the first time in the history of the University that a woman has held this office and she is the only girl holding a similar position in the country. Margaret Brown was elected president of the Women's Self Government Association and Jean Allen Senior Representative. Junior Evans was awarded District Fencing Championship, Pi Beta Phi was well represented in Shakespeare Festival of "Romeo and Juliet," Five Ohio girls had important roles in the play. The chapter also won the cup for ticket sales, making this the third successive year, so now the cup is ours permanently.

Delegation to Convention is Lorabelle Calloway with Margaret Brown and Sara Ann Moore, alternates. Barbara Clouse was chosen representative for Mako queen.

Founders' Day this year was celebrated with a delightful luncheon. The alumnae joined in singing Pi Beta Phi songs. There were some interesting addresses and awards were given for attainments in scholarship.

Plans have already been made for the formal of May 27. It is to be held at the Columbus Country Club.

The first big event of the second term at Goucher College was the City Girls' Dance—an all-college affair. The dance took place in the Recreation hall on January 4.

On January 28 college Sing-song was held in the Catherine Hoover Hall gymnasium. Sing-song is an event in which the four classes compose parts to be sung before judges. The judges are usually the Dean and a few professors. The sophomore class had as accompanist Esther Evans, '40, a II B Phi.

The first Fraternity activity in the second term was the house party, on February 3. Alumnae of Alpha Xi Delta went to the quaint old inn at Bel Air, Maryland. This famous inn dates back to Revolutionary times and still reminds one of stage coaches and coaches riding at a gallop. On house party, the chapter had some cooly-shine for the new members.

On January 17, the Monday after house party, the Alumnae Club of Baltimore entertained Maryland A at the home of Mrs. T. Linde. After a delightful buffet supper, the alumnae and alumnae sang II B Phi songs. Both groups learned songs which they had not previously known.

INITIATED, February 19, 1938: Margaret Blackwell, Charlotte Burch, Columbia; Jane Cox, St. Matthews; Lillian Dowling, Brunson; Mary Harris, Irene Mars, Abbeville; Elise Johnson, Union; Alice Bingham, Bristol, Virginia.

Through appropriations received this year the University has been able to reconstruct and redecorate many of its buildings. This has been a source of joy to the student body. Another very interesting project this year was the organization of an arboretum in which we have cultivatid plants indigeneous to South Carolina. This garden is under the direction of Professor E. C. Golder.

With the coming of spring there was revived, on the campus, an old publication, the Carolinaian, which had been discontinued for many years. This magazine was banned in 1931 by the faculty but is being edited now on a much higher literary plane and is endorsed by the entire faculty.

The University Players presented, for the first time in the history of the University, a Varsity Show as a prelude to the Easter holidays. Only Carolina talent was used, the script, music, and songs being furnished by the students. The Varsity Show was a great success and is expected to become an annual occurrence. South Carolina Alpha has been very active all year in this organization. Ilse Marx, the active from Germany, was leading part in a radio drama presented by The Players recently. The Modern Language Department has joined in the production of the two main parts under the auspices of the University Players. Among those taking leading parts were Ilse Marx, Elnor Brand, and Lillian Brunson.

The annual Columbia Music Festival was held March 25 and 26 in the Township Auditorium. This was a gala event, having as its guest artists, Grace Moore, The National Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Hans Kindler, and Dailies Frantz, pianist, Peggy Bailey and Lillian Brunson sang in the college chorus at the matinee performance.

The spring initiation was held at the chapter house, followed by a banquet in the Crystal room of the Columbia Hotel. A valentine motif was carried out which proved to be very entertaining. Alumnae from over the state were invited, and Margaret Yeadon, class of '34, acted as toastmistress. After the banquet the chapter gave a dance to its initiates at the Little Chattoxbox, Jefferson Hotel.

Founders' Day was celebrated jointly by South Carolina Alpha and the Freshman Commission. The formal luncheon in the English room of Hotel Columbia. Several inspiring talks were given appropriate to this memorable occasion.

Rushing at the Lion Inn, Columbia, during the spring semester was informal and lasted for a week. Several teas were given, one of which was in honor of Wilbur Kirkland, recently married active, and one for the married actives of the season. The tea was a formal tea given by the pledges for the actives, alumnae, patrons, and guests.

Many of the chapter are participating in various activities on the campus. Lillian Brunson was elected president of Damas, dance club, this semester; Mary Harris, Irene Martin, and Barbara Stanchez were elected to membership. Amelia Arthur, Irene Mars, and Sara Robson were selected for the beauty section of the Glee Club. Capt. Blaine has a new president, recent member L. Lane.

Last semester all of the officers of the freshman Y.W.C.A. were filled with new members. Alice Ringstedt; Betty Overton, Clifton Strohecker, and Lilian Brunson. Lilian Brunson was elected to Non de Script, exclusive tea dance club.

Initiation was followed by a banquet at the house. Among the fifty in attendance were three past presidents and the active president. One of these past presidents acting grand marshall was installed in green and white and the tables were arranged in the shape of a speech, with the actives from each class to speak on the ideals of II B, Phi. The pledge supervisor was present with a gift from the initiated. The announcement was presented with a bracelet.

Throughout the pledge week the pledges were busy preparing for their Stunt night which they gave before the active chapter on Thursday of that week. Each pledge was escorted by an active woman and her sponsor.

A feature of the first few weeks after the beginning of the second semester is the March Gras. This is chosen by the student body and he chooses his own queen. Margaret Pratt was the Queen of the Mardi Gras this year and was escorted by President and Chairman. During the evening all organizations present a stunt—both fraternal and independent organizations.

Jr. Jane Spicer is president of the Jr. Delta, National English Fraternity, and Nellie Welch and Martha Jose are actives in the organization. Pledge Day, September 18, 1937

Mrs. Webster, assistant to the Grand President, visited the chapter on February 8, 9, and 10. The pledges gave a luncheon in her honor; and the active chapter gave a formal dinner and entertained with a tea to which faculty women, university wives, and Indiana A’s patrons were invited. Mrs. Webster’s visit was very inspiring.

Indiana A celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of its founding during the latter part of March. Among the number of visitors was Mrs. Wayne Watson, alumna. Appointments at the dinner were in the fraternity colors. An impressive candle-light ceremony honoring the four founders followed the ritual of broadening the dinner. Miss Jennie Zeppelin and Miss Harriette Palmer two of the founders of the local chapter gave interesting talks. The toasts and the singing of the Blue Key were present. The pledges presented a skit portraying costumes fifty years ago.

Blue Key opened the semester by sponsoring a mixer January 31 to which all of the student body were invited. This was the first attempt at such a thing, and it proved very successful. The new students became better acquainted with the old students.

Wigs and Cues, local dramatic organization, held initiation for new members March 3. If B Φ had seven new members: Frances Hyde, Jane Olsen, Barbara Uray, Jean VanVoorhees, Mary Jane Cooke, Betty E. Brown, and Jeanette McElroy. The neophytes presented a stunt after the dinner. At this meeting officers were elected and Betty Reed, a If Β Φ was elected vice-president.

The Junior Class is concentrating upon plans for the Junior Prom. Jeanette McElroy has been appointed chairman of the decoration committee.

With the initiation February 24, Betty Reed, Elizabeth Baker, Eleanor Jane Dixon, Jane McDaniel, Jean VanVoorhees, Eileen Simmons, and Annabelle McAlpin were initiated.

The local Panhellenic chapter sponsored their annual dance March 25. Emmett Wright’s orchestra furnished the music and dance floor.

Frances Hyde, a sophomore, represented Franklin College, February 11, in the statePhi Φ. Frances Hyde has been chosen as the representative for the state Phi Φ. This has members in the organization Sarah Haas, Jeanette McElroy, and Rosemary Chapelli.

The Phi Φ national committee has been accepting public appearances throughout the state. An important feature of the choir is the girl’s quartet of which three members are Pi Beta Phi, Jane McAnelly, Carolyn Mann, and Marjorie Records.

Basketball was proud of its basketball team this year. It had a very fine record and is in third place in the Indiana conference.

William B. Nelp, a graduate of Franklin College with the class of 1917, has been appointed as assistant to the president to aid with the Second Century Development Program. This program has been established for the benefit of bringing more students to Franklin College. Mr. Nelp is a very capable man and Franklin is fortunate in having him on the campus.

Ruth Audra Miller has been chosen as the delegate to convention and Frances Hyde has been chosen as alternate. Ruth Audra is a member of Y.W.C.A. and is on the student council committee.

The Alumnae Club of Indiana A entertained the active chapter with a dinner on March 9 at the home of Mrs. Hatlen Evans.

On March 14, the Mothers’ Club entertained the active chapter at dinner at Ye Wayside Inn.

Easter Day was celebrated at the state luncheon and dance in Indianapolis April 30.

The pledges gave a dance for the active chapter on March 18 at the Golden Glow in Shelbyville. The motif was that of a bowery dance, and Mr. and Mrs. Hatlen and Mr. and Mrs. Rake, members of the faculty served as chaperons.

annual show sponsored by Y.W.C.A. at which all the women's fraternities compete for a loving cup. The chapter's stunt is under the direction of Jean Booth and Jane Ludwig.

Betsy Murbarger is now president of Blue Gills, the honorary swimming club. Dorothy Springer and Ann Harder have recently been invited to spin for athletic honors. The fact that Jane Kraning has been taken into W.A.A. is for the first time exchanging dinners with the different men's fraternities on the campus. Although it is quite a tradition at some colleges it is an innovation at Butler and all the organizations on the campus are enjoying the idea and profiting from the increased friendship and understanding which results.

Founders' Day was observed April 30 with a luncheon at the Columbia Club and a dance at the Matrot Hotel. Helen McMahan arranged the dance. All four Indiana chapters were present in almost perfect attendance. The chapter having the highest scholarship average received a cup, and the girl with the highest grades in each chapter received an award.

One of the outstanding campus events of the spring semester is always the Butler Indoor Relays. This year it was an unusual success with athletes from all the progressively smaller schools competing. A dance preceded the affair and store windows decorated by the different organizations stirred up enthusiasm among the people of the community.

Indiana I's delegate to Convention is Gerry Johnson. She has received chapter recognition this year with a recognition certificate for the freshman year, and then a Scholarship Plaque and the office of Corresponding Secretary for the junior year. Pledge Day, March 3, 1938

INITIATED, February 21, 1938; Nancy Coteley, Kansas City; Mary Margaret Jones, Okmulgee, Okla.; Peggy Maupin, Gainesville, Tex.; Mary Alice Messery, Virginia Scott, Sedalia; Mary Ellen Reburn, Fort Leavenworth, Kan.; Frances Shisky, Nancy Taylor, Columbia; Ruth Schifflin, Texarkana, Ark.; Helen Sugg, Jefferson City; Mary Inez Brown, Webb City, Mo.

Missouri A had initiation February 21. After the ceremony and the giving of initiation presents the new members were enticed by a formal dinner in their honor.

Kay Johnson has been elected chapter delegate to the national convention at Nashville. Kay is chairman of the scholarship committee, sophomore representative on executive council, and was recently elected captain of the University Women's Varsity debate team.

The chapter and alumni celebrated Founders' Day, April 28, with a banquet at Pennant Tavern. The program included a dramatized history of Missouri A from 1899 to the present. The alumni ransacked their trunks for old dresses representative of different periods, and the acts involved in the skits.

March was a particularly busy month for the chapter, with Fathers' week-end March 5 and 6, the II B & Phi spring formal, March 12; the Mothers' week-end March 26 and 27. To entertain the fathers on the night of their arrival, during dinner, each member had a cabaret party with a floor show and specialty numbers. After the party, a special II B & Phi section was reserved at the Big Six hotel for the fathers and their wives.

For the mothers, faculty, and townpeople, there was a formal reception at the chapter house March 26. On hand with their husbands, the Sunday programs included Burlall Bible class and dinner.

For the students and alumni, Ellen Dacy, Jane Force, Ruth Schifflin, and Helen Sugg, were in the chorus of the annual journalism show, To Swing and Not to Swing. The music and comedy was written and produced entirely by students in the University School of Journalism and under the direction of the Journalism Commission.

In February the University yearbook had every fraternity enter a six-minute stunt in a benefit performance of the Savitar Frolic. Missouri A's entry was a 'chugnumber. While the II B & Phi chorus sang an original song about the new dance known as 'chuggin,' Jane Force and Libby Hanley dramatized the lyric of the song.

Virginia Lipard was elected queen and the Junior League of Women Voters and to membership in Sigma Xi, national honorary psychology fraternity, Frances Logan was elected secretary of Sigma Xi, honorary romance language fraternity. In the scholastic honoraries Ellen Stine, Kay Johnson, and Mary Jane Yates were elected into Sigma Xi, the sophomore organization; and Frances Shisky, Peggy Maupin, and Mary Ellen Wampler, into Freshman Commission.

This year Missouri A has started a new form of spring rushing, whereby a musical number of rushes is entertained at each party, and the actives and rushes can be become better acquainted. Instead of the annual rush the chapter had a series of smaller rush parties. Additional rush parties were not legal according to local Panhellenic rules.

The more musical minded members of the chapter are diligently practicing fraternity songs, in the hope of retaining the loving cup presented every year to the winner of the Interfraternity Sing, to be held later in the spring.

With the second semester well on the way, the campus at Washington University is bustling with the usual spring activity, Quadrangle Show, the annual musical comedy production was presented March 10, 11, and 12. "One For The Money." The title for the show. Kathryn Galle had the leading role for the second consecutive time. Pi Beta Phi was also well represented in the musicals—both singing and dancing.

The Junior Prom queen is known on this campus as the Hatchet Queen named after our yearbook Hatchet, and this queen is the most important of the various campus queens. March 8 the candidates for this coveted crown hours on the campus two afternoons each month for consultation. The majors list to the girls their favorite books, and other two being maids, Kathryn Galle and Elberta Herget are among the five chosen. The choice of queen will be known on the night of the chapter's program.

Alice Louise Stephens received a jeweled recognition pin for being the outstanding and best all-round pledge.

The activities and alumnae of Missouri Β celebrated Founders' Day with a banquet as it has usually done. The program was different from the usual and proved very impressive.

The Woman's League entertained the women of the college as their charter. Several women served in the Alumni Rooms on Tuesday, March 15.

The March initiation was followed by a formal banquet at the Spartan Club. Wine and flowers were presented as center pieces and the theme was Convention. Snapshots of the Smoky Mountains were scattered about on the tables while the center of attraction was a log cabin. Pi Phi arrows reading 'on to Convention' were pointing to it from all directions on the table. Placecards were calico-dressed mountain girls heading in the direction of the arrows. Pi Phi songs were sung between the courses.

Kentucky A's delegation to Convention is Florence Hunt Sis. An all-round girl, she has served her chapter as president for a year and has been active in the Panhellenic Women's Economics Club. The Home Economics Club, the Southern Economics Club, and Epsilon Province Convention in Chattanooga last summer as her chapter's delegate and was so efficient that it has chosen her for this bigger honor.

Tennessee A chapter has eight brand new initiates and will have another as soon as she recuperates from a very serious illness. Pre-initiation week is one of the most interesting times of the year to members of Tennessee A. This year the girls ate lunch three days and supped the other two days of the week before initiation, at the house. The pledges learned a great deal about the fraternity and recited to the actives. On the day of initiation the actives entertained at a luncheon for the initiates-to-be. After initiation the alumnae had a banquet at the chapter house. Elizabeth Sussdorf served as toastmistress. The loving cup was awarded to Virginia Johnson for the Best All-round. Pledge and a beautiful Φ compact was presented to Katherine Estes who made the highest grades in the pledge group. A recognition pin with her name was given to the active making the greatest improvement in grades, Gretchen Overendorf. This is a new award and will be given each semester.

On February 14 the actives and pledges had a cook-shine and exchanged valentines. Later everyone went to the gym for an hour of folk dancing.

Marjorie Hinson is the new treasurer for Tennessee A. Barbara Martin and Katherine Estes were taken into Co-ed Cotillion Club.

The U. C. basketball team went to the semi-finals in the Dixie Conference meet held at Jackson, Mississippi, the first part of March. The Women's Athletic Association held their annual 'Play Day' April 26 at which time representatives of about twenty-five high schools were present. The sororities on the campus each presented a folk dance on the program. Lunchroom was served at noon.

The March 4 edition of the University paper, Echo, was the girls' edition. Co-editors are Louise Willis, non-fraternity. Nine other Pi Beta Phi workers were on the cover and their dates.

Eleanor Overend was selected as the partner of the Senior Class president to lead the Junior Prom which is lead by the Senior Class. March 25.

The cast for the third play of the season to be given by the University Players has been announced. Gaby Taylor, who is the comedy role in the comedy, 'And Then There Were Five.' Amacker and Gertrude Witt also have parts in the play. All three Pi Phis are experienced actresses.

Louise Willis is the debutante of the University. In Switzerland, he is professor of history and appreciation of art.

Drury's Homecoming March 4 and 5 have taken most of the spare time of Missouri Ψ girls. In the homecoming parade the II B float took the first prize. The float was covered with blue paper and silver stars; it depicted a much-crippled blue—mascoj of the opposing basketball team—knocking on the pearly gates of heaven which were guarded by St. Peter and two angels. On Saturday afternoon the chapter gave a tea in honor of the alumnae. Homecoming was climaxd Saturday evening by a basketball game in which Drury Panthers, M.C.A.U. champions, defeated the Westminster Blue Jays for theirtwelfth straight conference victories. The homecoming queen, elected Friday by a tug-o'-war between the freshmen and sophomore classes, was crowned -between the halves of the game. She was attended by the losing queen-nominee and the Sou-Wester beauty queens.

Four of the five attendants were Pi Phis. The delegate to convention this year from Missouri Ψ is Alice Louise Hamil, who was initiated by Miss Onken at convention time. Alice Louise was chosen in her freshman year as the best pledge in Epsilon Province.

Founders' Day was observed by Missouri Ψ actives and alumnae at a formal dinner. Besides the usual musical numbers, a special program of the biographies of the living founders was enacted by chapter members.

An informal dance was given by the chapter on April 2. Decorations and refreshments carried out the theme of April fool. Each month the chapter has a Birthday Supper in the chapter rooms. Members of the chapter who have birthdays during the particular month are guests of the evening.

Recognition pins awarded by the chapter to the new initiates went to Mary Jean Eckert for the best grades, and to Katy Lou Nadal as the best all-round pledge.

Florida A recently held election of officers with the following results: Lois Thacker, president; Mary Brown, vice-president; Helen Stoltenberg, treasurer; Alice Smith, recording secretary. The Convention delegate was also elected, with Ruth Orum being chosen as delegate, and Lois Thacker as alternate.

Stetson's second semester has been a busy one: To start off the season, a rush party with the Valentine motif as a theme was held at the home of Dean and Mrs. Smith.

The Pi Beta Phi began the series of spring formals given by the various fraternities with a very successful program dance given at the Mayfair Hotel in Sanford.

The initiation banquet was held at the College Arms Hotel. Mariann Estridge was given the award for the most representative pledge, while Dorothea Clarson received the scholarship award.

A Play-Day with Rollins College was celebrated in which Mary Ellen Lord and Lois Thacker participated. Mary Ellen Lord also had the leading role in the Little Theater's presentation of A. A. Milne's delightful play 'Mr. Pin Passes.'

Miss R. J. R. Gardiner enacted the major role of Tessa in the presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's operaetta, 'The Gondoliers.'

Stetson was indeed honored to have as a guest speaker during the month of February, the noted American poet, Robert Frost, who gave a most interesting lecture. Another important event was the recital given by Professor Harold M. Giffin of the Voice Department of the School of Music, He was accompanied by Jane McCarty.

INITIATED, March 11, 1938: Dorothy Daniels, Miami.

The morning of February 27, an initiation breakfast was held at the Florida Hotel, and the theme was "Pi Beta Phi Garden." A gold arrow pin was given to the initiates as favors. At this time the cup was awarded annually to the pledge who makes the highest scholarship average was presented to Charlotte Huffman. II B Φ bracelet was awarded to Dorothea Clarson as the best all-round pledge, and a scholarship bracelet was also presented to Janice Jewett as the active raising her grades the most from last semester. Informal speeches were made by Florine Morris, president, and Ruth Atkinson, pledge president, who responded in behalf of the pledge group, Ermine Lawrence, ex-president, read a poem entitled 'The Beta Garden,' and Marion Heper, alumnae, gave an inspiring message.

Panhellenic Hop was held March 19 at the College Gymnasium. It was an annual event for sorority girls. Preceding the dance the chapter had a buffet supper at the house for the Pi Beta Phi and their dates.

Every Thursday afternoon the chapter has an informal tea. Each girl is allowed to have one guest. These teas have proved to be very successful.

This is an event for thePi Beta Phi and other sorority girls.

Mary Jane Lambeth, freshman, has been chosen as a candidate for the Freshman-Sophomore Hop at the University of Florida.

The chapter is continuing the practice of having a cookey-shine once a month, and several after dinner coffees for faculty members.

Before semester examinations the chapter was divided into two sides, and the side which had the lowest grades gave the winning side a party.

Florida B's Founders' Day service was held at seven o'clock in the chapter house. Following the service a breakfast was held for all actives and pledges. The girls were required to wear white throughout the day, and fraternity colors were worn by pledges.

They had also its renowned "Animated Magazine' a short while ago. Among the speakers was Mr. Luce, editor of Time and publisher of Fortune. There has been a new English studio just completed, which is a continuation of the Spanish type campus plan.

A change in student government is being discussed. The present form which has a representative from each fraternity is inharmonious. For closer spirit between the fraternities, one large interfraternity dance is being given in which all the fraternities contribute the funds they would ordinarily use for their own dances.

The chapter has recently given a tea for alumnae and patrresses, and also one for mothers of the actives. Plans are being made now for a bridge party to be given for the actives.

The initiation was held in the college's largest room, the auditorium, and entertainment included a highly successful stunt night in which the pledges had to make up songs and skits. They then curled up on the floor. The house is now entirely furnished, and the beds and the night in will be kept as new house. The chapter also had an informal breakfast for President Rowland and his sister.

Honors Day brought some honors to the chapter and some disappointments. The varsity crew honors went entirely to Barbara Bashford. Barbara Bashford won the fall track meet, show and the Orlando horse show. Augusta Yust came in fourth in the same show. Barbara and Augusta were also among those honored for the dramatic and music fraternity. The scholastic standing of the chapter as a whole was not all that could be expected, but Augusta Yust made the honor roll.

Frances Daniels has been prominent in the peace work of the chapter. The services of re-dedication for the remodelled Edward Dwight Eaton Chapel were held February 13, Dr. Eaton, the second president of the college, and President Maurer were the speakers. In March President and Mrs. Maurer held open house in the old Chippin home, which they are now occupying.

Beloit had a very successful basketball season, taking the second seat in the second Conference, this year. The March Marathon is an annual event, and this year's unique social highlights, was accounted by all a great success.

The chapter has two new plans to work on for the remainder of the year. The one is a social service project worked out in conjunction with the city family welfare. The second plan is to form a recreational fund, each active member contributing five cents a week; the money will be used for magazine, books and games.

Ruth Barrett Smith made a visit to the chapter on March 15 and was entertained with a formal tea at the chapter house.

The K chapter combined their initiation celebration with the dedication of their new house; many national officers were present. A tea was given for the faculty at which the presidents of the other three women's fraternities existed.

PLEDGED: Gloria Gaiselmann, Wauwatosa.

RUSH CHAIRMAN: Edith Simon, Beaverton, Ill.

INITIATED, March 12, 1938: Dorothy Chalmers, Topeka, Kan.; Betty Dodge, LaGrange; Marjorie Kaiser, Oak Park; Frances Simpson, Buffalo, N.Y.; Jean Malley, Ruth Moffet, Bette Smith, Monmouth.

New chapter officers were elected in February for the year 1938. Ethel Wagner, vice-president; Marilyn Bird, secretary; Margaret Ward, treasurer; Elizabeth Arndt, historian; and Frances Simpson, corresponding secretary, were chosen.

In February Betty Dodge represented Monmouth College in the district women's oratorical contest at Naperville.

The pledges entertained the pledges of the other women's fraternities with a George Washington party on February 22 at the home of a patroness.

Mrs. Ruth Barrett Smith, Grand Vice-President, made an official visit to the chapter on the week-end of February 26. She was taken on a historical tour of Monmouth, viewing the house in which II B H was founded and the markers upon the graves of the founders buried in Monmouth. The chapter entertained her with a cocky party on Sunday evening and assisted the alumnae club with a tea in her honor on Monday afternoon.

Ruth Moffet, Bette Smith, and Jean Malley were initiated April 24 at the Women's dinner in recognition of Monmouth College in March.

Margaret Ward, Bette Dodge, and Frances Simpson had important roles in the freshman play, "Pride and Prejudice," presented by Crimson Masque, dramatic organization.

Frances Hand was made general chairman of the annual May Fete, one of the leading affairs of the campus. Betty Dodge was appointed chairman of the committee for the affair.

The pledges presented the active members with a taffy pull early in March at the home of Ruth Moffet.
Monmouth College's basketball team won the Mid-West basketball championship also in March. Journalism so rotary, and Jane Good and William Wiegand were pledged to Z E H, honorary speech rotary. Two of our girls deserted the group for marriage. Shirley Chaunder was married to Miss Allen of DuQuoin, Ill. The new initiates and pledges entertained the acts with a dance at the house, February 25. The first mid-month rushing tea was held on February 16, and the rushing dinner was February 21. The chapter has recently had exchange dinners with A P A, K E K, E B III, and E N.

Founders' Day banquet was held April 28. It is a Northwestern custom for the alumnae to have charge of this affair.

After the stress of second semester registration and the first days of school, the entire campus became interested in activities once more. The Weekend girls, an alternative to the comedy "Follow Through" in February 25 and 26. Betty Lovegren had the leading role in this year's annual musical production, Jane Chapek was the chairman of the house committee for the show. Virginia Swain did a solo tap dance at a golfer in the House. The house held a formal dinner at the house before the first performance of the show and then went to the play where most of the women's fraternities had reserved blocks. The evening ended with a dance at Bradley Hall.

The house has entered teams in the inter-house basketball and volleyball tournaments sponsored by W.A.A. Betty Hines was chairman and Helen Prescott a member of the Table Tennis Committee at the Illinois Union. Ruth Buchholz was chairman of the annual Activity Banquet at the Y.W.C.A. Barbara Littleton was initiated into Mask and Bauble, the honorary dramatic organization. Betty Fuemmelen and Helen Prescott with an average over 4.5 are new members of A A A; the most of the students. A rare opportunity.

II B E enjoyed an all too short visit from Mrs. W. T. Smith, the Grand Vice-President. A tea was given in her honor at the chapter house March 8. Illinois Z held its long-planned tea dance for members and their guests at the house on the afternoon of April 9.

The fraternity participated in the celebration of the University of Illinois Founders' Day on March 2. That evening a Founders' Day program with an address by President Arthur Cotts Willard was broadcast from the campus on a nation-wide hook-up. On this seventieth anniversary of the college, the first work was begun in the raising of the oldest building on the campus, University Hall. It is hoped that a Union Building and another class building will be erected to take its place. The 1937 Founders' Day was celebrated with a large wine and blue banquet with the alumnae club as special guests. The twenty new members joined the established.

initiated began February 3. The entire chapter ate dinner at the house during the week and thirty girls stayed there every night. On Saturday night all class rules were waived and a fudge party took place. Initiation was followed by a cooky-shine which Margaret Hall, Ellen Horn, and Dorothy Dasher played. The pledges and Dorothy Dasher brought the total membership of the chapter to forty-five, thirty-four of whom are active. The pledging ceremonies were held at a house dance February 18.

In a report issued from the office of the Dean II B F was listed as having the highest scholastic average on the campus. Ten girls on the semester honor roll comprised one third of the list.

A faculty edition of the Decaturian, weekly newspaper, was put out on February 25. The issue was printed in royal purple because the faculty did every bit of the work on it.

Defending the 1937 intersorority basketball title, II B F finished in a tie with the Indes, who, until last year, had claimed the championship for thirteen years. The Millikin W.A.A. basketball teams were invited to be the guests of the Illinois College W.A.A. in Jacksonville on February 19. A week later they visited Millikin and W.A.A. entertained them after the games at the II B F house. June Bigere and Dorothy Dasher were on the freshman team and Laurabell Fischer, Ellen Horn, and Margaret Kyle, Joanne McDavid, and Elizabeth Talman played with the varsity. Millikin W.A.A. sponsored the Humphries-Weidman modern dance groups in concert on March 31. The annual intercollegiate tennis tournament was held again this year on the Millikin campus. Margaret Hall, tennis manager, was in general charge.

The dramatic department presented "The Rivals" by Shakespeare at their house. Dorothy Allen served as II B F chairman of this dinner which seventy girls attended on March 4. The modern language department sponsors an Internationa1 Night every year at which time characteristic exhibits and entertainments are given. The feature of the evening was the opera "Carmen" and then Margaret Hall were in the chorus which provided the floor show in the cafe and Elizabeth Duer was in charge of the Follies. The French play and Margaret Allen was on the Spanish committee.

Since the last Arrow letter some interesting things have happened on the University of Iowa campus. In February, a Vocational Guidance Conference, sponsored by the University's Women's Association was held for two days. Mrs. Chase Going Woodhouse, from Connecticut College for Women, was the leader, and helped to make a successful conference. This is the first time that anything of this sort has been presented on this campus. To increase the usefulness of the Memorial Union to the students, a new room has been created called the music room. In this room there is an adequate library of records, a phonograph, and a radio. It is to be used exclusively by those students who wish to enjoy the music found therein. Recently a new French phonetics laboratory has been constructed, the like of which there are few in the United States.

Many girls in the chapter have been and are active in campus activities. Some of these are as follows: Jane Moorman, president of Badminton Club; Genevieve Campbell, member of Y.W.C.A. and gives her own skits over radio station WSUI, University broadcasting station; Eva Kline, a member of the committee which sponsored the Vocational Conference; Midge Jones was a member of the Fireside Conference Committee; Midge Jones served as a member of the University Sing committee this year; Margaret Allman, a member of the Mary Loeb Class, and Lake Gates, a member of the Mary Gates Class, were appointed to the Hawkeye staff. Edith Leach has been selected as delegate to the II BΦ Convention, with Helen Ries as alternate.

The senior farewell ceremony was held for Marian Hurst who was graduated in February. Iowa Z has participated in the fireside chats sponsored by Y.W.C.A. This provides that a faculty member have dinner with the chapter every Wednesday night and conduct a round-table discussion afterward.

Founders' Day was celebrated April 28 at the Memorial Union. Mrs. Nyle Jones resigned her position as financial secretary of the Alumnae Club. The Founders' Day was in appreciation of all that she has done for the chapter in building and managing the chapter house. Miss Jones has done an excellent job and will serve for fifteen years; both the active and alumnae chapters regret her resignation, and to show their appreciation they presented her with a gift.

The Associated Women Students' Dance is traditionally a 'turn-around' affair. The men receive corsages made up of raspberry sticks, and carrot gumballs are passed out. The dance, held in the Student Union Ballroom, was eagerly anticipated, as it was the first major social event of the year and centered about a St. Patrick's Day theme, was well attended throughout the evening.

The Panhellenic Dance, January 22, proved to be the best attended dance of the year, and, according to many, the best dance in the University's history. Colorado B was especially interested in the dance this year as Lois Braun, II B F, is Panhellenic president. Athletics play an important part in the lives of many Colorado B members. Shirley Carter was elected captain of the University of Denver basketball team of which Louise Simon is also a member.

Of course, every Colorado B member wants to attend Convention and most of the directed activities are centered about Asheville, North Carolina, at present. Pictured: Flora Belle DeWitt, Virginia Elliott, Chop Suey, Evelyn Nicholas, and Evelyn Underwood of Denver.

INITIATED, March 19, 1938: Betty Bogenschutz, Jeanne Eberle, Margaret Miller; Oklahoma City; Mary Elizabeth Miller, Oklahoma City; Mary Powell, Marjory Griffin, Anne Swan, Maukoger; Mary Frances Brownlee, Ethel Clare Phillips, Reynolds, Adele Trues, Tulsa; Lula Mary Matheny, Mary Ann Paxton, Oklahoma City; Alice McGov., Charlotte Niemann, Ponca City; Malory Campbell, Norman; Margaret Bell, Lindsay; Margaret Ann Rice, McAlistor; Carol Taylor, Topka, Kan.; Eleanor Lain, Frederick; Marguerite McAlpine, Walters; Mary Ann Myers, Amarillo, Tex.; Pauline Hauhe, Wewoka; Billie Thompson, Paul Valley, Oklahoma; Margaret Sanger, Houston, Tex.; Eleanor Stanton, Arkansas City, Kan.; Paty Vicken, Wichita, Kan.

After initiation, the old members gave a surprise dinner party for the newly initiated members. Each "big sister" took her "little sister" dinner for the last time.

One of the largest Founders' Day banquets ever observed by Oklahoma A was celebrated April 28. Not only were the members and pledges of this chapter present, but also a number of them from Norman and Oklahoma City joined with the chapter to make it a gala occasion. The high spot of the evening was drinking out of the Balfour Cup while singing the loving cup song.

Oklahoma A was particularly fortunate in being visited by the President's Committee, Mrs. Damaris Dunham Onken, on April 8 and 9. The chapter felt highly honored to have entertained so important a personage. On her arrival the campus was greeted by firey cooky-shine. During the interim of her short visit she was entertained by a tea given by the pledges in the student center, at which she met all the faculty members and dignitaries of the campus, and by a dinner at which there were only II B Phi present. Her visit was most enjoyable. Among other events of the week was a record-breaking ball game in support of the war effort. The game was played at Oklahoma City, and the entire campus participated.

Pledge Day, September 11, 1937

The entire campus is very happy to see the construction work start on three new buildings. A new field house, biology, and engineering buildings are being erected. The grounds also are being landscaped and a very beautiful campus is expected by spring.

Miss Scavili, Kappa Province President, visited Arkansas A in April and everyone enjoyed her stay immensely.

The pledges entertained the active members at dinner February 8 at the College Shop. All appointments were carried out in wine and blue. The flowers were carnations.

Robert ten Corbin has been recently elected treasurer of Players Club. Aileen Pfeifer was initiated into II E. Honorary commercial fraternity for girls. Betty Slocombe was elected by popular vote of the campus as one of the sixteen outstanding students on the campus.

Thursday, February 24, girls from Stillwater High School were entertained at a formal rush dinner. At the beginning of the spring semester a formal rush dinner was given.

ARKANSAS ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS
Chartered, 1909

INITIATED, February 22, 1938: Milene Arnold, Bette Bassett, Nancy Ferguson, Frances Guthrie, Jane Jones, Mary Ruth Murphy, Alice Peninger, Mary Prewitt, Louise Seamster, Marilou Smith, Martha Tingle, Rosemary Wetzal, and Ethel Betty Williams.

Arkansas A began taking on the spirit of the season the first of the year for a high scholarly record. When the semester ended, this chapter led the entire campus with a 2.76. The initiative made a 3, and the pledges a 2.6+. This is the first time that II B Phi has been first on the campus for several years.

Naturally the chapter is striving to keep this high record. Mary Prewitt, the pledge president, was selected, as model pledge. She received an onyx ring with the crest on it as her reward. Mary Ruth Murphy is highly praised for true thriftiness. The organization and campus Queen attended the annual Texas Round-Up in April to represent the University of Arkansas.

As its candidate for the Amy B. Onken Award, Arkansas A nominated its president Betty Barnes, She has been very outstanding on the campus throughout her four years at college. She was Business Manager of the Trav­eler, the University bi-weekly newspaper; she was also chosen "Miss Arkansas Traveler." She was elected President of Panhellenic, a member of Who's Who, of Guidon, the women's Military Unit, and of Octagon which is a society composed of the eight most outstanding senior women on the campus. The requirements for membership in this honorary group are: a high grade average and distinct characteristics of leadership. She is also very active in the Women's League and the Y.W.C.A.

During the last weeks of school several evening dinner parties were held for the purpose of rewarding the town girls who are planning to attend the University next fall.

Arkansas A's delegate to the convention in June, is Mary Alice Rowell. Her home is in El Dorado, Arkansas, and she is a transfer from Randolph-Macon. Throughout her three years of college she has maintained an exceptionally high grade point. Mary Alice is an outstanding girl and is a pledge supervisor. During this year she was chosen for membership in A T, national honorary English Society and Deutscher Verein, the German Club. She is also an active member in the Women's League and the Y.W.C.A.
Mary Alice's originality and artistic ability have made her an invaluable member of Arkansas A.

The formal held May 21 will conclude the spring activities.

On February 3 the following girls were pledged after a successful mid-term rush: Marian Kane, Ft. Smith, Arkansas; Robbie Kimmel, Magnolia, Arkansas; Mary Tyron, Raleigh, North Carolina; and Elizabeth Stuart, Florida.

Chartered, 1891

INITIATED: March 3, 1938; Ninette Denegre, Elizabeth Dixon, Fairplay Foster, Eleanor Klugh, Minnie Maude May, Mary Nell Porter, Adelaide Rickert, Dorothy Shapard.

All Newcomb's energy and interest has suddenly become focused upon one outstanding project—the newly proposed auditorium center. Two years we have long felt the need for such a building and a great drive is being made to secure funds for its construction. Students have made sacrifices and the administration has been a member of the alumni, and dragging them from every possible cent. So true is the spirit and so sincere the cooperation that failure seems an impossibility. The Glee Club has added another feather to its cap by being selected to perform in St. Louis at the National Music Education Convention.

Louisiana A has inaugurated several new ideas which promote II B spirit and also are fun for its members. The whole chapter, including actives and pledges, meets every other Sunday night for supper at the house. The first was very successful. A house party was given at Pass Christian (Miss.) on the week-end of March 26. Its great success was almost inevitable. The chapter will always recall that week-end as one of the most pleasant times in college. March 12 stands out in the annals of Louisiana A through the Barn Dance, which was given for the benefit of the Settlement School at Gathburg.

Miss Gladys Scivally, president, paid the chapter a most delightful visit, arriving March 9. She was able to enjoy her visit, and the evening a tea was given for her by the alumnae. Patrons were: the mothers of the members, Taylor, Shapard, present, as well as actives and pledges.

The chapter observed Founders' Day with the traditional festivities. Louisiana A joined Louisiana A in a celebration. It was a great occasion. Skits were enacted by the actives, pledges, and alumnae, and Louisiana A joined in the fun, feeling immediately at home.

Patricia Woodward, new chapter president, was elected convention delegate. She is a girl of outstanding ability, having won a place of distinction in the scholastic as... well as the activity field. Louisiana A is proud to count her among its members. Her more important offices include recording secretary of the Student Body and president of the Junior Class.

Louisiana A feels that this year has been one of progress in the fraternity. It is our hope to continue in this direction with success.

IL B E held its first formal of the year February 18. The arrow was the main feature in decorations, and blue and amber lights added softness in color. Louisiana B was honored with a visit from Miss Gladys Sivelly, Kansas President, in March. A tea, given in her honor, was an opportunity for her to meet the members of other fraternities. An informal dinner with the actives and pledges was enjoyable.

Genevieve Munson recently acted in the major production, "The First Lady," which proved quite a success. Joe Soutar, a pledge, took part in the opera, "La Traviata," which was presented in March.

The Fraternity Song, an annual event, will take place in May. Each fraternity contributes its musical talent to the program, and three prizes are to be awarded.

The Women's Panhellenic banquet was held in February. Girls with the highest averages from each fraternity were given honorable mention. Susie B. Speed made the highest average for IL B E.

The Bengal Battle, a contest between two teams of artists—one classical, the other swing—was an outstanding creation of the year. A girl from each fraternity was selected to participate in the style show, an added attraction on the program. Mary La Moyne, a pledge, represented IL B E.

The University has had some very distinguished guests on the campus this year. John Stuart Curry, the famous American artist, visited the campus and spoke on his paintings. Professor Emilie LaPrizerie, visiting professor from France, gave a series of lectures on the romance languages.

The University students will pick their own beauties for the yearbook this year. Each fraternity will select eight girls and popular voting of the student body will be held.

Active and alumnae members celebrated Founders' Day with a formal banquet in Highland Hall dining room.

Winter quarter has not been uneventful for the II B's on the campus of Washington State. Betty Jean Cooner was awarded a scholarship for the most outstanding work in the music department. Dorothy Seams was chairman of refreshments on the Junior Forum committee, and Audrey Hinkle was secretary of arrangements for the same combination.

Institute, 1937, Moscow, Idaho; Betty Jean Cooner was social chairman of the Executive Board of Panhellenic. She was general chairman of the annual Panhellenic Pledge Parade, with Margaret Braxton, Jane Braxton, and Em O Lou Smith in education.

The University of Washington is building a Showboat on Lake Washington. The division of Women Students in Seattle has become quite prominent on the campus, expects to present their plays in the new building within two or three months.

There were several parties during the winter quarter, but as usual there are many more planned for spring quarter. In January the Alumni Club gave the chapter a birthday party at which they had a style show of the various periods of diens from 1900 up to the present day. On February 12, Washington A had a progressive luncheon which started at the chapter house and ended up at the home of one of the town girls. After the luncheon the girls played cards and games. The largest dance of the year was held at Inglewood Golf and Country Club in April. Each girl invited another couple, so altogether there were about 150 couples at the dance. The chapter journal was published monthly.

PLEDGED: Marjorie Sandstrom Seattle; Patricia Kelly, Monrovia, Calif.; Margaret Murrill, Muscle Shoals, Ala.; Ruth Captain: Ellen Crosby, 1644 Windermere Dr., Seattle, Wash.

INITIATED, March 12, 1938: Helen Gately, Myrtle McCarver, Laura Jean Webster, Audrene Gregory, Spokane; Bernadine Shore, Farmington; Joyce Ledgerswood, Colville; Jean Peckenpaugh, Clare Hess, Seattle; Jean M. McEwen, Yakima; Sarah Schaldeman, Pullman; Mildred Ohmsme, Redlands, California.

Hope Kimbrough, new chapter president, has been elected as chapter delegate to the Convention at Asheville.

Washington B was represented at the Lambda Province Convention in Seattle on April 29 and 30. All of these attending enjoyed the privilege of meeting Miss Osenk.

Washington B can again report a successful year in activities. Lucille Ramsay and Sarah Schaldeman were recently initiated into Orchesis, which is a way of putting on an extensive series of dance programs this spring. Phyllis Old Day, senior member, is now president of the chapter. Phyllis was also chosen to compose and direct dances for the Pullman High School opera. Mary Nelson was recently elected on the Associated Women Students Board of Directors. Marjorie Crane was appointed to the Day's Day committee, and Barbara Jean Clark is serving on the High School Week End Committee.

April 12 to 16 the Associated Women Students agreed to host the annual convention on this campus, April 28 to 30 delegates from the Women's Athletic Associations of the Pacific Coast schools convened here. Alice Russell, Bernadine Shore and Barbara Jean Clark acted on committees for this convention.

The finishing points of construction are being made on the women's gymnasium and it will soon be entirely completed. The new building is modern in every detail and includes plus the general class rooms and offices of the women's physical education department, a beautiful set of gymnasium and recreation rooms, and rooms to serve as offices and meeting quarters for the major women's organizations on the campus. The Associated Women Students have planned a large room on the third floor for the use of students for tea, firesides and other social functions and gatherings.

Idaho A entertained our chapter at dinner in their chapter house. The chapter on Liberty Hall, in the same building, has an annual custom to alternate visits every Founders' Day with the second-year senior classes officers of all the chapters. Both chapters were very interested in one another. Both chapters thoroughly enjoy the custom as it provides an opportunity to renew old acquaintances and make new ones.

PLEDGED: Annabelle Morrison, Colville; Marjorie McDowell, Tacoma; Anita Driver, Wenatchee; Margaret Lebo, Kodiak; Helen Webster, Seattle; Louise Cooner, Seattle; Jean Howard, Yakima; Maxine Clark, Bremerton.

INITIATED, January 22, 1938; Marjorie Case, Nancy Hunt, Joanne Riesch, Patricia Robinson, Winifred Wilm- helm, Portland; Jane Hall, Eugene; Betty Burns, Oak Grove; Eleanor Collier, Klamath Falls; Jean McCallum, Hillsboro; Roberta Berg, Peggy Cameron, Coos Bay; Francy Ford, Grace Irvin, Richmond; Jean Pauling, Astoria. Oregon A was visited by a visit from the Provincial President, Mrs. Ida Donert, the week before end-initiation.

We entertained her with the traditional cooky-shine on Saturday evening. The rest of her time was devoted to individual meetings. Before her departure, however, a house meeting was held in which Mrs. Donert told us about the standards of II B Phi. As a result of this meeting Jane Slatsky was elected the Standards Chairman of our chapter.

This term many girls have played an active part in campus activities. On the Emerald, Oregon's school paper, Caroline Hand was appointed circulation manager, with Nancy Hunt as assistant manager. Caroline is also in charge of the Sorority Section of the yearbook—The Oregon. Betty Noon, Journalism student, is a reporter on the Emerald staff. Jane Slatsky was recently selected to write all the publicity ads for an A.S.U.O. membership committee drive.

In W.A.A. activities, Betty Riesch has been chosen to represent us at the state convention and also as one of the candidates for the presidency. Elections are to be held later in the future. Betty was also on the A.W.S. campus directorate. Joanne Riesch is running for sergeant-at-arms on the same ticket. On the A.W.S. ticket, Barbara Pierce has been nominated as sergeant-at-arms. With three other girls she has been asked to promote a plan for a Student Union Building. Other appointments were made to the following girls: Helen Wiedner, co-chairman of Award Party for W.A.A.; Pat Brugman, assistant chairman on Patrons and Programs Committee for the Sophomore Mix; Marjorie Case and Kay Dillard are in charge of making posters for the Faculty Coffee sponsored by A.W.S.; Grace Irvin in conjunction with the Y.W.C.A.; is on the Frosh Council. The Scholarship returns for last term have been announced and Oregon A was third among all the women's fraternities. Scholarship is being stressed especially this year.

Mortar Board's annual Smarty Party selected the following girls to be honored at their celebration. Each girl must have received a three point or better in her last term's scholastic record; Erma Brown, Eleanor Collier, Dorothy Denso, Barbara Evans, Caroline Hand, Nancy Hunt, Elizabeth Musken, Joanne Riesch, Betty Wagner. The Matrix Table, to select the outstanding women on the campus invited Jane Slatsky, Pat Brugman, Elizabeth Turner, and Caroline Hand to be present.

In intramural sports up to date, our house basketball team has maintained a top position with only a few more games to be played for the championship.

The fall dance program included musical groups and dance programs including the world-famed Shan-Kar Ballet. Nathan Millstein, noted violinist also gave a concert on the campus.

The past few months have been exceptionally strenuous ones as far as social affairs at Oregon State are concerned, beginning with the Junior Prom. January 29. This gala affair directly followed one promotion and the rest of the states. The first formal event was the Alpha Sigma Chi dance, which was held in the Student Union Ballroom. The theme for the dance was "A Night in Paris" and the orchestra was The Hawaiian Skiffle Club. There were sixteen members who attended the dance as a climax to a very eventful weekend. February 12 was for the house dance. The theme was "The Hit Parade," and each person came dressed as a song title. It proved to be a very successful dance, and was enjoyed by all. Mortar Board gave the annual Woman's Ball, February 26. A turn about of social customs took place with the girls escorting the boys and paying the bills. As always, merrymaking was at its peak.

A.W.S sponsors a Lyceum program every term, and this past season included The Portland Symphony, Trudie Shoop, and Marion Anderson.

Betty Sturgeon represented Oregon B in an all campus style show given at one of the local theaters. The chairman of decorations for Mortar Board Ball was Lenore Reynolds, the house's representative to that honorary.

The campus literary magazine, The Lamplighter, offers a prize for the freshman girl who sells the greatest number of copies, and Doris Rudesill, Oregon B pledge, won a $75 money order for the house.

Aed Peters won top place in the annual Beaver sales, a campaign for the Oregon State Fair. Her prize was a smart looking jacket for herself, and also a bit of publicity for the name of II B Phi.

Elinor Hanson, a former student at Oregon State, is now back, after spending a term at Mills.

The Founders Day celebration was observed, with a banquet at the Bentley House Hotel.

Pledge Day, January 15, 1938

INITIATED, February 15, 1938; Patricia Rehm, Los Angeles; Mary Gale Zwield, St. Joseph, Mo.

The main point of interest this quarter was the annual rushing period which took place during the first part of January, culminating with two formal preference dinners on January 22 and 23. The final appearing on Saturday, January 13. The chapter held an informal open house to introduce the new pledges to the campus. The pledge class is sixteen men including all of the new pledges in the corresponding sorority. There are twelve outstanding girls in their class.

The new pledges are as follows: Dorothy Westfall, seniority on the campus pledged only a total of 89 girls out of a class of about 250. This fact caused considerable trouble in Robie, the freshman women's dormitory. The matter was taken up by the Dean of Women. Several conferences were held, one of which was attended by alumnae of the various sororities. There was some talk of abolishing sororities on the campus entirely and turning the houses into living units. No definite steps were taken, however, and the matter seems to have been closed for the time being.

Election of chapter officers was held on January 24. The new chapter president is Jayne Copp, who has been very active in campus affairs. At present Jayne is the junior class representative on the W.A.A. board, a member of the Rally Committee and vice-president of the Stanford Ski Club. Chapter vice-president is Jean Fox, who is secretary-treasurer of the junior House. The Portland treasurer is Patricia Johnson, a sophomore, who was assistant treasurer last quarter. The recording secretary is Shirley Weth, and the corresponding secretary is Nancy Casewell, both sophomores. The new rush chairman is Sally Holt, who very aptly filled the position of assistant during the last rush period.

One of the largest II B Phi affairs ever held in the bay region was the reading by Beatrice Edmonds, prominent reviewer of the stage, in the Veterans’ Auditorium in San Francisco on April 19. Miss Edmonds is a II B from Pi Beta Phi at Bates, graduated in 1921. She moved to New York every year and then gives her interpretation of campus life in both the California and Stanford chapters in conjunction with the Berkeley, San Francisco, and Palo Alto Alumni Clubs sponsored this review. The affair drew much publicity and an audience of about one thousand attended.

Miss Martineau, a junior, was chosen to represent California B chapter. She has been active in campus affairs in addition to maintaining a high scholarship record. Last year she was recording secretary for the Intercollegiate Women’s Conference. She will add considerably to convention and that she will bring back a wealth of inspiration and ideals concerning II B.

Members of California B are having a particularly full and interesting semester with participation in a variety of women’s fraternity and college activities.

One of the most important events on California B’s program was an afternoon program which was given on April 19 under the auspices of the alumni clubs of the San Francisco Bay Region. Featured on the program was Beatrice Edmonds, an alumna of California A, who gave an interpretive review of the current New York theatre season. The program, which was given for the benefit of the scholarship, endowment, and Settlement School funds, were active members of California A and California B.

Social functions held by California B recently include the Spring Formal on April 1, a banquet following initiation of the beginning of the semester, and the Father’s Dinner, an annual affair which is particularly looked forward to by the girls and their “Dads.”

In college activities several members of California B have received recognition for outstanding scholarship and ability. Mary Elizabeth Allen and Eleanor Mahan are new members of the Honor Students in recognition of their consistently fine scholarship, Margaret Ann Russell and Florence Brown were initiated into Pi Beta Phi, an organization of upperclass women prominent in activities and scholarship. Margaret Ann Russell secured a leading rôle in Little Theatre’s production of Maxwell Anderson’s “High Tor” which was presented in the Greek Theatre as the beginning of the semester, by that organization this semester. Nancy Lou Glass, who is a candidate for queen of the annual Military Ball, and Mary Elizabeth Allen were initiated into Alpha of Clubs, a social organization with elected representatives from K, T, I, A, X, A, B, and II B.

Two members of California B have just been elected to membership in the University of California chapter of Alpha Delta Pi, the national honor society. They are Margaret Ann Russell and Florence Brown, each of whom was just initiated into Pi Thyeean, junior and senior women’s honor society. The Mortar Board initiation is to be held on March 27.

One of the most outstanding incidents during the spring semester was the initiation of II B into the California Gamma chapter. This was the first time in the history of the University of Southern California, for the last year the house has had the highest scholarship average on campus.

March 9 was the II B Benefit tea. It was held at the Biltmore Hotel in Los Angeles. It was a very beautiful affair and was very popular, the hotel being completely filled. A style show was put on by one of the exclusive dress shops. Several of the girls from the house modeled the new fashions.

The spring rushing season was very successful. Several teas were given for the rushed and Gardenia dinners were very impressive. The season was culminated with a pledge class of six girls. The presentation tea for the pledges proved to be a very Beaver affair. The house was completely filled during the entire time. Ice cream, tea, and cake were served to the guests.

For the past several weeks the girls have been surpised at the Monday night dinners. Candy has been passed by different girls, sometimes as many as three boxes came in the same evening.

Easter vacation was spent at Catalina Island. A large home court is available for use of the girls and the faculty. A very enjoyable time was had by all. Much swimming, boating, and tennis was exercised.

The Convention is looking forward to with eager anticipation by both active and pledges. The convention delegate of California Gamma will be Virginia Conzelman.

ATTENTION ALUMNEN. Due to the fact that rush week at the University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA) comes before fall quarter break (November) it is necessary to have all names for prospective rushers in during the summer. Many girls have been overlooked, or not contacted because their names have reached the chapter house too late. Up to now recommendations of girls have often arrived just at the opening of the semester which is too late. It is hoped that this situation will have the cooperation of the Alumne.

California Delta will lose four girls at the June commence- ment. These are Mary Beatty, B.A.; Mary Sue Howard, B.A., and Jeanne Law, B.A.

The chapter welcomed with a great deal of pride a stunning array of five-stemmed roses which were a gift from the Mothers’ club. The club has been very active this year, and on February 23 they held another benefit for California Delta. It took the form of a...
Program-Team, and a well known reader Mrs. George F. Parker of Beverly Hills presented several of the New York plays.

The entire chapter sold raffle tickets for the drawing which was held at the Biltmore Hotel in Los Angeles where the Los Angeles alumnae of the Phillips Academy held a fashion show, March 19. Every active and pledge attended the party and several members modeled in the fashion show.

The pledge class under the presidency of Betty Simons honored the alumnae members with an informal supper-dance at the Deauville club on March 4. After the great flood, actives were relieved to find that the club was still standing.

In the way of campus activities, California ∆ girls have been buzzing bustling about the University. Dolly Wilson was chosen to be the junior class council, and the council held a dinner at the II B Φ house under the supervision of Dolly and Barbara Langer.

The University Riding club has acquired many new members through the support of the II B Φ house. The new members have been stimulated by Alice Rankin who is head of the club. The new members include Jane Bell, Rachel Rettke, Mary Sue Howard, Jean Heffelfinger, and Carlotta Stoddard.

The Freshman-Sophomore Barn Dance has elaborated decorations only because of the hard work of Peggy Kilgore. Peggy has also been working on the Y.W.C.A.

Participation in the various Philanthropic events such as the bingo party and the sale of buttons, make for a stimulating year. Patricia Chapman and Ethel McCarthy are "majors," Jane Bondung and Pat Hartley have been working diligently as armorers in the campaign, and the final drive is to urge more members of the faculty to join in the activities of the Y.W.C.A.

Betty Covell is president of the German club and the French club has Ethel McCarthy and Barbara Langer as its new members. Mary Sue Howard and Pat Hartley have been working on the production staff for the campus presentation of "Julius Caesar."

Virginia Nit is the central committee to raise this money. Betty Bole and Pat Cavanaugh attended the camp as unofficial last summer and plan to do the same this summer. Laura Chapman, vice-president of the sophomore class, is also working on the camp project.

Mary Livingston has been chosen to the dramatics honor roll for having won the next to highest grades in her class. She was chosen by the senior class.

To assist in the President's drive against Infantile Paraly.

sis, members of campus honoraries sold the tiny buttons. Mary Sue Howard and Pat Hartley assisted for Agatha, assisted for Agatha, assisted for Agatha.

The semester opened with the second week set aside for Rush. Because of the scarcity of rushes each sorority is limited to one luncheon or dinner by the Panhellenic council, the new pledges were honored at a co-ed dinner given by the Alumnae.

The annual fashion show was held at the Riverside Hotel on March 26 with reservations being limited to 200. The fashion show was the second in the house modeled spring fashions.

Carlotta Ginn was elected president of Y.W.C.A.

Founder's Day banquet was held at the house with the alumnae in charge of all the arrangements. As usual all the alumnae were present and the house received a bevy of house modeled spring fashions.

Mrs. Adele Taylor Alfred made a short visit on March 17, and was an honorary guest speaker at the Panhellenic luncheon during the A Υ province convention.

The annual winter formal dinner dance was held on February 12, and the Valentine motif was carried throughout. Novel favors were given to guests.

Virginia Nair, chapter president and Secretary of the Student Body, has been chosen to be represented in the Who's Who in America Colleges and Universities. Pat Confer was elected president of A E, a national business honorary society.

Dichl McAteer is golf sport leader for next year, and Patricia Davey and Margaret Lann were made members of the rush committee, a golf honorary. Mary Ellen Gable has been taken into the Racquet club, an honorary tennis association.

Mona Joy Warner has been chosen as archery sport leader for next year, and she will second place in the archery tournament held in Tucson.

Ruth Patton was chosen as Desert Queen, and Dorothy Flynn, a nominee as A.W.S. vice-president, is a member of Wranglers.

A large initiation banquet was held on March 12 in honor of the new initiates at the Pioneer Hotel. Two II B Φ daughters were initiated and their mothers were present for the ceremony.

Emily Watkins graduated in February, Margaret Hudson has transferred to the University of California and Ann Dodrill has returned to her home in San Diego.

章程: The Junior Prom was held recently in the Union Building. The theme was very successfully carried out as the "Garden of Eden." Much of its success was due to the fact that Marjorie Judd was on the committee.

The campus is staging for the first time a "Vanity Swing Show" to raise money for a much needed field house. A constellation consisting of Desc B Φ Quartet, Lorraine Hyde, Ruth Summerhays, Donna Madeen, and Betty Thompson, will supply moon and starlight harmony.

Utah A had a successful rush season. A very impressive party was the annual Chinese supper. Another successful theme was a nautical idea with gang-plank etc. Everyone was greeted with "Hi, there old-timer" as they entered. When they left, the deck was cleared with the parting words, "All ashore that's going ashore." Kay Smith, newly elected delegate to convention, Kay is a very active girl on the campus, Jeannette Castronova, an outstanding member of the curricular activities.

IN MEMORIAM

Only brief notices, giving chapter, date of initiation, date and place of birth and death, and offices held in the national organization, will be used. Exceptions to this rule will be made only in the case of present national officers of the fraternity, former Grand officers, and members of I.C. Deaths of generally known members of the families of Pi Beta Phis, will appear in the personal section of the chapter concerned.

GEORGINA ROWLAND, I.C., initiated October 15, 1884, as a charter member of Colorado A, died December 21, 1937. Miss Rowland was Grand Treasurer of Pi Beta Phi from 1890-1892.

WILDA DAVIS WALLACE (MRS. W. S.), I.C., Iowa E, initiated 1884, died October 3, 1936, in Denver, Colorado. Mrs. Wallace was the mother of Wilda Wallace Derryberry, Denver Alumnae Club.

NATALIE TYLER BRINKER (MRS. FRED A.), initiated February 18, 1922, into Colorado B, died March 11, 1938, in Denver, Colorado.

JESSIE C. CRAIG CAMPBELL (MRS. DANIEL), initiated January 12, 1895, into Wisconsin A, died February 7, 1938. Mrs. Campbell served as ARROW Editor 1896-97.

ELVA MCKUSICK CAMPBELL (MRS. WALTER), initiated October 29, 1892, into Minnesota A, died March 27, 1936.

FRANCES G. FRENCH, initiated September 26, 1896, into Michigan A, died October 23, 1937.

ISABELLE MAYNARD HUNT (MRS. ALFRED E.), initiated November 5, 1894, into Illinois A, died October 4, 1937.

ALICE GLEASON HUTCHINSON (MRS. JAMES W.), initiated December 5, 1921, into Michigan A, died July 11, 1937.

VERA HEINLY JONES, M.D., initiated into Colorado B December 18, 1916, died February 15, 1938, by drowning in Baseline Lake, near Boulder, Colorado.

ALICE CHASE PERKINS (MRS. R. C.), initiated 1908 into Colorado B, died November 1937, in Denver, Colorado.

FRANCES RAND SMITH (MRS. JAMES PERRIN), initiated October 11, 1893, into California A, died February 15, 1938, in the Stanford-Lane Hospital, San Francisco, California.
A new club has recently been formed at Bozeman, Montana. Wichita Falls, Texas, now has a group of twenty alumnae. The Elgin, Illinois, club now has its second generation of alumnae members. Letters from 88 alumnae clubs appear in this issue.

MAKING MONEY . . . AND HOW

By Doris Kent LeBlanc, Louisiana A

Pride is one of the seven deadly sins, but the New Orleans Alumnae Club cannot help gloating a bit, and they believe the Recording Angel will be tolerant, for during the past twelve months they have pulled themselves from rags to riches.

It all goes to prove once again the time-tried principle that casting bread on the waters pays dividends: the New Orleans Alumnae Club’s economic boom started in an unselfish impulse. Their Executive Council convinced the group it should identify itself actively with some type of civic work; they chose bandage-making for the Women’s Dispensary, a local charity hospital, relieving busy staff nurses at the task. Now they frequently turn out several thousand gauze surgical sponges during a morning. Virtue came to be its own reward in this fashion: from the largely-attended work-meetings there developed a new “esprit de corps” difficult to obtain in a large city with a group widely diversified in ages and interests.

Closer contact, thus established with the active chapter at Newcomb, brought up the urgent need for money—not only for national alumnae obligations, but to help the active maintain suitable chapter quarters. But the treasury purse was flat. How to get more money?

With a number of wits at work on the problem a variety of successful schemes were evolved. Some of them seem worth passing on.

A local stationery firm paid a commission on all orders given “in the name of Pi Phi” and families of prospective brides and debutantes were solicited. The same arrangement was made with a concern handling knitting wools. Through the suggestion of a transfer alumna, the club contracted with the makers of Towle silver for a hundred representative women, at the rate of fifteen an hour, on a certain day to indicate preferences in flat silver patterns. The firm paid $75 for this gathering, which they used as a quick and efficient means of conducting a survey. No selling was involved; choices were indicated on an elaborate chart and representatives of the company were not provided with names and addresses of visitors to the private home where the survey was held.

A Christmas sale, while not original in idea, proved decidedly so in the variety of objects offered. Asked to contribute “something you can’t buy in shops,” alumnae poured in such articles as to Canes, baby clothes, plantation cane syrup put up in quart cans with individual labels, Louisiana wares—root (as a delicate Sachet) and kindling wood tied in red cellophane, with a pine burr stop. Although the tea accompanying the sale was a “silver” one, it was an elegant event, held in a lovely private home with real mardi gras food and tea girls in pastel frocks. Miss Onken, in New Orleans at the time, was guest of honor and can vouch for its success, socially and (most definitely!) financially.

No record of the club’s money-making activities would be complete without a word about May Logan Moore, who has waged a one-woman campaign that leaves fellow-workers breathless. Mrs. Moore is a kind of special godmother to the New Orleans group; her house is the scene of many entertainments, as well as the work-meetings for bandage-making. She originated the fast-selling kindling bundles for the Christmas sale, and a list of her further efforts for Pi Phi is a study in variety. Here are a few: picking and selling apples on her summer place in North Carolina, $8; balsam pillows, from North Carolina needles, $5; making and selling jelly, $7.50; orders for kindling bundles, $2.50; selling maids’ plain and fancy aprons, assisted by a sewing committee of friends, $4.50; selling camellia japonicas from garden (at ten and twenty-five cents a bloom, though she mows she could get $1 in New York!) $56.25. At the last alumnae meeting the indefatigable May announced her latest line—live-oak leaves, raked from the parkway opposite her house and neatly sacked for sale. They make the ideal mulch for the Orangen prize azaleas!

A profitable side-line of revenue also has come from selling Coca-Cola or coffee, depending on the weather, at meetings. Everybody enjoys a sociable sip and a cigarette at the conclusion of business, and the diners bring one hundred per cent profit for the club, without causing members to feel they’re giving till it hurts. The big benefit bridge party and tea, given after Mardi Gras closes the busy social season, has come to be an event many, non-Pi Phis look forward to. It was in preparation as this article was written, and the New Orleans group expected to arrive at Founders’ Day in a state of affluence.

ALPHA PROVINCE

BUFFALO CLUB

At the January meeting of the Buffalo Alumnae Club reports were given on the various plans used by the Club for raising money. A movie benefit and commissions from the sale of prints and paper products have given the most profit. Adelaide Robertson described her visit to the Settlers’ School last summer.

In February our province vice-president, Mary Herdman Scott, and Dr. Edith Gordon visited the Club. Everyone took part in an informal discussion. Ruth Minard Miller, charter member of Missouri Gamma ’15, the Club president, was elected delegate to Convention.

Members of the Buffalo alumnae group joined the Toronto, Hamilton, and London, Ontario, clubs on April 2 at the Ancaster Country Club in Ancaster for the celebration of Founders’ Day and enjoyed this joint meeting.

ALICE K. BUSCH
LONDON, ONTARIO, CLUB
At the last meeting, arrangements were made for the Building Fund, where each alumna voluntarily pledges $30.00 to be paid within five years. This applicant only to those who graduated previous to the Class of '57 as this pledge is not open at graduation.

The executive attended the last "cooky-shine" of the actives and chapter house and stayed on for their meeting. Everyone enjoyed the gathering so much that a joint "cooky-shine" is to be held at the house before next meeting.

The annual dance was held at the London Hunt and Country Club on Saturday, February 26, and was a tremendous success. The gentlemen were presented with silver watch chains with the Fraternity crest engraved on a disc at one end.

Rushing was held the week of February 27, and there was a party at the house every night at which several alumnae were present each time.

NORTHERN N.J. CLUB
The Northern New Jersey Alumnae Club opened its club year with an enjoyable program at the National Panhellenic Congress in New York. At our October luncheon we had 65 members present to welcome Miss Onken, who was our guest and speaker. We felt greatly honored and inspired by our Grand President's visit. The program at our regular luncheon meeting in November was given by several members who reviewed books. The Christmas dinner dance at Echo Lake Club was a great success, due to the work of Mrs. W. W. Elder and her committee.

Mrs. Matthew Jones (N.Y. Alpha) was so inspired by the Pennsylvania Beta program that in November she opened her home in Madison to Pi Phi's and their friends for a tea and sale of Arrowcraft products. The house, which is 207 years old and furnished in antiques, made a perfect setting for displaying the articles. Much credit is due Mrs. Marion Loop (Ind., Gamma), who planned and staged the program. A dinner was held at the home of Rena Skerritt, where we had as our guests the Seniors in the active chapter. Mr. John W. Brooks came at the request of the two boards and gave a very complete outline of our compulsory insurance plans.

On January 19 and February 2, we enjoyed luncheon meetings with Martha Wille Coursen and Mabel Ogden. On February 18, we again enjoyed a dinner meeting at Marjory Kitt's beautiful home, where eight guests, including our guests, and Marjory showed us colored films of her most recent trips to Mexico and South America. Our Bermuda cruise enterprise is progressing well, with the drawing set for April 2.

The alumnae are planning to entertain the Mothers' Club at a tea on March 9 at the home of our president, Marjorie Kienzie.

By the time this is printed, we shall be deep in plans for our much-needed new chapter house on Walnut Park, for the Board of Directors of our alumnae association, on January 18 bought the house under a lovely setting on the corner of Marshall St. and Walnut Park.

SYRACUSE CLUB
Four more meetings of the Syracuse Club have been enjoyed since our last letter.

On January 25, a dinner was held at the home of Rena Skerritt, where we had as our guests the Seniors in the active chapter. Mr. John W. Brooks came at the request of the two boards and gave a very complete outline of our compulsory insurance plans.

BETA PROVINCE

CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA CLUB
The Central Pennsylvania Club is really functioning. Our monthly meetings are well attended because each meeting is carefully planned and has a well-worked-out program. After our business meeting in February a member of Pennsylvania Beta gave a short talk telling us just what is happening this year in the chapter. After the business meeting, those who wished were given a false test on parliamentary law. Most of us were surprised at the great number of questions answered correctly.

At our March meeting we entertained the seniors of Pennsylvania Beta. This meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Fetherstone who will exhibit her paintings. Seniors and alumnae all enjoyed this privilege. In April we held a joint meeting with Pennsylvania Beta at which time we commemorated the founding of Pi Beta Phi. The active chapter was in charge of the program.

The Central Pennsylvania Alumnae Club is planning to stimulate interest among its members by having a monthly meeting rather than the usual four meetings a year. The January meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Harold Shimer of Milton. At this meeting a short play was given by members of the club. The February meeting was held at the home of Joan Hill of Bellefonte and was devoted to the study of Parliamentary Law. Mrs. Drum has been appointed head of the committee which will raise money for the Settlement School Fund.

Cleveland Club
Programs of unusual interest have added much to the enjoyment of our monthly meetings at the Cleveland Alumnae Club. At the January meeting, Ruth Donahower gave a talk on "Social Betterment Activities of Various Sororities." On the same program, Ruth Sprague gave such a vivid account of her impressions of Gattinburg and our Settlement School.

We were delighted to have Candace Johnson, our Mme. Barnouw of New York who reviews current plays. We have been glad to have Mrs. McKendrew and Mrs. Speir of the New York Club at several meetings and have been delighted to welcome about a dozen new members.

ELIZABETH M. ROWLEY

ROCHESTER CLUB
The Rochester Club has had a full active year under our president, Mrs. Rhea Poppink. A meeting for each month, a cooky-shine in January, a Founders' Day luncheon for April were all planned ahead. We have welcomed four new members this year. Mrs. Scott paid us a visit last November at which time our members were given an opportunity of meeting her at a luncheon, a dinner and a bridge party. At our March meeting with Mrs. Raymond Betts we shall see pictures of the Settlement School. The Founders' Day luncheon in April and a social meeting in May will bring our year to a close.

FLORENCE C. MARSHALL

COLUMBUS CLUB
This year the Columbus Alumnae Club has varied its regular program of all dinner meetings. Instead teas and evening meetings have been interspersed at various convenient intervals.

At the December dinner meeting Mrs. Howard Schereth (Mary Virginia Hewitt) of Manila, talked of life and customs in the Philippines, showing pictures of her experiences.

Ohio Beta's new house is again the special interest. A plan of raising funds found to be effective is the organization of bridge clubs throughout the city. The meetings are set by each individual group, some meeting once and some twice a month. Each member pays a set amount, usually a quarter, at every meeting, the money being relayed to the house fund.

At present every effort is being put forth to round out the pledges made to the house fund. The Alumnae Com-
HARRISBURG-CARLISLE CLUB
A large Settlement School Benefit Bridge was held Saturday afternoon, March 26 in the auditorium of Pompton’s Department Store in Harrison. The store very graciously gave the alumnae club the space for the party, and the use of their card tables and cards. In one corner of the store, gifts from the Settlement School were displayed and sold, and in another, candy, cakes and nuts were sold. The proceeds from this party form the nucleus of the club’s contribution to the Settlement School. Lucretia Heisey was the general chairman for the affair.

The March 19, meeting of the club was held in the fraternity rooms of Pennsylvania Gamma in Carlisle. The Carlisle members of the alumnae club were hostesses and the Carlisle actives were invited to attend the meeting. At the meeting the new officers were elected.

The club celebrated Founders’ Day with a luncheon on April 23. As a result, the nucleus of the club is planning a Panhellenic Tea, to be held May 28, at the home of Mrs. Edward Belt. As it is the desire of the club to continue the friendships formed in college with women of other Greek fraternities, a meeting of this nature is beneficial each year. Each member is asked to bring with her at least one woman from another fraternity.

EMMA M. SHAWFIELD

PITTSBURGH CLUB
The Pittsburgh Alumnae Club started the new year with a business meeting and a very original Constitutional Bridge in the home of Mrs. C. G. Kinter. A progressive system of tables and tables utilizing Phi information was arranged by Mrs. Conrad Myhre, program chairman. During the meeting plans were completed for the Towle silver display which was held January 20. Mrs. E. W. Tillotson offered her attractive home for the day and Mrs. P. B. Davidson, chairman of the afternoon display, handled the affair in such a systematic and efficient manner that we had more than our quota of guests required by the Towle Company. The club received $7.00 for their efforts, which amount is to be placed in the Endowment Fund.

The February meeting was held in the East Liberty Y.W.C.A. Mrs. W. C. Weeg, secretary and, assisted by her committee, served a delicious chop suey luncheon. Mrs. H. C. Johnson, our Province Vice President, gave a most interesting talk on altruistic work of other fraternities.

SOUTH HILLS CLUB
Under the leadership of Mrs. Herbert R. Horne (Ferne Wein) the South Hills Pittsburgh Alumnae Club has had a most active year. Probably our greatest encouragement came with the return of all the members from last year and the addition of Mrs. W. S. Shuttlesworth (Varina Wilson) W. Virginia A. Mrs. John M. Dickey (Virginia Lamb) Ohio B, and Mrs. Chauncey B. Yohe (Lois Bishop) Iowa A.

It was with a somewhat hesitant but determined feeling that we, numbering only twenty, set out to do our bit for the Settlement School by giving a benefit bridge at which an Arrow Craft Shop would be featured. With the wholehearted cooperation of all members we were able to have a delightful party of more than forty tables and to sell Arrow Craft Products amounting to $110.00.

But we must leave some fun! So we repeated our Lingering dinner party making it our December function and one opportunity for enjoying Pi Beta Phi with our husbands. From cocktails to dessert we were transported to different homes and married to enjoy bridge for a finale.

Time Marches On! And we find ourselves in the throes of heaps more work and plans. In February Dr. John Johnson was to be our guest at a cooky-shine supper after which she refreshed our minds on the initiation ceremony.

March promises another party where we parlay the ‘black coats’ for wishing cards. And an other party of raising money for the Endowment Fund by having a miniature Monte Carlo party.

April brought our Founders’ Day celebration, and in May the club will provide an evening’s entertainment for the local Methodist Home for the Aged. June brings the customary picnic.

BALTIMORE CLUB
The Baltimore Club seems to be continuing its usual activities. This cooky-shine given for the actives at the home of Mrs. Te Linde was very enjoyable. At the March meeting a member of the staff of the Enoch Pratt Library, Miss Macaulay, will speak on current books. Arrangements were made to have the Founders’ Day banquet at the beach house at the club which has recently been built on the campus of Johns Hopkins University. Of course, the active chapter at Goucher celebrated with us and this year they furnished the program. We always look forward to this occasion with great expectation. At the cooky-shine the active girls surprised and delighted us with the number and variety of Pi Phi songs they sang.

DOROTHY MAY HOBITZEL

CHAPEL HILL CLUB
During July actives in the U.N.C. Summer School, town meetings and alumni gathered at the home of the secretary to read the Grand Council letter from Miss Orken.

In August our advisory committee chairman, Patricia Dicks, in charge of rushing recommendations compiled a circular letter to be sent to all state chapter alumnae. She was ably assisted by Mary Leigh Scales, our newest club member from the chapter. We wish to express our deep appreciation to Grand Council for the privilege of having this letter sent out by the Central Office. The responses with recommendations and the many personal letters from alumnae have been isolated from their own chapter files.

Modifications of local Panhellenic regulations permitted alumnae again to attend rushing affairs. At our October meeting Patricia Dicks brought out our warm feeling towards alumnae who have been isolated from their own chapter affairs.

The suggestions of Mrs. Stark had been so practical that we carried them out at once.

In February the club again availed itself of the courtesy and aid of Elizabeth Branson’s “The Little Shop,” together with the active chapter, Mary Leigh Scales, chairman, and raised funds for the Settlement School. After division with the active chapter, together with our Arrow Craft sales and donations, our contributions to the Settlement School have been brought up to $30.00.

HARRIET M. McLEAN

RICHMOND CLUB
The Richmond Alumnae Club has had some very interesting meetings this year. At the January meeting our club had a pleasant surprise. Mrs. Stark was our guest at a luncheon given at the Commonwealth Club. Everyone enjoyed Mrs. Stark’s short visit and her talk to the club.

This month Dean Keller took us on an armchair tour to Mexico. Dr. Keller visited Mexico last summer and brought us many interesting and exciting tales of her experiences, and showed us several of the various kinds of Indian and Mexican handwork.

We are very proud to report that our club has almost doubled in membership since the last report. We have all our new members and hope they will help to enrich our organization.
In April our club went to the new Williamsburg Inn, in Colonial Williamsburg, for our Founders' Day luncheon. We are all looking forward to Convention in June. Several of the members are planning to go.

WASHINGTON CLUB

In January the Washington Alumnae Club met at the home of Mrs. Benjamin Harrison Lingo (Mae Reeds). A half dozen representatives from other sororities gave brief descriptions of their altruistic projects. Previously at a Panhellenic meeting Mrs. Benjamin Harrison Lingo (Mae Reeds) gave a summary of the work done by our Settlement School as there had been many requests to hear about our philanthropic program. It was our good fortune to have at our meeting Melba Scott Brown who has recently returned from four months in Japan, and we were proud to share her chat concerning the trip with our guests.

DELTA PROVINCE

ANN ARBOR CLUB

On Thursday January 13 the alumnae club had the pleasure of entertaining Miss Onken who was visiting the active chapter at that time. A luncheon was given in her honor at the home of Miss Onken and a formal meeting followed. That evening the active chapter gave a formal dinner at the chapter house and the members of the advisory board were invited.

The fiftieth anniversary of the Michigan B chapter was celebrated in connection with Founders' Day. Mrs. Stebbins was in charge of the program which included a luncheon at the Woman's League on April 30. Four living members were invited to attend.

Our money making project at the present time consists of the selling of engagement calendars. Mrs. Marshall is in charge of them.

BLOOMINGTON (Indiana) CLUB

It was the privilege of the Indiana Beta active chapter and the Bloomington Alumnae Club last month to entertain Mrs. Webster, assistant to the Grand President. A dinner was given for her by the club at the Graham Hotel. Both the active and alumnae groups not only enjoyed her brief talk but felt that her many valuable suggestions would be of great help to us.

Mrs. Homer Woolery, one of our active alumnae members, and Dr. Woolery will return Bloomington about the middle of April from a five months trip through California, Texas, and Hawaii, returning by way of Panama and Florida.

Our club is indeed proud to announce that on February 6 Indiana Beta chapter initiated all of their pledge class, 25 in all. Two of these initiates are daughters of former Indiana Beta girls—Grace Ashby, whose mother was the former Nellie Ward Grashill, and Anna Louise Blakely, whose mother was the former Helen Ikeda. Several alumnae returned for the initiation services and the formal dinner following.

At the recent election of officers the active chapter elected Edith Cale Thornton president. She is the daughter of a member of Indiana B, the former Juanna Marie Young. The active chapter here would appreciate having the names of girls who plan to enter Indiana University next fall. The rush captain is Phyllis Landis.

FRANKLIN CLUB

The traditional cooky-shine was held on September 18, 1937, after a very successful season of rush. The dinner was served to our guests, the new pledges and their mothers, and members of Indiana A at the home of Mrs. LeRoy Cooke. Following the dinner a short program was in charge of the alumnae club president, Miss Roger Owens. She gave a history of the origin of the cooky-shine. The pledges were introduced by the active chapter President, Miss Betsy Cohn.

Immediately following the dinner the girls went to the home of Mrs. R. C. Wilson, a patroness, where they were presented to the college faculty, students, and townpeople.

The Membership Committee reports a very great increase in membership for the year and we are enjoying a very successful season.

At the November meeting we had a program of fraternity philanthropies. A representative from all the groups on our local campus told of the philanthropic work her organization was engaged in. They were varied and interesting. Miss Susan Ott told of her recent visit to the Settlement School.

On November 20 the Club held an Arrow Craft bridge tea at the Hillview Country Club. The articles from the Arrow Craft Shop were on display and the guests purchased a number of them. Small jars of preserves were given as table gifts at the close of the afternoon.

The November meeting was a buffet supper and a bingo party. We took white elephant gifts and these served as the prizes for the bingo games.
THE MAY ARROW

On January 13 we celebrated our Golden Anniversary at the home of Mrs. Wayne Walters. A delicious dinner was served to more than one hundred guests and members. The principal speakers of the evening were two of our founders, Miss Jeanette Zeppenfield, and Miss Hildreth. They discussed the trends in education, contrasting the college and faculty of 1888 and 1938. Miss Palmer met the Founders, going into detail concerning a few of the members typical of the high standards set by the Chapter from its founding.

A silver tea tray was presented to the active chapter by the members of Indiana Alpha. It had been engraved in the center of the tray the dates, 1888 and 1938. The roll call of years was answered by the guests bringing their birthday pennies for the local loan fund. Many letters were received from alumnae unable to attend, and were read to those present. We wish to thank all these alumnae, both for their very interesting letters and their birthday offerings.

At the February meeting we had the pleasure of entertaining Mrs. J. E. Webster, Jr., Assistant to the Grand President. She was very charming and we enjoyed her visit with us. She talked to us and left us with a much greater appreciation of Grand Council and its many duties.

Mrs. Benjamin C. Lewis, Delta Province Vice-President, visited us at our meeting in March.

JULIA STARK

GARY CLUB

The Gary Alumnae Club has fifteen members this year, and has a new president. We began with eight charter members. In December we gave a tea in honor of Helen Anderson Lewis at the home of our club president, Margaret Kerr Rollis, at which time Settlement School articles were displayed and sold. A luncheon was planned for April in celebration of our members’ Day. The annual Guest Tea in May will be held in the former home of Mary Whitaker Briggs in Crown Point.

BETTY McCrAY SORRELS

HILLSDALE CLUB

Everyone who met Miss Onken during her visit to Hillsdale in January enjoyed the opportunity and many alumnae attended the all-college tea given in her honor by the active chapter. At our February meeting Vera B. Dittler gave an excellent review and discussion of the Constitution. Members present hemmed table linens for the chapter house.

Harriett Hale spoke at the February meeting of the Hillsdale Woman’s Club on the subject, “Laughing into Mirrors.” The talk was a discussion of a group of humorists contributing to the New Yorker magazine. Josephine Kerr Raymond, has been appointed Delta Province chairman of the National Publicity Committee. Initiation is March 5th followed by the initiation banquet at the chapter house. Several of the alumnae will attend and alumnae speakers will be Arlene Thomas who will act as toast mistress and Ben Hagaman who will speak for the alumnae. Preceding initiation Ava Clason Green will give a recital at her home for a delegation. Founders’ Day will be celebrated by a joint luncheon with the active chapter.

ALLEN ACKLEY BIRK

INDIANAPOLIS CLUB

The Indianapolis Alumnae Club is having an enjoyable and successful year. Monthly meetings have been held either at the Indiana I’ Chapter home or at the homes of club members. Programs have been varied, guest speakers representing civic, literary, musical, artistic, and social fields. The present membership is eighty-nine.

The club was fortunate in having Florence Hunt Webster (Mrs. J. E. Jr.), assistant to the Grand President, as its guest at the February meeting. Mrs. Webster gave a very informative talk about the quick, efficient and economical way about the Endowment Fund.

The second guest speaker of the year was held March 11 at which time Mrs. Demarchus Brown (Jessie Christian), Indiana I, spoke on “Marguerite of Austria.” The Founders’ Day luncheon was held April 30 at the Columbian Club in Indianapolis.

CHARLOTTE SPEARE BENNETT

LAFAYETTE CLUB

Since our report in the last Arrow our club has had two lovely dinner parties. In February we enjoyed a Valentine dinner with Mrs. J. E. Webster, Jr., as our honored guest. We feel that our alumnae are building a warm circle of friendship around Miss Webster, and we hope the two Valenines held in Indianapolis in March will make her visit with us. Our March dinner was a St. Patrick’s affair, even to the costumes of the hostesses who served the tables. Mrs. John Trost entertained us with a most interesting paper on the early history of the Purdue chapter and illustrated her talk with pictures and programs from her memory book kept about twenty years ago.

Our April dinner meeting we plan to have a book review given of “W. S. Morgan & Company” written by Pro. Richard Cordell, husband of our Alice.

RHEA E. WALKER

SOUTHWESTERN INDIANA CLUB

The February meeting of the Southwestern Indiana Alumnae Club consisted of a buffet dinner and business meeting at the home of Mrs. Philip Ditchman with Mrs. Henry Brabant assisting. Mrs. Currin Reed and Lois Kindermann attended from Boscobel, Indiana. Plans for summer rushing were discussed. Mrs. Bernard Schnacke was appointed as rush captain.

In March, members were entertained with a buffet dinner followed by a review of the Pi Beta Phi Arrow.

RAGENE RALPHY WILLIAMS

SOUTHWESTERN MICHIGAN CLUB

Our Club has had a difficult time getting started as our small membership is drawn from several widely scattered communities. However, in spite of handicaps we have held several enjoyable meetings which were well attended. In October we met at the Athelstan Club in Battle Creek for a luncheon and a short business session at which we elected officers for the coming year. In November we met in Marshall for a luncheon at the Mansion tea room and then spent the afternoon at the home of Mrs. Stowell Stebbins where we held our business meeting and enjoyed a fine program. Mrs. H. F. Becker gave an interesting account of a visit she and Mrs. Clifford Brainard made at the Settlement School last summer. Miss Ann S. Luncheon gave a delightful history of II B F which was of unusual interest to us all.

It was suggested that in view of the rapidly changing conditions in Gattenburg and the entire Settlement School district, a scientific survey of conditions in that community might well be made in the near future.

In January we met at the Athelstan Club for luncheon and later went to the home of Mary Jane Cummings for a business meeting. We planned to hold only one more business meeting this year but we have set aside the first Saturday in each month as a day when we all try to drop in at the Athelstan Club for luncheon and an informal social meeting. We feel that we are making real progress in forming a more closely knit group and hope that next year we may be more active.

HELEN WARNER CONROY

EPSILON PROVINCE

COLUMBIA (MISSOURI) CLUB

In January the regular meeting of the club was an evening tea held at the home of Mrs. L. C. Green. The reports of the Settlement School Sale were read and the amount sold was found to exceed that of last year. The Magazine Committee reported a substantial increase in sale of subscriptions during the year. Mrs. R. H. Westfeldt presented an interesting illustrated talk on Interior Decorating.

The February meeting was held in the afternoon at the home of Miss Queen Smith. Plans were made for a benefit movie to be given in the near future. The program was a piano recital given by Mrs. R. B. Vaile.

We are happy to announce widen Misses Anderson, Kansas B and Minnesota A, to our group.

MARGARET WICHLIN VAILE

KANSAS CITY CLUB

The Kansas City Alumnae Club has had a very successful and interesting year under the leadership of Mrs. O. B. Simmons.
OUR ANNUAL COOKY-SHINE AND CARNIVAL WAS HELD ON MARCH 15TH. A CORDIAL INVITATION TO OTHER SORORITY MEMBERS AND GUESTS WAS EXTENDED.

THE PROCEEDS OF THE CARNIVAL WILL GO TO THE INDIAN HILLS COUNTRY CLUB ON MAY 21ST. THE UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS CITY WILL BE THE SITE OF OUR 1942 CONFERENCE.

The spring season brings with it opportunities for social and community activities. The Pi Beta Phi alumnae chapters are active in their respective communities, hosting events such as teas, dinners, and charity fundraisers. The Atlanta Club, for instance, had a successful dinner dance at the Kansas City Club to raise funds for a scholarship. The St. Louis Club had a busy year, with meetings held at various locations, including the home of Mrs. Lewis F. Thomas. The Atlanta Club also had a record crowd at their second meeting of the year.

The Sigma House in Kansas City had a busy year, with meetings held at various locations, including the home of Mrs. Lewis F. Thomas. The Atlanta Club also had a record crowd at their second meeting of the year.

sold, part of the proceeds going to the treasury.

The club was invited by the Tampa Alumnae Club to join in celebration of Founder's Day, and we joined with the St. Petersburg Club in celebrating Founder's Day with a luncheon at the Cricket Tea Room in Tampa. This will be the first time in several years that the two clubs have met jointly.

KATHERINE WARMINGTON LEWIS

Tampa Club

The Tampa Club looks forward to the April meeting when we join with the North Club Club in celebrating Founder's Day with a luncheon at the Cricket Tea Room in Tampa. This will be the first time in several years that the two clubs have met jointly.

JULIA FOLSON

ETA PROVINCE

Beloit Club

The monthly meetings of the Beloit Club have been very enjoyable this year. One of our members, Miss Pierce, who has spent a number of years in China and at present is a Y.W.C.A. director in Beloit, gave an interesting talk on conditions in China at our February meeting.

We held our Founders' Day luncheon in April with the Rockford Club. Our Whitewater members have invited us to come to Whitewater for the May meeting. In June we have our annual alumna dinner at the chapter house.

FRANCES BURNS

Champaign-Urbana Club

The Champaign-Urbana Alumnae Club concluded a successful and happy winter season in the spring. The attendance was 79. The alumnae meetings were dinner meetings the third Monday of each month.

The first meeting of the year was held in Mrs. George Clark's home. Miss C. M. Hobart gave a review of Vauhan Wilkins' And Is Victoria and Mrs. Caesar Gianturco showed movies of her recent trip in Italy.

The fresher of Illinois Zeta were dinner guests of the alumnae at the chapter house for the November meeting. Mrs. John D. Fitzgerald, mother of Linda Fitzgerald Root (an Illinois Z), gave a travelogue with movies of her world cruise, placing particular emphasis on Japan and China. In November we earned money by having a rummage sale which netted $41. In December we had our usual Settlement School Tea in the chapter house. Mrs. M. L. Hecker, our Settlement School Chairman, sold $125 worth of Arrow Craft products.

The January meeting was held in Mrs. H. S. Dawson's home. A dietitian from one of the large retail grocery stores gave an interesting talk on frosted fruits and vegetables and suggested menus for their use.

The April meeting was held in Mrs. George Clark's home. A class of alumnae group for the February meeting, Sally Fisher gave a play review of Shakespearean play she had seen in London last summer, of Lawrence Houseman's Victoria Regina, and of Towarchi.

At the March meeting which was held in Mrs. H. J. Truman's home we had our annual study of the constitution and history. The proceeds of our White Elephant Sale were sent to the Endowment Fund. The alumnae celebrated Founder's Day in the chapter house with the members of Illinois Z. The seniors of Illinois Z were our guests at the last meeting of the year which was held in Mrs. Howard White's home.

EMMA JANE IITNER

CHICAGO BUSINESS WOMEN'S CLUB

Our January meeting was devoted to a study of the Constitution and the history of II B F. Margaret Lindsay, Virginia Cooke, and Marjorie Jenkins made this one of the most pleasant meetings of the year with their painless method of reviewing these subjects. Attendance was very small at our February meeting but the few present enjoyed meeting in a home for a change. The majority of our meetings are held in the Loop with dinner first and business afterwards.

Plans for the spring include entertaining a member of the club at North Cutter, a spring rummage sale, and the celebration of Founder's Day in conjunction with other clubs in the city. We hope to have at least one member in attendance at Convention.

CORSETTE NELSON

CHICAGO NORTH CLUB

Our activities this winter season have been confined to our three group meetings except for one joint meeting at which we had a full house and enjoyed an enjoyable time. The officers for the coming year are to be elected at the April meeting and we are looking forward to their choice.

DOBROTHY FISHER KIRK

CHICAGO SOUTH CLUB

The Chicago South Alumnae Club is looking forward to a busy spring. The first and most important item on our calendar is the long-anticipated visit from Mrs. Smith, who will spend the week end with us and be entertained at luncheon at the South Shore Country Club by our president, Mrs. William Pennington (Eugenia Shaver). Afterward there will be a tea for her at the ever-hospitable home of Mrs. Arthur B. Wright.

We had hoped her arrival would coincide with our last general meeting which was a Cooky-shine, held at the home of Gloria Crawford, with the Beverly Hills group members acting as hostesses. We all had a very pleasant evening; we visited and sang Pi Phi songs and, after dinner, took part in a business meeting.

Election of officers for the coming year was held and we discussed the Settlement School Arrow Craft sale, which is planned for the first week in April. We were pleased to have present quite a few members of the newest of the six groups into which Chicago South is divided—the night group, composed largely of employed girls and graduate students.

Committees are already at work on the Settlement School Arrow Craft sale, which is to be a tea and exhibit; Gloria Crawford is chairman and we are hoping to make it an enjoyable event as well as a financial success. There is also intent on raising money for the Endowment Fund, and on the sale of vanilla, which is one of our projects this year for the benefit of the Settlement School.

ZITA MILLER THOMPSON

CHICAGO WEST SUBURBAN CLUB

Our club has been busy with preparations for a card party and style show to be given the week before Easter at the beautiful La Grange Country Club. Because this will be the first of the club's spring parties we are determined to make this an especially attractive one.

At our January meeting Mrs. Tow told us of her visit to historic Willliamburg homes, illustrating her talk with reproductions of the beautiful carpets, wall paper, and hangings that she saw there.

Our March meeting was a study of the Constitution, was an illustrated pageant. Founder's Day was celebrated by a formal dinner at the new Green Shutters Tea Room. We close our year with an annual picnic at the country home of Grace Green Brown.

Much credit for our year's activities should go to our enthusiastic and capable president, Margery Williams Pribble.

FRANCES FURSMAN GALE

DU PAGE CLUB

The Du Page Club has held its meetings this winter under some handicaps. Bad roads prevented a full attendance, our president was in quarantine part of the time, and our vice-president moved away. But we have had many meetings and have discussed these difficulties. Perhaps the mental exercise of meeting these problems has been a stimulus.

It was a thrill to visit the new homes for meetings and to keep posted on the anticipated Blessed Events. The fall alumnae personalities should carry announcements of their arrivals.

The January meeting was marked by our White Elephant Auction for the Endowment Fund. Each member brought one or more articles which were auctioned off at the meeting. The selection this year was so choice that the auctioneer had little occasion to be eloquent.

The election of officers at the February meeting resulted in unanimous election of nearly all with the promise of a united membership to support the work of the coming year.

KATHLEEN F. BROWN

ELGIN CLUB

Active members, 10. Phi Phis living in vicinity, 13.
Average attendance, 10.
Just twenty-one years ago, my mother wrote in these columns that a Club of the Phi Phis in Elgin and Dundee. With the passing of the years, and the ever-widening circles of Phi Phi membership, the second generation that group is not entering into the heart of the Club. We feel we are acquiring a background of tradition. But those traditions are so united with our organizational history that our present year we contributed to Phi Phi’s three projects, $5,000.00 to the Student Government, $5,000.00 to the Endowment Fund. We have sold seven meetings including a Bridge Benefit with sale of Arkraft; and a Pounds’ Day at which we entertained a newly organized alumnae club in our province. Our meetings always open with an informal 6:00 o’clock dinner.

We have two pledges this year at Beloit, Marcy Mills Hague of Dundee, who is the eleventh Phi Phi in the Province. Also at our first acquaintance bridge party at Mrs. Robert Richter, of Elgin. With this bond of interest, we made a gift to the active chapter in Beloit.

Interwoven into the very fabric of the Elgin Alumnae Club, is the fine loyalty and friendliness of its members, which has endured through this generation.

BARBARA HAGER ESTES

GALESBURG CLUB

The Galesburg Alumnae Club has had a better year with increased membership and a more active interest on the part of all its members.

The administration is in the hands of Mrs. Florence H. Peckenpaugh and has been managed with care and inspiring interest on her part.

The club has met with the active chapter III, Beta-Delta at a formal Rushing party in the Fall, and at a “cocky-shine” in honor of the initiates on February 19. We will meet with the active chapter to celebrate Founders’ Day at a formal dinner as has been the custom for many years.

Mrs. Philip P. Murkland, Eta Province Vice President, visited us and gave us an interesting talk of things of interest at other clubs with our problems and merits discussed.

At the November meeting we pledged to the Community Chest which is in its initial year at Galesburg.

In October Mrs. Glidden gave us an interesting report of Ill. Beta-Delta which has made us feel even closer to the local chapter than before.

We are looking forward to this time to our monthly “cocky-shine” at which Mrs. Warren T. Smith, Grand Vice-President, will be our special guest.

The history of Illinois Beta is being compiled and written by Mrs. Annie Y. Crissey. That of Illinois Delta by Mrs. Jean B. Trevor and Mrs. Florence H. Peckenpaugh. Mrs. Peckenpaugh is to write the history of Illinois Beta.

Mrs. Mary Isley, Magazine Chairman, has been conscientious and has built up the agency to a great extent and we feel that we will have had a larger part in this national project.

CORRINE S. SMITH

LIBBY BROOK GADDIS CLUB (AVON)

Our club enjoyed a visit from our province vice-president, Mrs. Murkland, last fall. In spite of some difficulties we had a formal meeting, and look forward to renewing our activities this spring.

EDETH CRISEY

MADISON CLUB

The Madison Alumnae Club enjoyed a visit from Mrs. Murkland, our province vice-president, in January. She spoke to us on chapter and alumnae affairs and told us many new facts and some interesting anecdotes about the Settlement School. This meeting, a very large one, was held at the chapter house and gave some of the alumnae their first view of the newly redecorated house since it has been entirely completed.

In March the alumnae club will assist at a tea which the members of the active club are giving for Mrs. Smith, Grand Vice-President. Later in the month there will be another, i.e., this one sponsored and given by alumnae club members for their Madison friends who would like to see the interior of the new house.

We feel that our province is a fine province through all the years. We will do our part in the work of making this province the best it can be.

BETTY HUTCHCROFT

MILWAUKEE CLUB

One of the most interesting programs of the year was provided at our January 15 luncheon at the College Women’s Club. Leon Pescheret, husband of Grace Wallar, Iowa Alpha, lectured on “The Art of Etching.” As the only color etcher in the United States, Mr. Pescheret’s work is unique and the majority of his subjects are American, including many Smokey Mountain scenes. We were fortunate in having an artist of his reputation speak to us.

On February 21, Ruth Netherton entertained the club at a buffet supper following which Mr. Oliver O’Boyle, Corporation Secretary and Treasurer, gave an exceedingly interesting talk on “The Constitution.”

At this meeting our president, Mr. W. A. Euken, presented for consideration a plan for holding part of our meetings next year in east and west side groups. The Milwaukee Club has grown to such size that many sectional meetings seem to be the solution to the problem of finding enough homes large enough to accommodate the entire group.

Vivian Clark Ray, Magazine Chairman, has made an intensive campaign for subscriptions and has received such fine support from the club that we are now leading Eta Province in the amount of magazine subscriptions.

One of our members, Irene Eldridge, has been appointed to the Settlement School Committee.

Rushing Chairman for next year is Mrs. Frederick C. Millard, Jr., 2205 North Lake Drive.

We enjoyed the visit of Ruth Barrett Smith, Grand Vice-President, at our March meeting.

ALICE McNEEL ECKSTEIN

NORTH SHORE CLUB

The new year of the North Shore Alumnae Club opened September 17 with a tea at the home of Mrs. Robert F. Tolley at which Jean Burns gave a dramatic reading of "The Sea of Grass" by Conrad Richter. On September 22 and 23 the club held a rummage sale for the benefit of the Settlement School.

The October meeting was the Settlement School exhibit and tea at the home of Mrs. E. L. Middleton. Also in October the club held its first acquaintance bridge party for new members at Mrs. Fred Ringley’s home.

A lovely luncheon was given by the board at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Fox in November. The program was given by Mrs. Harris Frazier, who gave an excellent review of "And So Victoria." There were 70 paid members present at the luncheon, and memberships are still coming in.

The December meeting was also a luncheon at the Phi Phi house in Evanston. Mr. Edward Heimlund lectured and showed fascinating films of Scotland, France, England, and Switzerland.

We enjoyed a visit from Ruth Barrett Smith when she visited Eta Province.

ALMNA EFFERSON AURELIUS

PEORIA CLUB

The Peoria Club projects this year have been concerned mostly with plans to earn money for the Settlement School. We held a Thanksgiving turkey raffle, all of the sum set aside for our goal. We are now sponsoring a roller skating party for March by which we hope to complete our fund. We have been holding a tea party at the home of Roberta Tippett at which we entertained active girls from several chapters who were home for the holidays. Panhellenic held a tea at the home of Mrs. Forte V. Wheeler and Mrs. C. B. Jurby and son Michael.

WILLA M. JURY

ROCKFORD CLUB

The Rockford Alumnae Club opened 1958 with a waffle supper at the home of Mrs. Mary Beall, our guest. The program, featuring Sunday School President, Mrs. Broad. Mrs. Hayashi, was attended by 350 guests who enjoyed the delicious food. The meeting was a success, with the attendees enjoying the evening and looking forward to future events.

OAK PARK-RIVER FOREST CLUB

The year of 1957-58 has been a busy year for our club. At the November meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Purdum of the Central Office, the club discussed various topics and plans for the upcoming year. The meeting was held on the third Monday of each month, with the next meeting scheduled for December 4th.

In December, the club held a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Donald Berg. The party featured a silent movie, "The History of the J.C. Soroity," and a dramatization of the founding of Pi Beta Phi. The program was well attended and the atmosphere was festive.

THE THETA PROVINCE

AMES CLUB

A joint committee of alumnae and active members planned the formal reception for the faculty members in order that they might enjoy open house in the new building. It was well attended and the evening was a great success. The meeting was held on January 5th.

DES MOINES CLUB

The January meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Leonard West. A talk on Dinners, which proved very instructive, was given by a representative from a local store. The meeting was held on January 10th.

The February meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Harold West, the program consisted of an equally interesting talk on Furniture. The meeting was held on February 2nd.

The Director of the Little Theater talked on Dramatics at the March meeting at the home of Mrs. J. E. Burrows. Both guests and the visitors enjoyed the performance and were much enlightened. The meeting was held on March 5th.

April 2nd was observed as National Women's Day, celebrated with great enthusiasm. The meeting was held on April 10th.

The May meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Margie Dunn. The husbands are getting well acquainted with each other and are looking forward to the next meeting. The meeting was held on May 5th.

The club had been augmented this year by the following members: Virginia Mendenhall Ramsdell (Minn. Alpha); Sallie Olson, a Alpha; Elizabeth in Turner (Wit. Alpha); Superior, Wis.; and Mary Sullivan Olson (N.D. Alpha). We hope that any Phis who may wish to visit Duluth and the Arrowhead country this summer will get in touch with us as we have many plans for the near future. We always look forward with pleasure to the visit of Mrs. Phillips of the University, and were very happy to have her as our guest. The meeting was held on May 19th.

DULUTH-SUPERIOR CLUB

The year has progressed very satisfactorily under the guidance of Eloise Clark, the two outstanding events being the Settlement School and Arrow. The club tea and sale, and the annual evening bridge which was held at the home of Margie Dunn. The husbands are getting very well acquainted so it is a grand reunion each year. Our club has been augmented this year by the following members: Virginia Mendenhall Ramsdell (Minn. Alpha); Sallie Olson, a Alpha; Elizabeth in Turner (Wit. Alpha); Superior, Wis.; and Mary Sullivan Olson (N.D. Alpha). We hope that any Phis who may wish to visit Duluth and the Arrowhead country this summer will get in touch with us as we have many plans for the near future. We always look forward with pleasure to the visit of Mrs. Phillips of the University, and were very happy to have her as our guest. The meeting was held on May 19th.

WINNIPEG CLUB

During the first part of the year our meetings were held at private homes and now they are held at the Panhellenic Sorority House on Roslyn Road. Meetings in the form of special interest groups were suggested but were voted down so that they have taken the form of a business meeting with refreshments served later. On one occasion Betty Banning gave us a very interesting talk about her experiences in Paris and abroad.

In the fall during rushing we had a Deep Sea Tea for the nuses. Tropical fish and a deep sea drop curtain adorned the walls. Colorful fish used for the Whites were pinned on each girl, adding to the marine atmosphere.

At our next meeting the girls dressed dolls for the Kindergarten Christmas tree. Every week two or more dolls go to the free Kindergarten and teach children various educational facts. In this year we sponsored a John Holden Theater Night at the Dominion Theater. This year it was particularly successful financially. Prior to our theater night we entertained at a tea in honor of Grace Matthews, a Toronto Phis who is a member of the John Holden cast.

A few weeks before Christmas Mrs. Klein entertained the girls at a very enjoyable party. After making and filling Christmas stockings for needy country children we played guessing games. Every girl present won a prize so that we debated whether we were all bright or whether it was due to Mrs. Klein's generous nature.

Our initiation banquet was a grand success. This year we had more new initiates than ever before.

In order to raise some needed money we had a White Elephant party. Each girl brought a colorful and attractive looking parcel containing an unused white elephant Christmas, birthday, or other unwanted gift or purchase. These were all placed on each side of the wall, the center of the room to be viewed, judged and conjectured over by the girls.

Thirty-five cents was required for each parcel and then we could choose any wrapped parcel which took our fancy. Many delighted exclamations were uttered over pretty purses, compacts, scoops, bankies, ornaments, and other surprises.

In honor of our pledges the alumnae planned a St. Patrick's treasure hunt.

ELAINE PAGET

IOWA CITY CLUB

Iowa City Alumnae club has had a smooth-sailing successful year under the leadership of our president, Mrs. W. T. Swenson.

The club again continued the plan of dividing the pledge in groups of six or seven, entertaining one group at each of the supper meetings held on the third Monday of every month. We have found that, in the informal atmosphere of these meetings, the alumnae become better acquainted with the pledge. The February meeting was held in the beautiful new home of Mrs. Vernon Nell. In place of the usual history program Mrs. Frank Mott gave a delightful reunion of the activities of other fraternities particularly as regards the various philanthropies.

The club voted to make the program for Founders' Day in the way of a tribute to Mrs. Nyle Jones whose efforts were in such a way as to aid the building and the successful financing of our chapter house.

FLORENCE STRUB RAWLUND
BOZEMAN CLUB

The Bozeman Alumni Club is very proud and happy to have become a national club this year. As our charter has just been granted since our last meeting, we have no alumnae activities to enter in this edition. However, the club, before becoming national, always has taken a very active part in the alumnae work. We were fortunate in having the new pledges at a cooky-shine at our November meeting. The charter members are the following: Pi Phi Waterman Anderson, president; Wanda Finley, secretary; Judith Creel McGinty, treasurer; Elenore Herron, Berta Kravik, Evelyn Kyler, Phyllis Hathaway Lovelace, Olga Ross Howell, Lois Butler Payson, Margaret Campbell Post, Angela Shant Alderson, Winiifred Story Lovelace, Elva Ayler Cowan, Francis Kyle Napton.

Casper Club

The 1937-38 season for the Casper Club has been very successful and enjoyable. Regular meetings have been held the first Tuesday of each month. Our annual September Rummage Sale was received with great enthusiasm and enabled the club to contribute generously to the Settlement School, and to Wyoming Alpha in the form of a Christmas gift.

On September 30 we were fortunate in having the Province Vice President, Mrs. Shrieve B. Collins of Denver, visit the club. The Executive board entertained her at breakfast, and a luncheon was given in her honor for all of the members. After the luncheon, an inspiring meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Canfield, at which time Mrs. Collins gave many helpful ideas about Alumnae Club activities.

Christmas orders for magazines amounted to $175.00 and an order for Arrow Craft Products was received by the Settlement School. The Pi Phi Pi Phi Cook books have met with great success in Casper.

Ruth Scott Hocker

COLORADO SPRINGS CLUB

With the Iota Province Conference, which was held here last May, to give us fresh interest, the Colorado Springs Alumnae have had a successful year under the able leadership of our new president, Florence Kimer Cornling (Mrs. H. M.). Other officers for this year are: vice president, Frances Bowers Knutson (Mrs. Loyde E.); treasurer, Judith Sharrod Drew (Mrs. E. L.); secretary, Lucile Adams; Settlement School Chairman, Elizabeth Roshwell Lowell (Mrs. J. R., Jr.); Magazine Chairman, Marc Pettibone Draper (Mrs. W. A., Jr.).

We held our annual Settlement School Tea in November at the home of Mrs. Campbell, selling Arrow Craft Products of $150.00. Other money making schemes handled by Margaret Tasher Smith (Mrs. James Baxter) and the sale of Pi Phi Cookie Books and candy at our Province Convention, added to our profits. So, at our last meeting we voted to contribute $25 to the Settlement School, $15 to the Undergraduate Loan Fund, and $10 to the Endowment Fund.

We are proud of our Magazine Chairman who has sent in three issues this year amounting to almost $50. Although we still have our problem of small membership, we feel that we are making steady progress.

Lucile Adams

DENVER CLUB

The Denver Alumnae Club enjoyed a visit with Mrs. Warren Smith on February 25. We were sorry her visit was to short. The benefit card party and style show on February 26 proved successful. Mrs. Milton Warren was chairman, and there were 100 tables, with $112.00 cleared. The ten models were members of Pi Alpha, Colorado Beta, and the Denver Club. Monday evening, March 7, was a supper meeting at Mrs. Paul Barker's, with a bridge party following. Mrs. Smith of Colorado Springs spoke at a recent meeting on the endowment fund; Mrs. Earl Loser is the present chairman of the fund.

Alberta S. White

Laramie Club

The members of the Laramie Alumnae Club had the good fortune to have Jane Beck Johnson (Mrs. Nelson T.) of Chicago with us for our February meeting. We celebrated the event with an informal buffet supper at the house with the chapter. Mrs. Johnson entertained us with vivid descriptions and anecdotes of her life in China. Several members from adjoining communities swelled our number to almost one hundred, making it one of the largest, as well as the most significant, gatherings of Wyoming Alpha members we have ever had.

At the annual honors dinner at the University in February, Mary Scott Embree and her son Raymond, new members of Pi Alpha, were introduced. Mrs. Embree, a former member of the University of Wyoming board of trustees, is this year finishing her work for her B.A. degree, while her son is beginning his university career.

Mrs. M. F. Corthell

Lawrence Club

The Lawrence Club has held regular luncheon meetings each month. In October we were honored with a visit from our province vice president, Mrs. Hallie Collins. She was guest of honor at a luncheon for all members of the alumnae club and as always, her visit proved to be of great benefit to us all.

The club entertained the active chapter with a tea on April 5. This is always a pleasant way of meeting and making new contacts with the active girls. Rusting is already a topic of discussion. The Lawrence Club tries in every way to co-operate with the active chapter on "town" material by compiling a list of eligible girls and submitting these names for approval.

Lois G. Klock

Manhattan Club

A cooky-shine honoring the Kansas B pledges was the first activity of the Manhattan Club this year. Mrs. S. B. Collins was guest of honor at a luncheon held at the Gillett hotel in October. The November meeting was at Mrs. Juanita Cave's home and the December meeting at Mrs. Paul Weigle's. In February, a luncheon was held for the Kansas B initiates.

The club has 31 members this year with Mrs. Malcolm Aye as president, Mrs. Gerald Smith as vice president, Mrs. Richard Kendall as recording secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. Richard Seaton as corresponding secretary. A rummage sale and a pre-Christmas sale of Settlement School products and foods have enabled the club to send $100 to the Settlement School. The Christmas gift from the club to the active girls was two small tables and two lamps to go on either side of the fireplace at the chapter house.

Omaha Club

The Omaha Club is having a pleasant and profitable year and we have been happy to welcome several new members. Our February meeting was an entertaining and unique one because each member wore the oldest hat in her possession and a style show was presented. Chances were sold on a certificate for a new hat and the result was financially profitable to the club.

More than four hundred guests were present at the Hotel Paxton on February 18 when we presented Miss Beatrice Wood, California Alumnus, for special pre­pretative play reviews. March 12 we celebrated Founders' Day in Lincoln as is our custom. Election of officers came in March and the April meetings was turned over to the new officers.

Rosalie Reinhardt Peery
VERMILLION CLUB

The alumnae have been especially interested in South Dakota Alpha's new chapter house which was ready for occupancy March 1. Our club members have been helping with the preparations for moving. A news letter, "A Link in the Chain," was prepared and sent out to all South Dakota Alpha alumnae during the holiday season. The night previous to initiation the new initiates were entertained by the club. This meeting was devoted to a study of the constitution. Founders' Day was celebrated as usual with the Sioux City club this year in Vermillion at the new chapter house.

LUCY CONNER

KAPPA PROVINCE

CORPUS CHRISTI CLUB

Our club has held regular monthly meetings and has had a good attendance. Three new members have joined, Mrs. C. A. Hasme, Colorado Beta; Mrs. D. S. Chamberlain, Missouri Beta; and Mary Kenedy, Texas Alpha. A personal visit was made last month to Mrs. Mayer, the Pi Phi representative. The 1920-21 alumnae were given a reunion dinner at the Hotel before talking. Mrs. C. A. Hearne, Colorado Pi Phi, was present. The Texas Ikta active chapter gave a most informative talk. We were delighted with the lovely group and their mother's, the actives and some rushers.

HELEN TUTT

DALLAS CLUB

The Dallas Club has been very active during the past few months. At Christmas well-filled baskets were sent to five families in need. Pi Phi was the first alumna club to make a donation toward the Recreation room in McFarlin Auditorium for S.M.U. students. Other organizations interested in centering the recreational and social life of the students on the campus are also contributing toward this fund. Robes for the Texas Beta active chapter girls were another gift of the alumnae club.

The Texas Alpha members of the Dallas club made personal donations in addition to that of the club itself to the new chapter house of Texas Alpha at the University of Texas.

The Endowment Fund is being carefully supported. Every member of the club is being urged to assist and Pi Phi alive in surrounding towns and do not belong to alumnae clubs are also being interviewed. At the last meeting of the club an interesting talk on Mexico was given by Mrs. Edgar E. Townes, a charter member of Texas Alpha. An interesting group of alumnae, Mrs. E. T. Miller discussed the work which her committee is doing on the history of the chapter. The younger generation of the Austin club was delightedly presented by Virginia Roberdeau who expressed appreciation to her mother and her mother's generation of Pi Phi for their efforts in making the new house a reality. Mrs. Raymond Hill gave an inspiring talk on the Settlement School. Our next meeting will honor new members who have entered our club since last September. We look forward to a visit from Miss Onken this spring.

ALICE HURLEY MACKAY

OKMULGEE CLUB

The Okmulgee Alumnae Club is a small but very much interested and active group.

There are thirteen paid members, every Pi Phi in town, with an average attendance of ten at meetings. Our regular meetings are held on the second Tuesday evening of each month. The extra meetings held last year were a Founders' Day banquet and a lovely rushing tea. The alumnae members were assisted by twenty members of the Oklahoma Alpha chapter who were on a floating house party.

Two of our members went to Norman to the tea and banquet when the Balfour Cup was presented. We held a most successful rummage sale this fall to make our money for the year.

We were delighted to have two new members this year who add much to our club: Mary Brooks Fleshman, Kansas Beta, and Leila Dee Parks McCauley, Oklahoma Beta.

DOROTHY DEPREES HARRIS

STILLWATER CLUB

Our most recent meeting was held in the new home of Mrs. Thomas E. Perry (Cynthia Diggs, Oklahoma Beta). The lesson on the Constitution was in charge of Miss Helen Mullendore and Mrs. Vere D. Fry (Elsa Crites). Letters from the Endowment Fund committee were read and the club decided to comply with the national request for a dollar per member for this fund. We have also given as usual to the Settlement School Loan Fund this year. The Club is anxious to send a delegate to Convention this year and our next project will be the raising of funds to pay a delegate's expenses.

We look forward to Miss Onken's visit when she comes to speak at the Stillwater Panhellenic Association banquet in April. This is an honor for our club to be able to present so distinguished a member as the speaker at this annual affair. We plan to do a grand job at the Office Shop for our husbands and men friends very soon. At our last meeting we welcomed a new member, Miss Edith Feiler, Iowa Gamma, who is teaching on the Campus in the school of Home Economics.

FORT SMITH CLUB

In February, the Club sent letters to the Pi Phis who are not affiliated with an alumna club, in interest of the Endowment Fund.

Election of officers for the coming year was held in April.

Founders' Day was celebrated with a banquet on April 28. Plans for rushing for the summer will be discussed at the May meeting.

The number of paid members for this year is twenty-two.

Contributions: Settlement School, $25.00; Endowment Fund, $5.00; Student Loan Fund, $5.00.

Betty Tolson, 125 Belle Avenue, Fort Smith, Arkansas, is Chairman of the Recommendation Committee.

RUTH MORTON

HOUSTON CLUB

Pride in the beautiful new chapter house at the University of Texas was the keynote of the meeting of the Houston club on February 25. The meeting, which was exceptionally well attended, was held in this house, and many of its members were members of Mrs. Edgar E. Townes, a charter member of Texas Alpha. An interesting group of distinguished Texas alumnae were present to assist and Pi Phi in full flower following the program. Mrs. H. H. Finch and Mrs. Sully Roberdeau spoke on the work of planning, building, and furnishing the house. Mrs. E. T. Miller discussed the work which her committee is doing on the history of the chapter. The younger generation of the Austin club was delightedly presented by Virginia Roberdeau who expressed appreciation to her mother and her mother's generation of Pi Phi for their efforts in making the new house a reality. Mrs. Raymond Hill gave an inspiring talk on the Settlement School. Our next meeting will honor new members who have entered our club since last September. We look forward to a visit from Miss Onken this spring.

We have a new Pi Phi baby in the club, Aneta Nell Arrington, whose mother will be remembered as Vinita Berry. We are sorry to lose Helen Mullendore whose marriage next month is taking her back to Hominy to be with her family until she is married. The club has started the custom of presenting each bride and new baby with a piece of flat silver engraved with the Pi Phi monogram.

"Mother Noble" (Emma Patton, Iowa Beta) has been compiling the history of Oklahoma Beta to which the club members have been contributing pictures and interesting items. We look forward to Founders’ Day which we shall celebrate as usual with Oklahoma Beta.

RUTH SUNDRELL ORR

TULSA CLUB

The Tulsa Alumnae Club was privileged to have as guest this week-end, Mrs. Olivia Smith Moore, Kappa Province Vice President, a most capable person with charming personality. Mrs. Moore gave a talk on Pi Phi history and the constitution. We have been greatly benefitted by her visit and are inspired to greater efforts.

This year, we were fortunate in receiving as new members an attractive group of young girls who are sponsoring rush activities. Our first party was a tea given in January, Highlighting the rush season, however, was a breakfast of spingtime appointments given at the Junior League tea room on February 26.

Our meetings have been enjoyable and well attended. We have recently contributed most generously to the Endowment Fund.

ALLIE YOUNG CONNER

WACO CLUB

In July the entire Waco Alumnae Club were guests of Mrs. Manton Hannah and Mrs. Goodhue Smith for a beautiful luncheon in order to discuss our summer rushing. Jane Brazelton was appointed rush captain of the alumnae club and three small informal parties for rushes through the summer, climaxing with a formal dinner just before the opening of school.

The first fall business meeting was held early in October at the home of our president, Mrs. Jerome Cartwright. Favorable reports of fall rushing were made by Ella May Turner and Nancy Darden who visited our most active chapter in behalf of our alumnae club. November, we were fortunate in having Mrs. Nita Hill Star of Orange, Texas, Grand Secretary visit us.

Mrs. Joe L. Ward entertained Mrs. Stark and the entire alumnae club with a breakfast at which Mrs. Stark gave us an inspiring talk.

We are happy to have five new members in our club this year; Cecille Inabinet, Fay and Ray Pierce, Dorothy Shands, and Lynn Buchanan. Plans for the remainder of the year include a Settlement School. We are in February and a display of Towle Silverware in April.

All year we have been active in selling vanilla extract from which proceeds go to our Settlement School Fund.

ANNIE SCOTT

WICHITA FALLS CLUB

Our alumnae group of twenty members is not, a chartered alumnae club, but we meet regularly and help with rush. This year, the local girls who are going to Oklahoma, Texas, and Louisiana universities. In the late summer we give a formal banquet for these girls and this is served on a "golden arrow" table just before they leave for college. We enjoy our fraternity contacts and welcome any Pi Phi who may come to our city.

DOROTHY LEE TAYLOR

EDMONTON CLUB

The Edmonton Alumnae Club has been having a very successful year. Not only have we been working on our chapter history under the guidance of Rene Hayes, but we are also planning to send out news letters to all Alberta Pi Phis who have scattered or are scattered and out of touch with the active chapter.

Our meetings have been well attended and our membership larger so our efforts have been worth while.

We had a very successful Cooky-shine with the active chapter last month and are now looking to our Founders’ Day banquet with them. Our work for Settlemnt School through the Magazine Agency has been more energetically pursued this year, and our only regret is that we are unable to obtain as much Arrow Craft work as we would like.

Our annual meeting is being held next month.

FANNIE WHITENACK LIBBEY CLUB

We thought with the excitement of the Christmas parties that our January meeting would be a sort of a let-down, but thanks to Dorothy Hooper at a dinner in the Park Honour, we did not forget to keep the Christmas spirit. We met at the home of Ruth Alexander with the Pi Phi constitution as the program subject. Camilla Dunbar Helliesen very cleverly arranged an old-fashioned spell-down in the form of questions and answers and the results informative as well as entertaining.

Our February meeting was with Mrs. Helliesen and we had for our program, "Pi Phis in the public eye." We were surprised to learn of so many different professions in which Pi Phi is nationally prominent. We have another meeting before Founders’ Day and we always celebrate our own Fannie Libbey’s birthday. The March meeting was held at Mrs. Charlotte Clark’s at which time we shall have the election of officers. In May we hold our last meeting with Mrs. Perham and have installation of officers.

BETH MARSHALL JACKSON

PORTLAND (OREGON) CLUB

The Portland Club started the year with two fine meetings, the first being held at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Smith in January and the second one, our annual bridge party, at the home of Mrs. Roy Shields. We are making plans for sponsoring the appearance here of Beatrice Edmonds in April. We have been delighted with her programs in the past and hope to help make her appearance an even greater success this year. The Constitutional Program will be held in March at the home of Mrs. Howard Holman, the Founders’ Day banquet in April, a dessert luncheon with Mrs. Carl Kinney in May and a dessert luncheon at the home of Mrs. Harry Hargreaves in June.

MILDRED SHIELDS ANDERSON

LAMBDA PROVINCE

ALBUQUERQUE CLUB

On October 19, the Albuquerque Alumnae Club opened the year with an evening meeting at the home of our president, Dr. Dorothy Woodward, with Mrs. Chester Russell as assistant hostess. At this time, plans for the coming year were formulated and the program arranged. Plans were made for the Settlement School sale, as well. On November 9, the club members were the guests of Mrs. Fredrick Farris. The results of the sale were gratifying, most of the goods being sold, and a great deal of interest being displayed in the Settlement School and in the Arrow Craft articles.

ROSELLA GOULD FARRIS

BERKELEY CLUB

Since our last letter the initiation banquet took place according to the schedule prepared at the beginning of the year, but some changes were made in the latter part of the program. The recital planned for February was not given until later and the Founders’ Day celebration will not be the usual luncheon this year. Instead it was planned to have a dramatic program by Beatrice Edmonds (California Alpha) of San Diego. Miss Edmonds is a professional reader with an enviable reputation and we are very anxious to hear her. The San Francisco Alumni Club is sponsoring this event and has asked the cooperation of the Palo Alto and Berkeley Clubs.

The Club held its annual luncheon on January 31 at the Women's Athletic Club in Oakland with ninety-seven in attendance. Of the twelve initiates honored at the banquet five were Phi Pi daughters and four of the proud mothers were there: Mrs. Warren Sanford (Louise Gimbil, California B), Mrs. Allen Morrow (Pauline Chamberlin, California B), Mrs. M. Ziegenfuss (Marjorie Porter, California B) and Mrs. O. J. Kohde (Merion Smith, California I and B). Mrs. G. N. Bioge (Mabel Lee Turpin, Missouri A), of Lead, South Dakota, was the mother unable to attend.

Joan Von Schmidt, one of our mid-year graduates, was the charming toast-mistress and the responses were delightful. Mrs. Paul Catinson (Ethyl Mille of California B) had charge of the affair. She was assisted by a committee from the alumni bridge group to which she belongs. They should all be congratulated on the success of the party.

MARGARET ST. CLAIR AUGUSTINE

FRESNO CLUB

The first meeting of our club in October was held at the home of Mrs. C. E. Hamilton, our Settlement School chairman, who had just returned from an eastern trip which included a visit to the S. M. The hamiltons chatted delightfully and informally during the tea hour which followed her return, after which a special showing of Arrow Craft articles as a sample of the many lovely things to be displayed at our annual benefit tea to be held in November. The invitation banquet was held in our home and Mrs. M. Smith, our president, showed us how to make the centerpieces.

On January 27 we were privileged in having Mrs. Warren T. Smith, our grand vice-president with us. Mrs. Smith has a charming manner and gave us much inspiration. Following her talk, we celebrated Founders' Day with a meeting at Sunnyside Club.

VERA HANSEN

GLENDALE CLUB

Glendale Pi Phis came together for a reorganization meeting in September and Mrs. M. Hapkinson, who had taken during the summer, Pi Phis are travellers and tall tales of the national parks, great caves and mountain carvings were related. Ways and means were discussed at this meeting and plans for a most interesting year's program arranged.

One delightful affair which was arranged was the Settlement School Tea at the home of Jessie Wolfe, to which Pi Phis brought outside guests. Settlement School products were displayed and sold. A play reading, 'You Can't Take It With You' was given by a talented reader.

On February 1st was held our annual meeting which included a reception and a delicious dinner. Pi Phis brought in their own money to help pay for the entertainment.

Edith Bacon

OGDEN CLUB

Our meetings are held the first Wednesday of each month and October was May inclusive at a large hotel in the evening. In November we had a small tea at which time articles from the Settlement School were shown in Ogden for the first time. It proved so successful that we are planning to have other teas.

PHOENIX CLUB

Members of the Phoenix Club have met regularly for evening meetings given by the Finance Committee. Several bridge groups which have been meeting during the year reported contributions, and the raffle drawing was held which proved a most successful event.

The San Francisco Alumni Club joined with the East Bay and Peninsula Alumni Clubs to present a benefit for Edmond, California A, on April 19, at the Veteran's Memorial Auditorium. Miss Edmonds gave an interpretative review of the theatre. Each club was responsible for a block of tickets and from the enthusiastic reports we have had of Miss Edmonds' work, we felt certain that the affair would be a most outstanding success. Mrs. J. Stookey, chairman of the Pi Phi Magazine Committee, gave a most favorable report of the work of the clubs during the last few months. The program chairman, Virginia Canfield, gave a reading of a modern three act play at the close of the meeting.

BRENDA TATUM LEPPA

SAN FRANCISCO CLUB

Plans for raising money for the Settlement School and other various funds occupied the attention of the San Francisco Alumni Club at its February luncheon meeting. Several bridge groups which have been meeting during the year reported contributions, and the raffle drawing was held which proved a most successful event.

VIRGINIA CANFIELD

SANTA MONICA CLUB

Mrs. Frank Bahnsen and Mrs. Curt Majors were hostesses at the February meeting, at the home of Mrs. Majors. Desert was served upon the arrival of the guests. A most delightful afternoon was spent in discussing 'Antiques.' Mrs. Lulu Le Soror White, Texas A being the guest speaker. Helen Majors has a choice collection of antiques in her charming home, which were of special interest to the guests.

On March 1, Mrs. Leonard Murray and Miss Ruth Norris entertained at a beautifully appointed luncheon at the home of Miss Norris. There were many visitors. Mrs. Hirt in attendance, among them was Mrs. T. N. Carver (Flora Kirkham, Iowa A), a member of the Class of 1886, also Miss Dorothy Bernick, Iowa I, who is visiting her sister Beatrice Bernick Hirt, a member of our club. Following the business meeting Mrs. Mable Ocker of Ardmore, Oklahoma, gave us another of her splendid slide talks. Mrs. Hirt spoke early in the Fall of a trip she made to the Island of Majorca.

Plans were made for the observance of Founders' Day. The five alumni clubs located in the Los Angeles area and the two active chapters unite in commemorating this occasion.

A benefit garden tour is being planned by our club during the month of May.

... "Look for the best and you will be compelled to accept only the best."
—MILLARD FILLMORE
13th President of the United States

THE extra fraction of a cent more it may cost you to use only the best, is sure to be returned to you many times over. Consider for instance the good will of your pleased patrons. By serving the best, you buy that at minimum cost. Could any advertising be more effective? There is no waste in serving the best. Often the extra portions in the chockful tin, more than offset the extra cost. Edelweiss Canned Fruits bring you the pick of the orchard.
